ITALIAN ARMY HAS SEIZED IMPORTANT ENEMY STRONGHOLD

RUSSIAN ARMY IS STILL IN RETREAT

London, Sept. 5.—A dispatch received in London confirms the capture by the Italians of Monte San Gabriele, together with 950 prisoners, including 32 officers. The Italians now possess the entire chain of mountains which dominate Gorizia.

PARIS HEARS IT.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The Petit Parisien says that newspaper reports reaching Paris stated that the Italians have taken possession of Monte San Gabriele.

IMMENSE BOOTY TAKEN.

Udine, Italy, Tuesday, Sept. 4.—It is impossible this far to give even an approximate idea of the immense quantity of booty which has fallen into the hands of the Italians since the beginning of their advance. The materials captured show the precipitation with which the Austrians fled all along the line of attack. On the Bainsizza plateau, near Santo Spirito and Laska, whole convoys of arms and munitions were abandoned in such haste that there was no time to destroy them. At one point thousands of boxes of projectiles, hand grenades, rockets, shoes, rifles and helmets were strewn everywhere. Some of the caverns are still packed with Austrian dead, lying one on another. The bodies are being buried gradually. Mule paths and the adjacent side hills are littered with unexploded projectiles which the fugitives threw away, together with daggers, swords and iron studded maces used for dispatching the wounded. On hill 652 the Italians captured three 105-millimetre cannon. Two of them were perfectly serviceable and the Italians turned them on the fleeing enemy, firing 1,000 shots.

GREATER PART OF ROMANOFFS GOING TO JAIL

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—In addition to the arrest of Grand Duke Alexandrovich, brother of the former emperor, and his wife, the Countess Paley, and the Grand Duke Paul and his morganatic wife have also been taken into custody.

Last night the assistant commander of the Petrograd garrison with a detachment of picked soldiers arrived at Tsarsko-Selo and read the order for arrest to Grand Duke Paul, who submitted, merely asking the reason. The commander stated that it was by order of Premier Kerensky. Later the same officer visited Gatchina and arrested Grand Duke Michael and his wife.

It appears that several days ago a search was made of the residence of the Grand Duke Michael in Finland, which was occupied by him during his presence there. A Colonel Dietz was by order of Premier Kerensky. The ministry of justice refuses for the present to give out any facts concerning the arrests. According to some of the newspapers, however, the headquarters of the monarchist conspiracy in Crimea, where other grand dukes and duchesses and the dowager empress reside under surveillance, are being searched. There recently has been found a society under the name of "Forward for the Czar and Holy Russia," which was detected organizing and training "czarist" propagandists with the design of sending them to the front to revive monarchism in the army.

RUSSIA HANGS A CAN ON GENERAL GURKO, TRAITOR

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—General Gurko, former commander on the southwestern front, charged with treasonable conduct toward the revolution, will be exiled from Russia. General Gurko, according to reports, is the first person against whom such a measure has been taken by the revolutionary government. He will be permitted to choose the place of his residence and will be given three days in which to arrange his affairs. General Gurko has been degraded and his request for a new inquiry into his acts has been refused. He will be followed into exile by his wife.

Speaking at a private meeting of members of the duma Vladimir M. Purishkevich made a statement that Nikolai Lenin, the radical socialist leader, died in 1916 at Zurich and that the person known in Russia as Lenin is one Zaderblum, a former friend of Lenin.

LOYALTY IS WATCHWORD

Great Conference in Minneapolis Pledges Self to Government.

GREAT LEADERS OF

Peace Council of America is Condemned as Aiding the Enemy.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 5.—The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, organized to counteract the activities of pacifists and pro-German propagandists and to bring the nation's labor forces up solidly behind the government in its prosecution of the war, opened a three-day loyalty conference here today.

E. H. Hall, president of the State Federation of Labor, called the meeting to order, and Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations, acted as temporary chairman.

After the appointment of a committee on permanent organization the delegates recessed until mid-afternoon and then received the committee's report which was followed by an address by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers was expected to name permanent chairman of the alliance.

Speakers at today's session denounced as disloyal and seditious the activities of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace, which was barred from holding its proposed national peace conference in Minneapolis.

Training will start tomorrow. The second quota of 40 per cent goes to camp September 19.

NEW YORK SEES NEED OF WOMEN AS POLICE

New York, Sept. 5.—As a result of an investigation by the mayor's committee of women, the commissioner of police will be asked to provide for the appointment of six police women in his budget for next year. The announcement was made by the women's committee after two women had made an investigation covering a month, during which it was said conditions were found among young women which could be better handled by police women than through the usual channels of the department. During the month the women investigators interviewed more than five hundred girls, it was said, and have sent about one-half of them to their homes.

JAP ENVOYS IN THE HOUSE

WARM RECEPTION
GIVEN VISITORS

Viscount Ishii Makes Address Pledging Japanese Good Will.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Viscount Ishii delivered Japan's message of friendship and co-operation to the United States before the house of representatives today in company with the other members of the Japanese mission. He gave a solemn warning that enemies of both countries were working to estrange them and expressed confidence that the friendship of the nations would prevail over the intrigues.

Introduced by Speaker Clark in a few words, Viscount Ishii was received with a great demonstration from the floor and crowded galleries.

Envoy's Address.

Viscount Ishii addressed the house in part as follows:

"I thank you most sincerely for this gracious reception. The rare opportunity thus afforded to me is deeply appreciated throughout the nation I have the honor to represent. I bring a mes-

Summary of the Day's War News

Russia's northern armies are still in retreat before the Germans in the Riga district. The Russians already have fallen back more than thirty miles to the northeast, retreating behind the Livonian river Aa, past which the Germans are following them. The more westerly Russian forces, however, are still keeping in touch with the coast, in the evident effort not to lose their protection for their flank.

Apparently the Germans have not the heavy naval forces there that earlier reports gave reason to indicate as the Petrograd statement announces that the shelling of the coast which has been carried on was by submarines. The Germans seem to be threatening

"BIG BILL" IS A LUCKY GUY

Chicago's Burgomaster Escapes a Well-Merited Attention.

MOB THINKS IT HAS THE SLACKER

Soldiers and Citizens in Mob That Cuts Up With Some Ugliness.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 5.—A demonstration of soldiers against fifty automobile parties constituting a delegation of the William Hale Thompson Republican club bound for a county fair and political rally at Kankakee was avoided by the mayor. The mayor who was by implication censured by a vote of the city council for his anti-war attitude, yesterday had warning that his welcome along the route of sixty-six miles might be embarrassing and he was not in line when the procession started.

Soldiers, however, mistook one of his supporters for him, and stripped a banner giving the name of the club, from the machine in which they thought he was riding. Soldiers joined in the demonstration and other banners were torn from machines.

Gets German Flag.

The man who looked like the mayor was asked: "What are you doing with an American flag?" There were hisses, cat calls, cries of "Slacker!" "Kaiser!" and the like. A boy at Thirty-third street, similarly mistreated, tried to present the "mayor" with a German flag, but the emblem fell to the pavement, where it was obliterated by passing vehicles.

The automobiles were standing in Michigan boulevard, which bounds Grant park on the west, when the soldiers began to gather.

HOUSE REJECTS PROPOSALS FOR TIEING WILSON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—House republicans today lost their fight to amend the war bond and certificate bill so as to provide for a congressional war expenditures committee. Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, chairman of the committee of the whole, sustained points of order made by democratic leader, Kitchen, against two different proposals offered by Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, and Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania.

FIRE MENACES BIG HERD OF BUFFALO

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 5.—The largest herd of buffalo in the United States, consisting of more than 600 animals, is menaced by a fire which has raged on Antelope island, in the great Salt Lake, from early yesterday to an early hour this morning and is still burning.

In addition to the buffalo, 400 head of horses belonging to the United States government, and being trained by six cowboys for cavalry and artillery purposes, and 1,200 head of cattle and other stock are in danger if the fire should sweep the entire island. The blaze was started by lightning.

GAS MASK USED TO SHUT OFF AMMONIA

A rival use for the gas masks of the trenches was found Wednesday afternoon when an ammonia line broke in the National Market on Calhoun street, near Jefferson. When the break occurred many people made a dash to get out of the "near vicinity" and others who stayed close enough got an idea of the effect of "tear gas," there being few dry eyes.

The police could afford no assistance as they had no mask for the purpose. One was finally obtained from the Eckart Packing company and J. A. Wolf, an employee of Zeit-Killer-Lau Candy company, fitted it on and invaded the room where the break occurred. After the ammonia was turned off at its source the place rapidly cleared out.

AIR OFFENSIVE OF KAISER HAS LEAD HIS FOES

ELEVEN ARE KILLED IN MOONLIGHT RAID

London, Sept. 5.—"Has Germany got her air offensive ready before ours?" is a question asked by a morning paper apropos of the invasion of England on three successive nights and Field Marshal Haig's overnight report of aggressive enemy aircraft.

Another paper which assumes and frequently warns of Germany's intention to invade England with aircraft in very large fleets says:

"The enemy seems to be getting on rather fast with invasion plans. The German aircraft came, bombed and departed. Our guns fired and our aircraft went up but without result, according to the latest official reports. This is the ninth serious raid this summer and of 127 machines which have crossed our coast Germany only admits the loss of seven."

The paper refers to the growing casualty list and the relative immunity of the invaders and adds: "It cannot be said that we are getting on with our invasion plans faster than the enemy."

ELEVEN DIE IN LONDON.

London, Sept. 5.—Eleven persons were killed and forty-nine injured in last night's aerial raid. One raider is reported to have been brought down off Sheerness, it is announced officially.

The official announcement follows: "Enemy airplanes in considerable numbers crossed the southeast coast over a wide area between 10:30 p. m. and 2 a. m. last night. The raiders seemed to have traveled singly or in groups of from two to three machines, for which reason it is difficult to estimate their numbers with accuracy, but it is possible that as many as twenty machines took part in the raid."

"By 11:30 o'clock p. m. it became evident that enemy airplanes were approaching London and at 11:45 the first bombs were dropped in the London district. From this time until approxi-

Washington, Sept. 5.—In supporting the war tax bill as drafted when debate was resumed today, Senator Lewis, of Illinois, said he saw a prospect of peace and thought drastic taxes, therefore might not be necessary.

"To me there appears the prospect of a peace and the end of hostilities if Germany so wills it," he said. "Germany will soon put herself in the hands of the United States as the ar-

RIGA REFUGEES IN PETROGRAD RELATE THRILLING STORIES

Petrograd, Tuesday, Sept. 4.—The first refugees from Riga arrived here today and gave a dramatic description of their last hours in the city before the German occupation.

The first shells were fired from the direction of Uxkull and fell early Sunday morning, causing numerous fires and spreading clouds of suffocating gases. The people rushed into the streets, many only partly dressed, and there was a general panic to reach the railroad station, which seemed to be the enemy's chief target.

This panic resulted in heavy losses, according to Vechernee Vremya, which declares that several thousands were lost. The next night after midnight a Zeppelin appeared over the city and in the rays of its searchlight, citizens might be seen fleeing. The Zeppelin dropped many bombs, some emitting gases.

These bombs were aimed chiefly at Moscow, a suburb of Riga. Shelling with big projectiles from the direction of Uxkull was resumed early in the evening one shell falling in a moving picture hall causing losses and another exploding in the Hotel Suveroff.

The last train which left for Petrograd was heavily shelled. A great many buildings in Riga, according to the refugees, were destroyed.

WOULD PREVENT SLACKERS FROM TAKING BABIES

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—To prevent slackers from adopting children to avoid drafting into the national army, the Children's Aid society of this city has been forced to put in operation a new set of regulations for the adoption of children. The general secretary of the society said today there has been a large increase in the percentage of married men under 31 years who have applied for the adoption of children.

Under the new regulations if an applicant for a child is subject to draft no child is permitted to be placed in his home unless his wife has independent means of supporting herself and the child, or unless the man is able to leave sufficient means for their support in his absence.

General Electric Works
Park But Once More.

Harry Baals, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Electro-Technic club, and who has general supervision over the noon day concerts at the McCullough park by the General Electric works band, issued a bulletin this morning which included the excellent program for the concert tomorrow noon, calling attention to the fact that because of the very uncertain weather conditions at this season of the year the concerts may not continue after this week. The bulletin also stated that the concert will be continued until 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in order that the office people, who go home for luncheon and do not get back in time to enjoy the music, might have the opportunity tomorrow. They appreciate the arrangement and all will avail themselves of the treat. The shop fore, many of the second, as members are secured a tag bearing the words, "I am a member of the E. T. C. ### After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be relieved by the use of the mercurized skin treatment. Weather-beaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will cover up such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the discolored cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of dead skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath.

HONORED DEPARTING FOREMAN.

A demonstration at the Pennsylvania power plant yesterday afternoon illustrated the kindly feelings the employees of the department entertain for Henry C. Daseiler, who was their "boss" for a number of years. The men gathered around Mr. Daseiler just before the closing of the working hours and bade him an affectionate farewell, while one of their number, in behalf of all, presented him with a fine meerschaum pipe, and a goodly supply of smoking tobacco. The speaker referred to the change as the "severance of associations" that had been most agreeable to all. We are sorry to part from you, Henry, but we realize that you go to a better position and that the transfer is a promotion that you cannot afford to turn down. We wish you abundant success in your new position and sincerely hope the advancement does not stop there, but continues until you are in a much higher position." Mr. Daseiler feelingly replied.

FORT WAYNE IS IN PATRIOTIC LINE

Is Loyal Conserving Food
Uncle Sam.

Fort Wayne is in line with the hundred other large cities of the United States which are conserving their food supplies and are not producing within 15 per cent the garbage output of last year, Mayor W. J. Hosey has answered to the United States food administration headquarters.

Inquiry has been sent to one hundred of the largest cities in an effort to ascertain the saving of food stuffs, explains Raymond Pearl, secretary of the government food department. A few of the cities have reported back and the saving this year is from 10 to 30 per cent, the latter states. "Anybody acquainted with the local garbage situation knows that Fort Wayne is producing far below her normal garbage yield," says Mayor Hosey. "It is evident that the meat scraps are being saved. Bread stuffs are being conserved. Fort Wayne is as saving as any city."

HAVE TO SHUT DOWN.

Industries Cannot Run Without Coal, Writes Mayor Hosey.

The city light plant will have to shut down unless the present Pennsylvania railroad order is recalled, Mayor W. J. Hosey wrote to Judge Lovett, Tuesday evening, after he had received word that only few cars of coal will be delivered in this division per month.

The mayor was notified, Tuesday evening, by the American Coal Mining company, from which the light plant gets its coal supply, of the new Pennsylvania railroad ruling. Mayor Hosey promptly mailed the following message to Judge Lovett, Washington, D. C.: "We have been informed by American Coal Mining company that under your priority order No. 1 they will be unable to make any shipments whatever of coal to city of Fort Wayne because Pennsylvania company notified them that their field would receive but forty-five cars per day and these only for Pennsylvania fuel purposes."

"This city must have seven cars of coal per week to operate our electrical, commercial and public street lighting plant, also for power plant for city protection and domestic use. City under contract with coal company. No coal on open market. City 80,000 population. Unless order modified so that we can procure at least seven cars per week condition would be serious here and plants would have to shut down, resulting in absence of all protection entirely."

There were no women to register at the city hall office, for the signing of ballot applications, Wednesday. A few men straggled in and filled out the vote sheets. Less than fifty men and women have registered since Tuesday.

Place where registrations may be made Wednesday evening are: A. W. F. Manth drug store, Lewis and Hanna. F. J. Miller drug store, Lafayette and Wallace.

STATE BOARD ACTS ON WAYNE COUNTY

Forty-one Cases Are Passed Upon by Commissioners
Wednesday.

Forty-one cases, all from the city of Richmond, were acted upon Wednesday morning by the appeal board. In twenty-eight cases the young men were ordered to join the ranks of the national army. There were exemptions granted in thirteen cases. The reason for the large number of exemptions asked from Wayne county is due to the fact that Wayne county is a Quaker community and Quakers are opposed to war.

The board has considered more than 100 cases since Tuesday noon. All the appeals acted upon this week have been from Whiteley, DeKalb and Wayne counties.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR YEAR TOTAL $551,927

County Council Allows $100,000 for Construction of State Street Bridge.

Appropriations to the amount of $551,927 have been made by the county council for the transaction of the county's business during the ensuing year. The appropriations are greatly in excess of last year, which will necessitate a larger tax levy. While the levy has been fixed it is subject to possible change if the council sees fit to do so before adjourning.

The bridge appropriations for the year total $100,000, $100,000 of which goes for the construction of the new State street bridge. Three appropriations have been made for the State street bridge, the original figure being $50,000. Because of the rapid increase in the price of material no contractor wanted to undertake the job at $50,000 and it was necessary to call a special session of the council when an additional appropriation was made. Still the amount was insufficient for the construction of the kind of bridge needed. It is now thought that there will be no further difficulty. The commissioners expect to award the contract as soon as possible.

Twenty thousand dollars were appropriated for the State street bridge and $40,000 for small bridges and bridge repairs. An appropriation for the erection of a tuberculosis hospital was made at a special session of the council some weeks ago.

CONCORDIA COLLEGE STARTS SCHOOL YEAR

Attendance Shows Slight Increase Despite the War.

Concordia college opened its school year Wednesday, the first day being taken up by enrollment of students who began coming in in large numbers. So far about 250 students have enrolled of which sixty-six are new students. The enrollment slightly exceeds that of last year which in view of the extraordinary circumstances pertaining to the war is considered good. The enrollment and the large number furnished by Concordia, is the cause of optimism.

Twenty-five states of the union are represented in the first day's enrollment. More are expected to enroll during the remainder of the week, which should bring the enrollment up to a larger figure. Even a slight increase this year is considered good because of the many colleges and universities in the country which expect to lose thousands of students who will answer the call of the country. Indications are that few if any other colleges in the state will show an increase this year because of war conditions. This indicates that Concordia's growth exceeds inroads that the war is making and has already made. Many students who attended Concordia college have been called into service.

The Louis Niemeyer mentioned in the police story of the case of Edward Griebel, charged with selling liquor on Sunday, is not Louis H. Niemeyer, of the old firm of Meyer & Niemeyer, haberdashers.

FIRST MEETING SOON.

The first meeting of the One Hundred Per Cent club for the season will be held on the third Friday in September.

A dictaphone, small enough to be carried in one's pocket, has been invented and patented by a man in Washington.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Lift a corn or callus right off without one bit of pain.

Yes! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain. A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards. Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice. — Advertisement.

POSSE SEEKS MAN WHO THREW ACID ON A GIRL

Three Hundred Men and Women Search Woods and Cornfields.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 5.—Three hundred infuriated farmers, at least 100 armed with shotguns and rifles and the remainder carrying clubs and knives, searched woods, corn fields and other possible hiding places east of Silver Lake yesterday afternoon for a middle-aged man who threw carbolic acid at Miss Hazel Deaton, 15-year-old daughter of Cyrus Deaton.

The stranger appeared at the Deaton farm home and demanded food from the girl, who was alone. She agreed to get it, and as she was attempting to hook the screen door he threw the contents of a small bottle on her and then ran away. The liquid proved to be carbolic acid. Her arms and face were badly blistered, but her eyes escaped. She ran to the field where her father was at work, and within a few minutes the news of the attack had spread over the neighborhood and farmers and farmers' wives rushed in search of the man.

BIG CROWD AT BOURBON.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 5.—Bourbon expects to entertain between 5,000 and 10,000 persons Wednesday afternoon and evening, when a great patriotic demonstration will be given as a farewell to the soldier boys of this community. Thirty-five automobiles have been obtained to take the members of Company H from their camp near here. Company I, of Plymouth, and the Third Regiment band will be taken to Bourbon in autos. ### LIKE BASE BALL, BUT MORE PERILOUS, GRENADE THROWING.

Throwing hand grenades is dangerous business for the thrower as well as for the enemy. Every American Christy Mathewson require careful training in this war adaptation of base ball. In the first picture the missile is grasped in the right hand, with the left arm extended for aim and balance. Picture two shows the moment of release, and picture three the finish of the swing, like that of a golfer. Here's the danger: The thrower's grip presses a spring. An explosion follows a few seconds after the release of this spring. The grip must be tight up to the very instant of release, or the thrower himself is blown up.

BOY IS POISONED.

South Whitley, Ind., Sept. 3.—Kenneth Smith, son of Frank Smith, of Collamer, while bathing in the river, with a number of other boys, Monday afternoon, swallowed some of the green scum which forms on stagnant water, and he soon became very ill. Dr. Eberhard was called and the boy was found to be badly poisoned. Relief was administered and it is thought he will be all right soon.

HIT BY A FORD.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 5.—George

Powder, who makes his home with Miss Elizabeth Eberhard in Washington township, was hit by a Ford automobile while walking in the road, near the John Perry corner, Sunday between five and six o'clock. He was thrown a distance of probably ten feet, alighting so that his skull was fractured at the top of his head. An incision was made requiring nine stitches to close the wound. The injuries were dressed by Dr. E. V. Nolt, of this city.

DIVORCE DECREE GRANTED.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 5.—Hannah Rouch was granted a divorce from her husband, Roscoe Rouch, in the Whitley circuit court Tuesday, by Judge Luke H. Wrigley. The plaintiff was given custody of their child and the defendant is to pay $8 per month for the support of said child. The defendant has already paid the stipulated amount for two years, or until Sept. 1st, 1919, and after that time he is to pay $8 per month. The divorce was granted at the defendant's costs.

ROBBERY AT KENDALLVILLE.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 5.—Three robberies took place here yesterday afternoon and evening, the loot taken aggregating $500. The home of Percy Mumaw was entered shortly after noon and a necklace, earrings, scarf pins and other articles of jewelry were taken. The homes of John Strader and Mrs. Amelia Kruger were entered last evening. Two men giving their names as J. E. Gilbert who claims to have no permanent place of residence, and Edward Stein, of Dayton, O., were arrested last evening. None of the stolen goods was found. Inasmuch as Gilbert had an I. W. W. pin he was kept under surveillance.

HUSBAND IS SENTENCED.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 5.—When Steve Zimmerman was sentenced in the city court yesterday to serve 140 days at the state penal farm, Mrs. Zimmerman suffered a nervous breakdown and for a time her condition was regarded as serious. Zimmerman will not be taken to the farm for a few days to enable him to be at the bedside of his sick wife.

Walborn, of Columbus, who was killed Sunday in an accident at Bethlehem, Pa. The young man was a graduate of the Van Wert high school. The body has been brought here for interment.

NEW ADDITION.

"Driving Park Extended" is the name of the newest city addition which will be placed on the market soon by the J. F. Curdes Realty Company. The area, which includes the remaining forty acres of the old fair grounds lying to the east of Driving Park Addition and adjoining Anthony Boulevard to the east, is being platted now. Sidewalks and curbing have been constructed throughout a large portion of the addition, sewers have been put in, the Grace Construction company has the street paving well under way, and the boulevard lighting system is in process of construction. Lots have been laid out and as soon as the improvement program is completed or near enough completed to give the purchaser an idea of just what he is getting, the addition will go on the market in possibly three or four weeks. The development of this new addition marks an idea fostered for years by Mr. Curdes, and he is developing it along the same beautiful lines followed in Forest and Driving Park additions and in the area north and east of Cravens and Lake avenues, the first addition platted in that section of the city in recent years. Arrangements have been made for a city park about a block square adjoining the addition on the east.

A NATIONAL ISSUE.

Chicago people do not stand alone in harboring angry feeling against Chicago's mayor. The people of the whole nation know of "Big Bill" Thompson and the persistent disloyalty of his conduct and speech since America was driven to enter the war against Germany, and the people of the whole country feel toward him much as the people of Chicago feel toward him. For the present the people of Chicago have immediately in hand the duty of dealing with him, though there is hopeful dawning of prospect that in a day near at hand his case will pass to the charge of a greater jurisdiction and that he will be summoned to answer for himself at a bar where procedures are established, regular and competent.

Hanging Mayor Thompson in effigy, while serving somewhat to disclose the indignant state of the public mind in his own city, probably does not greatly wound such a pride as his. Denunciation does not faze him. It was evident, from the fight made by himself and his few friends and supporters to prevent it, that he was sensible of the obloquy to which his name must be consigned in the record of official rebuke and repudiation administered by the city council. He can survive that, however, and continue his functions in the high place to which he was elected and go on to play his disloyal role out to the end of his term. What is needed to meet the case of "Big Bill" is that he should be kicked out of an office he not only disgraces but employs to disloyal uses against his country. If a way can be found by which lawfully to oust him something like genuine retribution could be thought to have overtaken him and that at the least would have unmistakable effect to curb his ilk and deprive him and his disloyal associates and associations of one means by which their services to the nation's enemies could be balked.

There is serious discussion of federal procedures against him. How far his acts have made him truly amenable to the laws we cannot say. It would seem that there ought to be some provision in the federal statutes that without stretching could be made to cover such conduct as he has been guilty of. If he can be prosecuted for such enmity as he has shown to the government and the country in the necessity and duty to carry on the war that is the thing that ought to be done. "Big Bill" proved guilty and convicted of disloyalty, sedition and treason and punished according to his due would be a salutary spectacle. It is rather futile to rail against those enemies among us who have at least some plausible pretext if not altogether sound excuse for their offenses to loyalty and their occasions against the government in their assumption of obedience to the dictates of natural sympathies, so long as the chief magistrate of America's second city is allowed to continue in his seat and defiantly flout the government in prosecution of a great war with a foreign foe and to make his office the hatching-place of treasons and the refuge of traitors.

Meanwhile, pending actions by the federal government, the people of the entire country are heart and soul in sympathy with Chicago for her sad plight and hopefully looking to the people of that great community to cleanse their city of the stain of "Big Bill." The way may be difficult to find, but we believe they will find it at length nor be slow to make use of the first effectual recourse that is offered. He should be gotten rid-of, and will be, no doubt.

A federal grand jury is sitting in Chicago and it entered upon its work with admonition from a judge of the United States courts to apply itself to the task of bringing treason to book, no matter by whom committed, and to spare no one, regardless of his station. This may cast an ominous halo for "Big Bill."

and it may not. That can be told better in the sequel. At all events and in any case, the conduct and utterances of Chicago's mayor make fit and emergent occasions for trying what may be done. He is a specific danger himself to the country, but infinitely more dangerous as an example and encouragement to the disloyal and treasonable wherever they may be.

IT WILL BE GOOD FOR THE TREES.

The people of Fort Wayne have felt for a good many years a wholly pardonable pride in their trees. There has sometimes been more zeal than wisdom in the efforts made to promote shade-tree culture here and it has been only in recent years that anything like system and scientific direction have been given this phase of municipal development. The cultivation of trees and the care and preservation of trees are—at any rate should be—twin concerns in the public mind. It is quite as essential that old trees be preserved from destruction by inflicted damage or by pests and diseases as that new trees should be planted. There should be a greater interest in the tree question and especially in the care and preservation of trees. Because this is true we hope there may be a large attendance of citizens at the assembly room in the court house this evening to hear a lecture by Mr. Adolph Jaenicke, the city forester, upon trees, their cultivation and care. Mr. Jaenicke is an authority upon this subject, of course; but he also is a tree surgeon of repute. He will have many things to say that every citizen ought to know. It is of significance that Mr. Jaenicke is to be heard under auspices of the Burroughs club. The study and preservation of birds and the cultivation and care of trees are very closely related. There should be a good attendance of Fort Wayne people to hear Mr. Jaenicke tonight.

WILL RUSSIA FIGHT?

Optimism of spirit and mere wordy discounts do not set aside the precarious situation in which Russia is plunged by the abandonment of Russia's only western seaport to the German invaders and so opening the way to Petrograd. The taking of the Russian capital would not be of surpassing military importance. It has no special strategic value. But it would have prodigious moral effect not only in Russia but throughout the central powers.

Perhaps with the invaders getting near their capital and largest city, the Russians may decide to get back into the war and try what they are able to do to expel the enemy, not only from his new line, but from all other invaded parts of the realm. It may quite as readily also be speculated upon that with their capital in enemy hands and worse pains of war threatened, the Russians will be ready to conclude the separate peace for which Germany has longed, plotted and finally invaded the Muscovite soil. If Russia will make peace Germany and Austria will have accomplished a great and a very inexpensive victory. If Russia will not make peace, but shall be stirred into the heroic action of which she stands in need and of which she is really capable, there will be a different story to tell.

On its own face the situation in Russia is an unpleasant thing to contemplate. The hopeful thing to think of is that the Russian army may be spurred to fight. If it is going to fight again on any account, it would seem to be that the time and occasion are now in full conjunction.

The first of them are en route and the others will follow from day to day until the whole of almost seven thousand selected men are in the great cantonments. They will not be ready for the field for some time, but they have fully entered the service of their country and rallied to the colors. No soldiers of the republic have gone to any war with greater honors or holding out promise of finer deeds than these selected young men. They are the pick and flower of the land. No country ever has put finer or sturdier manhood into the ranks of war than these youths who are of the first national army.

Hanging Wilhelm der Grosse in effigy is the idlest of reprisals—the punkest of recourses. Hanging him actually would be murder, which never would do. What to do with "Big Bill" is sure enough a problem and no easy thing to guess at. What did the people of Chicago do it for in the first place?

"Forward with God," exclaims the kaiser to his army. It is not a new notion of Bill's, but there was a day when God was not sought to make poison gas, bombing of hospitals, enslavement of women and the modern line of Prussian atrocities of war the instruments of his intervention in behalf of divine rights.

"Those that are not for us are against us," and it is striking the hour whenever in this land of the free should stand up to be counted as an American or something else.

The radicals in the senate are inviting the closure with all the devices they know any thing about. It will come, we think, soon.

JUNIOR RED CROSS OPEN TO TWENTY MILLIONS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN IN U. S.

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, announces the launching of a Junior Red Cross open to all school children in the country. The new organization hopes to become a channel for patriotic service and interest to the 22,000,000 boys and girls of school age in the United States.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross is to be by schools. Whenever there has been placed in the local school fund an amount equal to 25c for every pupil, the school becomes a school auxiliary of the Red Cross, and is entitled to display a special Red Cross banner. At the same time every pupil becomes a junior member, and is entitled to wear the membership button. The school fund can be raised by the school, or collected by subscription. In some states it will be raised by cities to cover all schools in the city district. In other states the campaign will be for a state-wide fund and the enrollment of all the pupils in the state. In every case, however, the schools are to be associated with the local chapters of the Red Cross through a teachers' committee of the chapter.

The school fund will be used for the purchase of materials which the children will make up into Red Cross supplies, and for other uses in which the children will have a personal share. No part of it is to go for chapter or general expenses.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross will be developed by states. Division managers will appoint membership committees and school activities committees for each state. The membership committee stimulates interest and raises funds for the school supply fund. It will be composed of some of the most influential people devoted to educational affairs.

CHILDREN ARE FREED BY NEW LAW FROM THE MINES AND CANNERIES

BY GRACE ABBOTT.

(Director, Division of Child Labor, U. S. Department of Labor.)

Minerals from mines or quarries in which children under 16 are employed or products of mills, canneries, workshops or manufacturing establishments employing children under 14, will not be admitted to interstate or foreign commerce, under the new federal child labor law, in effect September 1. The law includes also an eight-hour day for children between 14 and 16, and work only between 5 a. m. and 7 p. m.

There had been some demand that enforcement of the act be postponed until the end of the war, but this has come from those who opposed the law. Apparently the people realize nothing can be more important for the future of our democracy than adherence to those standards which we have found necessary for the protection of children.

England and France have warned us industrial efficiency is not promoted by breaking down labor standards, while Canada, Australia and New Zealand have set us the excellent example of adhering to, and in a few instances, advancing their pre-war standards.

The fact that child labor or compulsory education laws were strengthened by states so widely separated as

The school activities committee will be made up of vocational teachers and other school officials. Under its directions patterns of articles to be made, and other instructions for use in the vocational classrooms, will be prepared and sent to all the schools.

The plan has been developed by President MacCracken of Vassar, in consultation with school authorities and the National Red Cross. Dr. MacCracken said today:

"I believe in the Junior Red Cross, not only because of the great sums of money it will earn and the immense amount of supplies which the school pupils, especially in our technical schools, will make, but because of its educational and patriotic value for the children."

"The work for the Red Cross will teach service to others and citizenship giving; it will stimulate interest in our national government and its policies during the war; and it will afford a useful release for the youthful energy which is stimulated by the violent and morbid aspects of war conditions, and if undirected, may cause under wrong conditions, great increase of juvenile delinquency and crime."

"It is the success attained in many schools last year which has decided the Red Cross to undertake this important new step. The vocational classes in New York state alone last spring made over 40,000 articles during the last few weeks of the school year for the Red Cross."

"Universal testimony from the chapters showed that these were in every way up to the rigid standards of the organization Mrs. Talbot, director of vocational education for girls in the state, says that in many cases she was told that their work was, if anything, better than that in the adult work."

Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin during the confused months just passed, is significant.

It is impossible to say with any accuracy how many children will be taken out of industry by this act. In many states the standards of age and hours of work set by the state laws are as high as the requirements of the federal act; a few state standards are higher; in a larger number they are below the federal standard.

On the basis of the figures of the thirteenth census, now more than seven years old, 27,023 children under 14 years of age employed in manufacturing and mechanical establishments will be released; 17,667 children under 16 years of age who were reported working in mines and quarries will no longer do that dangerous work. How many children between 14 and 16 will not be employed when their legal day is cut to eight hours, no one can say. In 1910, 119,690 children between 14 and 16 were not protected by an eight-hour law. These do not include the large numbers of children that have worked during August and September in canneries.

Friends and the opponents of the act are asking what provisions are to be made for the education and care of these children on being released from the mines and factories. In some states compulsory education laws are still to be passed and in others good laws go unenforced. In some states provision is made for the unfortunate children who because of death or poverty of their parents should be supported until physically and mentally prepared for self-support. In a larger number of states no such far sighted view has been taken.

Relatively few Americans live in the place in which they spent their childhood and so a state with advanced standards finds itself unable to protect its future from the neglect and irresponsibility of a neighboring state. The level of citizenship in the United States is determined by the worst as well as the best standards. So far, except for the grants of public land and recent provisions for mechanical, agricultural and vocational education, these matters have been left entirely to the states.

Is it too much to hope that the nation will insure to all its children something like an equal opportunity to become strong, intelligent and independent citizens?

ORGANIZE FOR SUBURBAN DAY

Merchants to Meet Tonight at the Commercial Club.

"BUY FROM YOUR HOME MERCHANT"

Movement to Curtail Loss Which Now Goes Elsewhere.

The big "Suburban Day" movement gets its real start tonight when a large group of merchants and other live, loyal Fort Wayne business men will meet at the Commercial club to form the Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association. The organization will enter at once upon an extended campaign to broaden and develop Fort Wayne as a center of trade and assembly for thousands who are not now in the habit of making Fort Wayne their common center of interest.

Officers will be elected tonight and the association will assume definite form for a campaign to open within the next two weeks to proclaim the greatness of Fort Wayne as a trade center and as a place to come for entertainment and any other purpose which attracts people to one city in preference to another.

While the central object of the association is to bring thousands of people to Fort Wayne on one special day of each week—probably on Wednesday—it has been the policy from the start to urge people everywhere to patronize their home merchants. The Fort Wayne merchants do not expect the patronage of anyone residing in another city who can receive from the home merchant the same high quality of goods at the right price, but they do ask for a fair opportunity to show that they can supply the need perfectly if the home merchant does not find it possible to do so. Many things are sold in Fort Wayne which cannot be purchased in the smaller cities. In cases of this kind, Fort Wayne asks the preference over the mail order house or any other agency which does not tend to uphold the general community.

All merchants and others who are interested in the movement are invited to attend the meeting at the Commercial club this evening and unite in the beginning of the campaign to make of this one of the greatest days of growth ever undertaken by a midwestern city. Letters received this week from many cities in all portions of the United States which have used a similar plan, report great success. One city says: "Wednesday's trade is now as large as Saturday's of the old days, and our Saturday trade is growing still larger." Others speak of the growth of the Suburban day trade until it equals or exceeds the Saturday retail business. Such is the plan of Fort Wayne, while, at the same time, protecting and encouraging the patronage of the merchant in the smaller city. "The main thing," says one of the merchants, "is to create new trade by building up from the business which does not now go either to the merchant in the smaller city or to Fort Wayne, but to the metropolitan centers and to the mail order houses."

DRAFT FRAUDS FOR FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Philadelphia Board Says Local Prosecutor Refused to Act.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—The federal grand jury here has under consideration, charges that U. S. District Attorney Francis Fisher Kane failed to prosecute alleged offenders against the selective draft act. John P. Dwyer, managing editor of the Philadelphia Record and a member of a local draft board has been subpoenaed by the jury for examination with regard to a statement he made that it was impossible for his board to obtain prosecution by the district attorney where perjury is evident.

Mr. Dwyer said he based his charges on two cases in his district where men filed exemption claims on alleged false affidavits. He said when the district attorney failed to act he asked an investigation by the provost marshal general at Washington, who referred the matter to the department of justice.

District Attorney Kane denies any admission of duty and says the cases referred by Mr. Dwyer are being investigated and prosecution will be brought if the facts warrant.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will meet in the church tomorrow to sew and knit for the Red Cross.

Missionary Society Meeting.
The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Wayne Street church will meet on Thursday with Mrs. Robert Harding, of South Webster street. The annual election of officers will be held.

NO CARS TO CARRY JUMPERS.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5.—It was announced today that running races will not be held at the Michigan state fair, which is being held here. Inability to obtain box cars to transport the horses to Detroit was the official reason given for failure of promoters to put on the races. It was thought locally that strict enforcement of Michigan's anti-betting laws may have had something to do with the cancellation of the meeting.

RATE HEARING GOES OVER.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—Because officials of the railroads which filed a petition with the Indiana public utilities commission for higher rates had to appear before the Ohio commission today, further hearing was postponed until September 11.

M'COMB IMPROVES.

David O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of the county, who has been ill with typhoid fever for the past two weeks, is slowly improving. He is still confined to his bed and it will be some time before he will be able to be out.

REGULAR MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fort Wayne council for patriotic service will be held tonight at the Commercial club, when business of importance will be called to the attention of the delegates present.

SOCIETY

A wedding of Thursday that will be a very quiet home affair will be that of Mrs. Jessie C. Andrews and Mr. William B. Donaldson, which will take place in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of the bride in South Calhoun street. Only the immediate family relatives will be present to hear the marriage service read by Rev. H. B. Hostetter, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church. The bride is widely known, particularly in south side circles, and is a sister of Mrs. Chris Heik, Mrs. Frank Wilt and Oscar Brokaw. Mr. Donaldson was formerly president of the Downing bakery but is now retired from an active business life. The bride and groom are going to Rome City, where they will occupy the groom's summer home for an indefinite length of time.

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Menefee, on Sunday, was the customary event in celebration of Mr. Menefee's birth anniversary. It was a family gathering and the house and two long dining tables were profusely decorated with handsome flowers. Covers at one table were laid for twenty-five and at the other for a dozen. In the center of the table a birthday cake with pink and white frosting was the center of attraction for the children's eyes and many an adult cast an admiring glance in its direction. Pink roses lay round the cake on the cloth and at each end of the table were low vases of roses. Flowers were to be seen in every room. There were present Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Menefee and children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Menefee and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Pfeiffer and children, Mrs. Leah Coover and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilmarth and son.

Mrs. Clem Lamont entertained a dozen friends at a porch party on Tuesday afternoon as a compliment to her guest, Mrs. Morgan Owens, of Charleston, W. Va. The company knitted and visited, then enjoyed some delicious and refreshing things to eat. This afternoon Mrs. Lamont entertained a second company, also at her home in West Main street, and the beautifully flower trimmed porch proved to be attractive to remain indoors, so the refreshments were also served there. Mrs. Owens was again the honor guest. Mrs. Luecke, of Detroit, was a visiting guest.

The wedding of Miss Irene Noll and Mr. Fred Potthoff will take place at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church on Thursday morning. Mgr. J. H. Oechtering will officiate at the nuptial mass. Miss Anna Potthoff will be bridesmaid and Mr. Al Herman, of Toledo, a cousin to the bride, will be the attendants. Those who composed the party were Misses Lillian Grosh, Sophia Gruber, Theresa Wilhelm, Celia Zurbuch and Julia Deck, and the Messrs. Bud Wise, William Fry, Jr., Theodore Deck, Bernard Brinker and Clarence Kinder.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harmer entertained on Monday evening at their home, 2105 Meridian street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee, who leave soon for Hutchinson, Kan., to make their home. There were present to enjoy the pleasant and clever test in which the pupils aimed to get the largest number of musical terms from a number of anagrams in a certain length of time, were amusements. The band was edged with pearl beads. Instead of flowers the bride carried a prayerbook with an unusual and beautiful bookmark of ribbon and tiny flowers of ribbon with pearl centers. The bride wore a beautiful gift from the groom on her wedding day, a platinum brooch with pearl setting. The church was decorated with palms. Only the immediate family relatives were present at the wedding breakfast served at the bride's home. The table was decorated with Italianware vases filled with pink roses, pink and white snapdragons and chrysanthemums and the bride's cake. Miss Marguerite Flick did the decorating. The rollicking merry fun festival, "At Home," McConnell and Simpson's really great comedy sketch, will be the feature attraction at the New Palace the last three days of the week. This little glimpse into the private life of a vaudeville team is a rich bit of fun. A husband and wife forming a vaudeville team are "laying off" as is the indolent, shiftless brother of the wife. The inevitable rows ensue and finally the team receives a message engaging their services. Their rehearsal of their act is a constant succession of laughs. Peaches Easier to Can Than Other Fruits

BY BIDDY BYE.

Women in the grand army of canners ought to see not a single peach is wasted this year.

Peaches can be canned with much less labor than is required for putting up most fruits. They will keep without sugar, if properly sterilized; they may be dried by the electric fan or over the kitchen range; or by the sun.

To be in the best condition for canning, peaches should be ripe but moderately firm. The fruit should be graded according to size and softness before pared. Set aside the soft, wormy or inferior fruit for "pie fruit" or made into "leather".

Peaches should be pared with a silver knife to prevent discoloration. Or they may be scalded and the skin rubbed or scraped off. With the clingstone varieties, the product is probably finer if the fruit is halved before paring.

Canned Peaches. Peaches should be rinsed in cold water, packed into hot jars and covered with syrup immediately after paring. Otherwise the surface turn dark. Hot syrup previously prepared should be poured over the fruit at once. Before packing a second lot, place rubbers and caps in position, but do not tighten the covers. Set jars in a water-bath or cold-pack (wash-bottle) outfit. Sterilize 16 minutes, take from boiler, tighten covers, invert to cool. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching before storing.

Dried Peaches.

Peel and slice ripe peaches, string and hang in the sun, protected from insects. Or spread on clean boards and dry in the oven or with an electric fan; or use a commercial evaporator.

"Condition" the fruit, that is turn it and mix it several times during the drying process so the product may be uniform. Store in small quantities in paper bags or boxes.

Peach Leather.

Peel and crush very ripe peaches, spread the pulp on platters and dry in the oven. When thoroughly dried, the pulp should be as tough as leather. Roll it up and seal in bags. When needed for use, soak over night and stew with sugar.

Peach Marmalade.

For each pound of pared and sliced fruit allow ¾ pound of sugar. Mash the fruit, add the sugar and mix well. Turn into a crock, cover, and bake in the oven for several hours. Stir occasionally. Turn into small jars and cover with melted paraffin.

Pickled Peaches.

For 25 pounds of peaches allow 12 pounds of sugar. Wash the fruit and rub off the fuzz with coarse crash. Make a pickling liquor by boiling 5 pints of vinegar mixed with the sugar and ¼ cupful citric acid and other spices if liked. Put in two quarts of the peaches and simmer until the fruit is tender, then skim out the peaches and pack in a stone jar. When all of the fruit has been cooked, boil down the syrup, pour it over the peaches, cover the jar and add a weight. Keep in a cool place.

Peach Vinegar.

Save peach parings and use over-ripe fruit for vinegar. Mash the fruit and cover with cold water. To each gallon add four ounces of sugar and a dessert spoonful of yeast. Set in the sun to ferment, but do not cover closely, or the container may burst. Strain and bottle, or add to vinegar barrel.

Modern plant and expert help insures proper dry cleaning. Peerless. Phone 6095.

MOTHERS, DON'T FIND FAULT WITH CHILDREN.

A writer in a recent issue of Mother's Magazine gives some very pertinent advice to mothers in regard to their attitude with their children. She says in part: "Don't think that the moment you are alone with your boy or girl you must find fault or endeavor to improve the occasion by a little moralizing, no matter in how loving a spirit. This is a hard don't, for no one is so anxious to help a child toward perfection as the parent, yet it surely leads to an avoidance of the moments alone together, which should be times of happy confidences. 'Neither should a parent correct the child before others. Never mind if a well meaning relative does say, 'My dear, I am surprised that you do not show more force of character; your children are suffering from a lack of discipline.' Pass the matter over till you and the small offender can have it out alone. If the circumstances are such that it can not be passed over take him out of the room."

BLUE TIP WATERMELONS NOW THE LATEST STYLE.

Housewives, don't fight shy of the watermelon with a blue tip on its tail. That's the style. Officially adopted and vouched for by the department of agriculture. It also makes the watermelon the most patriotic fruit we grow. Red center, white rind and blue tail.

Painting the tails of watermelons with a paste made of bluestone and starch prevents stem-ends rots, which have caused vast losses heretofore in shipments of melons. The blue tip on its tail doesn't hurt the fruit at all, just keeps it.

You needn't worry either if some hurried, careless grower lets the blue tip wander sloppily up on the body of the melon. That doesn't hurt it, either.

HORACE IN WONDERLAND.

(Part Two.)

Continued his "Weston" up the street of Wonderland, Horace came to a cross street and brought his pedals to a whoa to let a gas chariot ramble by. Well, folks, you know Horace is in Wonderland so don't get twisted with the knives and forks. The autolst stopped a goodly distance back of the pedestrian's path and with a smile acknowledged Horace's right of way and told him to proceed without fear of being knocked down and backed up over.

Well, that's what, yezzir! Horace took out his bugle cloth to wipe the chilly trickles of perspiration that started to cascade down his brow.

Now citizens be calm, sit tight. A newsboy saw the move of Horace's to the belt pocket for his tea sponge, and did he mistake Horace's motive and do a high hurdle standing jump toward Horace's adam apple with the latest edition? No patrons; nay! He remained motionless as a messenger boy—Hasn't forgot, this is in Wonderland!

SEVEN FROM BLUFFTON LEAVE FOR LOUISVILLE

Conscripted Men Guests at Reception Tuesday Evening.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 5.—Wells county's first contingent of the new national army left Bluffton over the Lake Erie road at 8:28 this morning for Camp Taylor, Louisville. The men are Manley Stinson, Wayne Summers, Vaughn Abshire, Frank Wetrick, Gordon Graham, Robert Gordon and Oral Meyers. A reception was given last evening at the Reformed church in honor of the conscripted men. A fine program had been prepared and the ladies served a fine feed.

Bluffton Brief Items.

The September term of the Wells circuit court opened Monday morning and half of the day was spent in shaping up the trial calendar. The grand jury also started its investigations. The members are: Wm. J. Beatty, foreman; Dell B. Wilkliffe, Frank Hoopengartner, Joe Colbert, A. E. Adams and David Coolman.

A petition was filed in circuit court yesterday by the Studabaker Grain and Seed company in an effort to save from junking the Bluffton, Geneva and Celina railroad, which runs between this city and Geneva. The petitioner states it was induced by the traction company to erect a grain elevator at Vera Cruz at a cost of $20,000 and as the result of this business large sums of money have been paid the traction company as freight. If the road is junked the complaint says, this Vera Cruz property would be worthless and the Studabaker company wants to defend the action filed by Thomas Flynn in an effort to have the road dismantled and sold for junk.

Manager Decker, of the Street Fair association, today awarded the contract for the tents for the street fair. The contract was awarded the Wolf Tent and Awning company, of Fort Wayne and called for 500 feet of tenting.

The county council started its session yesterday and this morning made appropriations for running the county's business during the next year and also fix the tax levy.

Directors of the Wilson Oil and Gas company have decided to drill another test well on ground under lease in Union township. The location is to be decided by the committee composed of Wm. B. Little, Clem Green and W. A. Kunkel. Work on the first well stopped Saturday evening when salt water was struck at a depth of 1,253 feet.

NEW SOLDIERS SAY GOOD BYE

There Are Tear Lit Smiles as Friends Gather in Grey Dawn.

EVERY DAY WILL SEE MORE YOUNG MEN GO

City Districts Announce Names of Those Who Depart Later in the Week.

Smiles, struggling through tears, bade "good-bye" to the young men who left Fort Wayne, as the first quota for the national army, Wednesday morning.

There were solemn farewells from half a dozen quiet groups when the selected men gathered at the Grand Rapids & Indiana passenger station to await the train which bore away the first contingent of the new fighting force.

There were scenes such as have moved the American heart since the opening of the war. There was the father's quaking sorrow, the mother's sobbing grief. Firm handshakes and wry appearing smiles accompanied the many expressions of "Good-bye and God bless you."

Half a hundred people were left standing in the station lobby when the new recruits pushed their way through the opening in the polished railing and hurried for the waiting train, in answer to the last call of the heavy voiced announcer. The near relatives and friends watched their parting warriors until the men turned at the foot of the stairs, which lead directly to the tracks.

"I know he will be a brave boy and a true one," wept one mother as loving arms escorted her from the station.

Every Man at His Post.

All of the six recruits, who go as the first division called from the city, were at the station, at least ten minutes before train time. Some of their friends had been waiting for many minutes in the foggy dawn for the arrival of the future soldiers at the depot. Every man of the half dozen was surrounded by a small group of his near friends and relatives.

A part of the men carried bundles of supplies. Four of the number were decorated by new wrist watches.

"We are ready," was the expression from all the future fighters as they gathered on the platform to await the starting of the train.

"We are going after the Kaiser's goat," explained one of the number.

Like Days to Come.

The impressive scenes of the little groups of men and women gathered about the young fellows who are about to leave for training camps and which pictures recall the suppressed sorrow and sacrificing devotion of democracy's people in other dark days of the republic will be quite the common thing from now on.

On every other morning this week there will be the gatherings at the G. R. & I. station at the foot of Harrison street. There will be loving words in low tones. There will be encouraging sentences and expressions of undying confidence. There will be the smiles and tears. Fort Wayne is giving her best to make democracy secure.

The young men who will leave on Thursday morning at 6:25 o'clock (central time) over the G. R. & I. are: District No. 1—Herman Berghoff, East Jefferson street; Leo Jauer, Lafayette street.

District No. 2—Edward D. Pierre, 1004 West Washington street; Harry Weissbecker, 618 Cherry street.

District No. 3—E. K. Harknerider, 2431 South Hanna street; George A. Bangart, 120 East Woodland avenue.

Those who will leave on Friday are: District No. 1—None.

District No. 2—Theodore Strouse, 342 Baker street.

District No. 3—Elmer Grosh, 2701 Hanna street; Alphonse Bueret, 446 East DeWald street.

The men who go to Camp Taylor, Ky., where the national army soldiers are to be trained, on Saturday are: District No. 1—Arthur C. Koenig, 1002 East Washington street; Herman J. Adams, 924 Madison street.

District No. 2—Charles Osterman, 815 West Superior street.

District No. 3—M. D. Fairman, 129 East Pontiac street; Elvin C. Bair, 1131 Pontiac street.

MYERS QUILTS TRACTION JOB; HART NAMED

Announcement was made Wednesday of the appointment of Charles B. Hart as head of the new business department of the light and power office of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, succeeding E. S. Myers, who has resigned and is leaving the city. Mr. Myers also was electrical engineer of the light and power department and his successor as such will be announced in a few days. The two positions in the future are to be separated, with different heads over each. Mr. Hart has been with the traction company for the past ten or twelve years, and is thoroughly familiar with the duties to which he has been assigned.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS DAYS ARE LONG GONE

Brotherly Love Comes Second to Family Cares, Says Judge.

The thrill which Damon and Pythias gave the world by their steadfast devotion did not move Judge H. W. Kerr in police court, Wednesday morning, when Bride Diffendorfer, 38, charged with child neglect, told how he has nourished his crippled brother.

Diffendorfer contributed but little towards the keeping of his family during the past two months although he has been following the circuit of a threshing ring, near Zanesville. The man explained to Judge Kerr, in city court, that he has been spending his money on his brother, who is an invalid.

"Your family first," said the judge. "Brotherly affection is grand and noble but when a man takes a wife and brings children into the world he pledges himself to give them the first fruits of his effort. Society does not allow a man to devote his family in order to keep a brother."

Diffendorfer told that he had supported his wife and three children when he was employed in Fort Wayne last winter. He agreed to take care of them again. He gave his wife $3 just before his arrest, he told and his wife corroborated the statement. The man will be given until September 12 to display to the court his good intentions in the way of providing for his family.

Bad Fishing Trip.

The fishing trip which Elva Ross and William Moore, both colored, took along the murmuring St. Joe river, Tuesday, had disastrous results. There was a third member of the angling party. He formed another side of the triangle. He talked with Miss Ross while the fish were not biting.

William boldly expressed his disapproval at the marked attention which his friend had given to the crowd forming member of the expedition, when the party had returned to the city and properly disbanded, Tuesday evening. Miss Ross told Moore that she was the only flounder in the sea of human activities.

Moore hit his lady friend right in the eye as the pair stood quarreling at the corner of Gay and Wallace streets, shortly after dark. The woman fell to the street in a heap. An officer ran to the scene and arrested both of the garrulous fishers. Miss Ross and Moore faced charges of disorderly conduct in police court.

"Why did he hit you in the eye?" queried Judge Kerr, after the girl had lifted her drooping hat and displayed what looked like a hot colored hen egg above her right eye.

"That was right where he was looking," when he hit, was the reason, I guess," said the girl.

Both Moore and Miss Ross were fined $20 and costs. They went to jail.

A young man who gave the name of Fred Miller but who police say is William Weber, 2014 Hanna street, was bound to circuit court on a charge of grand larceny. He pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing an automobile tire valued at $5.

The youth removed the new tire from a house owned by Mrs. Frances Malloy, milliner, and which house was closed during the time that it was undergoing repairs, the lad admitted, in court.

Other Police Court Cases.

Mrs. Rosa Roberts, colored, was discharged from a complaint which alleged that she was the mistress of a disorderly house.

William Parks, convicted of loitering, was fined $10 and costs.

Charges of public intoxication were: William Myers, fined $50 and costs; Frank Zuber and George Keller to be tried on September 10; John Kelly, to be tried on Saturday. Frank McConnell and Patrick O'Brien were released.

INDIANA BOYS ARE MOVING

Selected Men from All Parts of State Start for Louisville.

FIRST CONTINGENT ANSWERS ORDERS

Some Counties Permitted to Send Their Full Quotas Forward.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—After having passed last night in charge of the constabulary boards of their respective districts, most of the Indiana men to make the first increment of five per cent. of the first quota, left on early morning trains for Louisville. A large number of the men left on trains that would get them into Louisville at 7:30 a. m.

Some of the district boards, however, adopted the plan of sending 1 per cent. of their first increment each day for five days.

Ten Indiana counties asked, however, if they might not send their complete quotas for the first call of draft men this week.

Permission was granted by the officers at Fort Taylor and the increased numbers from those counties will more than make up for the slow arrival of men from other counties. The names of the counties to send their full quotas at this time were not announced.

In many parts of the state last night, farewell celebrations on a small scale were held for the first men to leave for the national army camp. In some cases the farewells consisted of home cooked meals at churches or schools in the neighborhood.

CAMP TAYLOR READY.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—Every detail was completed today for the reception here at Camp Taylor of the first five percent. of the first increment of the national army drawn from Kentucky, Indiana and a part of Illinois. About 2,100 men are included in this contingent.

Details of officers were at hand at all the depots early in the day to receive the arrivals from nearby points.

At the camp three entrances were provided with the name of each of the states from which the soldiers to be trained here will come, posted above them. At these gates were a waiting escort to guide the men to their quarters.

Beds and bedding were the only equipment awaiting distribution to the men. Other equipments will be issued to each man as he passes the physical examination he will receive at the hands of medical officers at the camp.

WOES OF THE RUSSIAN ARISTOCRACY VOICED

Trial of Former Minister of War Brings Out Some of the Scandals.

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—The testimony of T. Gutchikov, president of the third duma, against Colonel Miaslovlev, former minister of war, and his wife, charged, respectively, with high treason and as an accomplice in the crime, was answered yesterday by M. Soukhomlinoff, who declared that he had no reason to suspect the colonel of being a spy. The former war minister admitted receiving a number of letters reflecting on Miaslovlev, but said that he would have dismissed anybody who was similarly accused.

Mme. Merskovlova, a cousin of Mme. Soukhomlinoff, testified concerning Mme. Soukhomlinoff's unhappy childhood. The father deserted the family, she said, leaving them poor, and Mme. Soukhomlinoff finished off her education with great difficulty. She supported herself and her mother, refusing help from her father. She married a rich house owner and eventually returning to him and living unhappy for some years. The witness recounted how her cousin attempted suicide after her husband had beaten her and that she finally left him, obtained a divorce and married Soukhomlinoff.

The Soukhomlinoffs, according to the witness, lived simply and she added that, although Mme. Soukhomlinoff dressed well and spent much time abroad, she worked hard during the war organizing hospitals and other charities. Mme. Merskovlova also testified concerning her relations with Mme. Chervinskaya, who was a witness earlier in the trial for the prosecution. She said that Mme. Chervinskaya was a relative of her first husband and that he regarded all of his relatives as scoundrels.

The witness said that she lived much abroad with Mme. Chervinskaya, but broke with her because of her relations with Prince Andronikoff.

Prince Andronikoff on being recalled as a witness testified that he wrote to the former Emperor Nicholas early in the war recommending Soukhomlinoff's dismissal. He admitted that he also asked for the dismissal of various other ministers and officials.

The walnut crop of California in 1916 netted $5,882,614.

COUNTRY STORE FOR ELKS' BIG OUTING

"Pic of Picnics" Expected to Solve High Cost of Living.

The Elks who will have the good fortune to attend the Elks' "picnic of picnics" on next Sunday at the Elks' country club, will have the rare pleasure of visiting a real country store amid the rustic surroundings of the beautiful country club. From the left side of the store, of which Frank Studer is sole proprietor, busy clerks can throw their worn out chewing gum plumb into the rippling waters of the St. Joe river. The roof will be the boughs of the beautiful hanging birch, oak and elm trees that abound in the grounds, on which the clerks can hang their aprons and credit slips, while the customers can use the branches for fans while tarrying to be waited upon. The shelving and hooks for the display of wares will be suspended from the south wall of the pavilion. The charm of the store is that cost will not have to enter the customers' calculations. Everything will be free—hams, flour, potatoes, ties, suspenders, rat traps, hats, razors, even a victrola. Men who in the early days learned the general art of wrapping packages and making customers pleased with indifferent service will be there with their old smiles, somewhat faded, but polished up for the occasion to greet their one day customers as they did in the days of yore. Practically all of these would-be clerks lost out in their early days in that particular line because they nearly bankrupted their employers while trying to make change. This more than anything else accounts for the plan of making no charges at the country store. They will only have to collect the thanks and kicks of their Sunday customers. After competitive tests and blacklist letters from former employers, Proprietor Frank Studer selected the following clerks:

Sam Wolf, Peter Deitchel, Wm. F. Ranke, J. Frank Volrol, John Heiny, Henry Higeman, Charles Niezer, Maurice Freiberger, Will Rastetter, Louis Heibroner, John H. Paters, Will Wilson, Gus Basse, Byron Hattley, Will Pottier, G. A. Rabus, William B. Klett, Albert Joyce, Chas. Reuss, Val Ewig, Gene Martin, Ross Lindemuth, Charles Deitz, Martin Morsches, Thomas Lane, Dr. J. E. McArdle and Dr. Edward H. Kruse.

All customers who are not satisfied will be requested to call on Monday to explain time lost and, according to the clerk, will not guarantee that the clerk will be in the state on that day. Through circular letters the Elks have been notified to bring nothing but bread baskets as all store articles must be carried away in their arms.

The company has stood ready to leave within two hours at any time, according to one of the officers of the company and the departure Friday will need little preparation. Inasmuch as the tentage belonging to the company has not and the company has nothing to do before leaving will be the packing of bunks. The members of the local company do not know when they arrive at Fort Harrison whether they will be in the barracks or in camp, but quarters have already been prepared and the local company has nothing to worry about at this respect.

Company B, which received notice several days ago, to be ready to leave on forty-eight hours' notice, has received no further word.

A move was made Wednesday, but it was not a move that brought the members of Company B any nearer the front but a move that took them from their quarters in the Lincoln township school building and took them back to the old quarters at the Concordia college.

BAR ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES REFORMS

Memorial to State and Federal Courts for Shorter Opinions Favored.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The presentation of a memorial to the United States and state courts requesting a conscientious effort at the shortening of opinions, was recommended today by the committee or reports and digests, which reported that the average length of judicial opinions has increased thirty per cent. in the last twenty years.

The report embodied a suggestion that the judicial opinions should not "give the impression of being discoveries by the judges of what they never knew before, but that they should read as if the judge knew the existing state of the decisions and assumed that every one else did, and that it was his business to show the necessary development from established principles and their application to the particular case."

The committee asserted that increasing volume of reported cases is a burden for which some relief must be found.

Other reports offered for action include the endorsement of the contention of the United States that Germany has violated the provisions of international law by its method of warfare and condemnation of socialism.

Democrats Will Conduct Campaign From K. of P. Building.

Democratic headquarters which were opened for the campaign in the coming city election for the first time Tuesday, is regarded as the opening gun of the big political campaign expected to take place this fall. The headquarters of the democratic party are on the first floor of the K. of P. building on West Washington boulevard. Herman Myers, secretary of the city committee, is in charge of the headquarters. The new location will seat about 500 persons and it is the intention of the committee to hold meetings there.

COULD LEAVE IN TWO HOURS

Everything in Readiness for Departure of Company E Friday.

WORD GREETED BY ENTHUSIASM

Patriotic Council Planning Demonstration for Occasion.

After weeks of waiting and expectancy the order to leave for the mobilization camp finally came to the 135 men who comprise Company E, First Indiana infantry, a part of Fort Wayne's contribution to the cause of America in the war, to leave for Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Everything has been in readiness for the removal for days and it was with a mingled feeling of regret at leaving the home town and a feeling of exultation at finally getting into the big work that moved the young men when the order from the captain and Adjutant Nicholai, of the First regiment, was read Wednesday morning. After Captain McAdams had finished reading the order which takes the local boys away from home a big round of cheers rent the room of the library hall where the soldiers have been encamped. The first intimation of the move to the fort was the order to the central department at Chicago, which called for the concentration. It was expected by many that the call for the local company would come Tuesday, but in this they were due for a disappointment, as it was evidently considered more expeditious for the troops to receive notice and transportation at the same time.

The committee on escort of the Allen County Patriotism Council, which has been awaiting the departure of one or either of the local companies for some time, will be in charge of whatever demonstration takes place before the boys leave. President Scheimann, of the council, said that the committee, headed by Charles Nelberger, would have the affair in charge and that it had plans already laid for the celebration. Arrangements have been made with the Red Cross and other organizations to take part in the proceedings and nothing will be overlooked toward giving the young men of the company a suitable send off, according to Mr. Scheimann.

The company has stood ready to leave within two hours at any time, according to one of the officers of the company and the departure Friday will need little preparation. Inasmuch as the tentage belonging to the company has not and the company has nothing to do before leaving will be the packing of bunks. The members of the local company do not know when they arrive at Fort Harrison whether they will be in the barracks or in camp, but quarters have already been prepared and the local company has nothing to worry about at this respect.

Company B, which received notice several days ago, to be ready to leave on forty-eight hours' notice, has received no further word.

A move was made Wednesday, but it was not a move that brought the members of Company B any nearer the front but a move that took them from their quarters in the Lincoln township school building and took them back to the old quarters at the Concordia college.

BAR ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES REFORMS

Memorial to State and Federal Courts for Shorter Opinions Favored.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The presentation of a memorial to the United States and state courts requesting a conscientious effort at the shortening of opinions, was recommended today by the committee or reports and digests, which reported that the average length of judicial opinions has increased thirty per cent. in the last twenty years.

The report embodied a suggestion that the judicial opinions should not "give the impression of being discoveries by the judges of what they never knew before, but that they should read as if the judge knew the existing state of the decisions and assumed that every one else did, and that it was his business to show the necessary development from established principles and their application to the particular case."

The committee asserted that increasing volume of reported cases is a burden for which some relief must be found.

Other reports offered for action include the endorsement of the contention of the United States that Germany has violated the provisions of international law by its method of warfare and condemnation of socialism.

FAREWELL GIVEN TO BOYS OF NEW ARMY

Mass Meeting at Majestic Follows Monster Parade Tuesday Evening.

Fitting tribute was paid to Fort Wayne's contribution to the new national army at a farewell demonstration held Tuesday evening. Hundreds participated in the monster parade that was given in their honor and many thousands were lined along the streets to witness it. Following the parade a mass meeting was held at the Majestic theater, at which time God speed to the new soldiers soon to be engaged in the greatest war in the world's history was extended by a Catholic priest, a Lutheran professor and a Protestant minister.

The parade was marshalled by Major John E. Miller. The men of the new national army were preceded by the patriotic committees and officers, the Elks' band and various military units. All along the way they were greeted with applause. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, gray and bent with the years, who over fifty years ago offered their lives that the union might be preserved, took a prominent part in the parade. They, too, were applauded as they marched.

Throughout the entire evening's demonstration the spirit of solemnity and seriousness was not one of rejoicing. There were many tears in evidence throughout the entire evening.

William H. Scheimann, president of the Fort Wayne Council of Patriotic Service, presided at the meeting at the Majestic. Rev. Father H. Quinlan was the first speaker introduced. Prof. Louis Dorn followed and Rev. Arthur J. Folsom was the third speaker. Farewell words on behalf of Fort Wayne to the young men selected for service in the national army were spoken by Mayor William J. Hosey.

The quartet of the First Presbyterian church, composed of Edith Nickell, soprano; Mrs. W. C. Cleary, contralto; Chester Hosier, tenor; and Ferd Urbahn, bass, with Mrs. Urbahn as accompanist, sang "Come Thou Almighty King" and "The Soldier's Farewell." The meeting adjourned by the entire audience singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

WOMAN AUTO DRIVER TAKES PART IN SMASH

Jacob Shaffer is Hurt When Two Machines Come Together.

Jacob Shaffer, living on rural route No. 5, was injured about the head and his left hip badly bruised shortly after dark Tuesday evening when the automobile in which he was riding took part in a corner crash. He was taken to Hope hospital for temporary treatment. Later he was removed to his home. His condition is not serious.

Maude Shaffer was driving the car in which Jacob Shaffer was an occupant. The woman was uninjured as the oncoming machine struck the side of the car away from the woman pilot. James Palmer, 319 West Pontiac street, was in charge of the other automobile when the two cars came together at the corner of Hoagland avenue and Pontiac street.

Both the woman chauffeur and Palmer made police reports to the effect that the other was speeding.

WIDOW OF MILLIONS WEDS FAMOUS BRITON

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Helen Swift Morris, widow of the late Edward Morris, Chicago packer, was married last night at her home here to Francis Neilson, former liberal member of the British house of commons of the Hyde division of Cheshire, it was announced today. The marriage was precipitated by the departure of Mrs. Neilson's son, Captain Nelson Morris, for a training camp, and was declared to be a surprise even to the immediate members of the family.

Francis Neilson has attained prominence for his espousal of the single tax. He is a great grandson of David Hume, the historian and cousin of Gladstone, the statesman. His home is in Boston.

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $10,000

Three-Day Drive Next Week to Secure Funds for Boy Scouts.

CAPTAINS NAMED FOR TEN TEAMS

Scout Day Will Be Observed in the Churches of the City Sunday.

A three days' campaign to raise $10,000 for the Boy Scouts of Fort Wayne will be conducted in this city Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. This money is to be used in the supervision of the Boy Scouts work here for the next three years.

Prominent citizens of Fort Wayne appreciating the value of the Boy Scouts to a community and the great amount of good that is accomplished not only for the boys themselves but to the public have volunteered their services to assist in the campaign in every possible way.

The campaign is the result of action taken at a recent meeting of the Fort Wayne council, Boy Scouts of America, of which Dr. W. D. Calvin is president, when a request was sent to the national council for the issuance of a first-class charter to take the place of the second-class charter under which the council has been operating. W. H. York, national scout commissioner, is now in the city to conduct the campaign.

Members of the committee appointed to arrange for the raising of the required funds to carry on the work in this city are: Dr. C. J. Rothschild, chairman; Harry G. Hogan, W. N. Ballou, Dr. W. D. Calvin, E. J. Griswold and J. Ross McCulloch. Mr. McCulloch will act as campaign treasurer.

Team Captains.

Harry Hogan, chairman of the committee on teams, has announced the captains of the ten teams who are to raise the money as follows: Team 1, Dr. W. D. Calvin; 2, S. W. Greenland, general manager of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company; 3, A. E. Thomas, attorney; 4, Charles Pask, advertising manager of the Wayne Oil Tank & Pump company; 5, Martin H. Lucke, attorney; 6, Robert Koerber, of Trenkley & Koerber's Jewelry company and president of the Rotary club; 7, Stephen A. Callahan, attorney; 8, Ernest A. Crane, district manager of the Northwestern Life insurance company; 9, J. Wade Bailey, manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine company; 10, E. A. Wagner, of the General Electric company.

Mr. York has just completed a campaign at Terre Haute, where $10,000 was raised within the specified three days. Every community is appreciating more and more the value of a Boy Scout organization upon which greater demands are being made every year. It is the hope of the local council to open a permanent office and place in charge a registered scout executive, who will supervise and promote the work, devoting his entire time to it. He will be in touch at all times with the various troops and when calls are made for scouts he will be able to get into communication with them at once. In this way the work is centralized and much better results can be obtained. Besides, it will be possible to keep the boys interested, while under the present method this has been one of the big and perplexing problems in connection with the Boy Scout movement in this city.

On Friday night a union scout rally will be held under the direct supervision of Commissioner L. O. Wetzel and Deputy Commissioner C. J. Hutchinson and on Saturday a field meet will be observed in practically all the churches next Sunday and on Monday a dinner will be served to the members of the various teams. The actual work of the campaign will start on Tuesday and continue for three days. Headquarters have been established at the Commercial club.

There are fifteen Boy Scout troops in Fort Wayne at the present time, with a total membership of 650. Under the new system Mr. York predicts that within one year there will be 1,200 scouts and within two years, 1,500.

MORE MEN WANTED FOR HOSPITAL UNIT

Pay for Private in Red Cross Company Equals Corporal in Ranks.

The local Red Cross hospital unit has been authorized to enlist twenty-five more orderlies, whose pay will be the same as that of a corporal in the ranks of the regular army. Men who join this organization will be exempted from draft. They will remain in Fort Wayne until called out for regular service.

The medical enlisted reserve corps offers a very desirable line of service with a scope of varied activities. The unit "M," recruiting for Fort Wayne is made up of twelve physicians, twenty nurses and fifty orderlies.

Young men who desire to learn more of the hospital company will call upon Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, at his office, 1920 Harrison street.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is swollen and the inflamed membrane is thickened and stiffened. This prevents the tube from opening and the air cannot reach the middle ear. The result is deafness. Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CROWLEY & CO., Toledo, O.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT UKRAINIAN PERIL; RUSSIA ISN'T FALLING TO SMITHEREENS, SAYS RUSSELL

Disregard the Flood of Gloom That is Poured Out by the Dismal Dopers, Says Returned Observer; for Everything in Russia is Growing Slowly But Surely Better.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Russia is the Land of Horrible Things to Be.

No matter how carelessly you may read your newspaper you must have noticed that fact.

In Russia, according to some newspapers, everything is always going to the bad.

One day hideous anarchy rears its appalling head; the next day the troops are about to revolt. The next day Riga is about to fall. The next Petrograd is about to be evacuated. Finland is about to revolt. The Russian army is about to flee in disorder.

All is lost, always. There isn't a ray of hope.

If you were to turn back to the files and reread the dispatches of some correspondents you would see that since the day of the revolution every stricken thing has been sadder in gloom of which the best that could be said was that the condition today was not quite so bad as it would be tomorrow.

Nothing good has happened since the czar got the swift kick. Apparently heaven is avenging that act of haply by plunging the country every day into a lower abyss or ruin.

Disaffection is spreading rapidly among the soldiers. The duma, "the only constitutional body in the country," has ceased to exercise any power, and that means black despair. Kerensky has been made dictator, but no one will allow him to dictate, so there is no hope there. The warring factions in Russia are terrible. They even have disputes. The conservative element are being overwhelmed by the ferocious radicals, who plan to eat everybody alive. The country is hopelessly bankrupt; the rouble went down another eighth of a cent yesterday and of course that means the collapse of Russia tomorrow. The anarchists have seized a palace today and tomorrow will blow up everybody. All is lost.

And then there are the Ukrainians. Ah, yes! The Ukrainians. Well, if there were nothing else to tinge all the horizon with funeral black, the Ukrainians would still be sufficient for the job. The Ukrainians are terrible fellows. They have revolted and declared their independence, or if they haven't today they will tomorrow. Then they will march upon Petrograd and murder us all in our beds, and how will you feel then, you people that have been saying perhaps there is still a chance on earth? When the Ukrainians have killed everybody they will make an alliance with Germany and the German flag will float over our graves. And I guess that will hold you for awhile.

For more than five months this flood of gloom has been poured over the columns of British and American newspapers, and the dismal dopers are still at it day by day, totally undiscouraged by the fact that not one of their melancholy prophecies has ever come true.

For the amazing fact is that while all these Jeremiah-like woe-stricken columns at the approach of disaster, Russia goes its way utterly unaware that it is all smashed up or about to be.

Instead of getting worse, everything in Russia gets slowly, but surely, better.

The shock, incident to a tremendous change in government is passing, the people are finding themselves and perceiving what they must do to save the revolution, discipline is coming back to the army, the dreams of an instant Utopia are giving place to realities, the new machine is beginning to work.

But I suppose that if the Angel Gabriel came down and set up in Russia the most perfect government ever known, the Dismal Dopers of the British press (from whom we get the greater part of our misinformation) would still see Riga surrendered, the anarchists cutting throats and the Ukrainians marching upon us to murder us in our beds.

I think it is about time to call off some of the Amalgamated Sons of Woe and afford them much needed rest.

They all begin with one fundamental error and then build resolutely on that, making the facts fit their theory.

The error is that the Russians are totally unfit for self-government. Why? Because they have never had any experience or training, because this National Council of Workmen, Soldiers' and Peasants' Delegates (the only governing body in Russia) is composed of low, common, ignorant men, and because they don't speak the English language.

No people can be considered fit to be free except those that speak English or something like it.

But as a matter of fact, these men that are steering Russia, have had abundant experience, and however strange they may seem to us in language and methods, they are not at all ignorant.

In the midst of the old autocratic national government of Russia, the worst, the most corrupt and the most oppressive known to man, the Russian village system presented an example of almost pure democracy.

Everything about the affairs of the village, except its relations to the national government and the administration of the national systems of police and justice, was regulated by the village in open town meeting.

Outside of the New England town, we have nothing in this country that equals it for democracy.

It was in those little village republics that these men were trained in the rudiments of democracy, public affairs, democratic machinery. There they learned to make effective public addresses, to conduct legislative business, to judge proposals about public interests.

For the last forty or fifty years the villages have been electing delegates to district assemblies where the concerns of larger areas were dealt with and have thus had training in representative government and a broader outlook.

It is no wonder, then, that men like Tschaidse and Teerattell, Skoboloff and Tschernow, know exactly how to preside over the council, how to carry on its business with accuracy and dispatch. They have been doing something of the kind (whenever they were not in prison or exile) for many years.

The Dismal Dopers never saw a meeting of the National council. That is why they are able to proceed with their theory that it is composed of very ignorant and untrained men and everything it does must somehow be bad.

But even if they had the least basis for their mournful dreams, which they haven't, this would be a mighty bad time to be spreading them and exaggerating them.

Because whenever they do that they are playing straight into the hands of the wonderful German propaganda, now putting forth every effort to fool the allied countries into a truce misnamed a peace. Therefore I think that next trip I had better tell you some of the inside wonders of the great German public opinion machine as I saw it at its work in Russia.

Eighty Years Young - - Physician Says Nuxated Iron Did It

How Would You Like to Feel Like a Boy Again, Full of Energy, Vim and Vigor, With a Strong, Elastic, Forceful Step, Instead of That Nervous, Shambling Gait?

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down Folks 100 Percent in Two Weeks' Time.

PUT ME AMONGST THE GIRLS

And Boys—I'll be Gol darned if that there Nuxated Iron hasn't made me feel like a boy again; full of vim and vigor—it certainly has the "kick" in it.

Henceforth I shall not be without it. I am in a position to testify for the advantage of others, to the remarkable and immediate helpfulness of this remedy, and I unhesitatingly recommend Nuxated Iron to all who feel the need of renewed energy and the regularity of bodily functions.

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty, and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 40 he was a nervous wreck; and nearly all-in at 50, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth.

If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart troubles, and other dangerous maladies. Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron which has been used by Dr. Sauer and others with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach; on the contrary it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man, woman or child who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or more in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Advertising in The Sentinel Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. Advertisement.

SACRIFICE OF WOMAN IN WORLD WAR

MRS. D. F. BUSH.

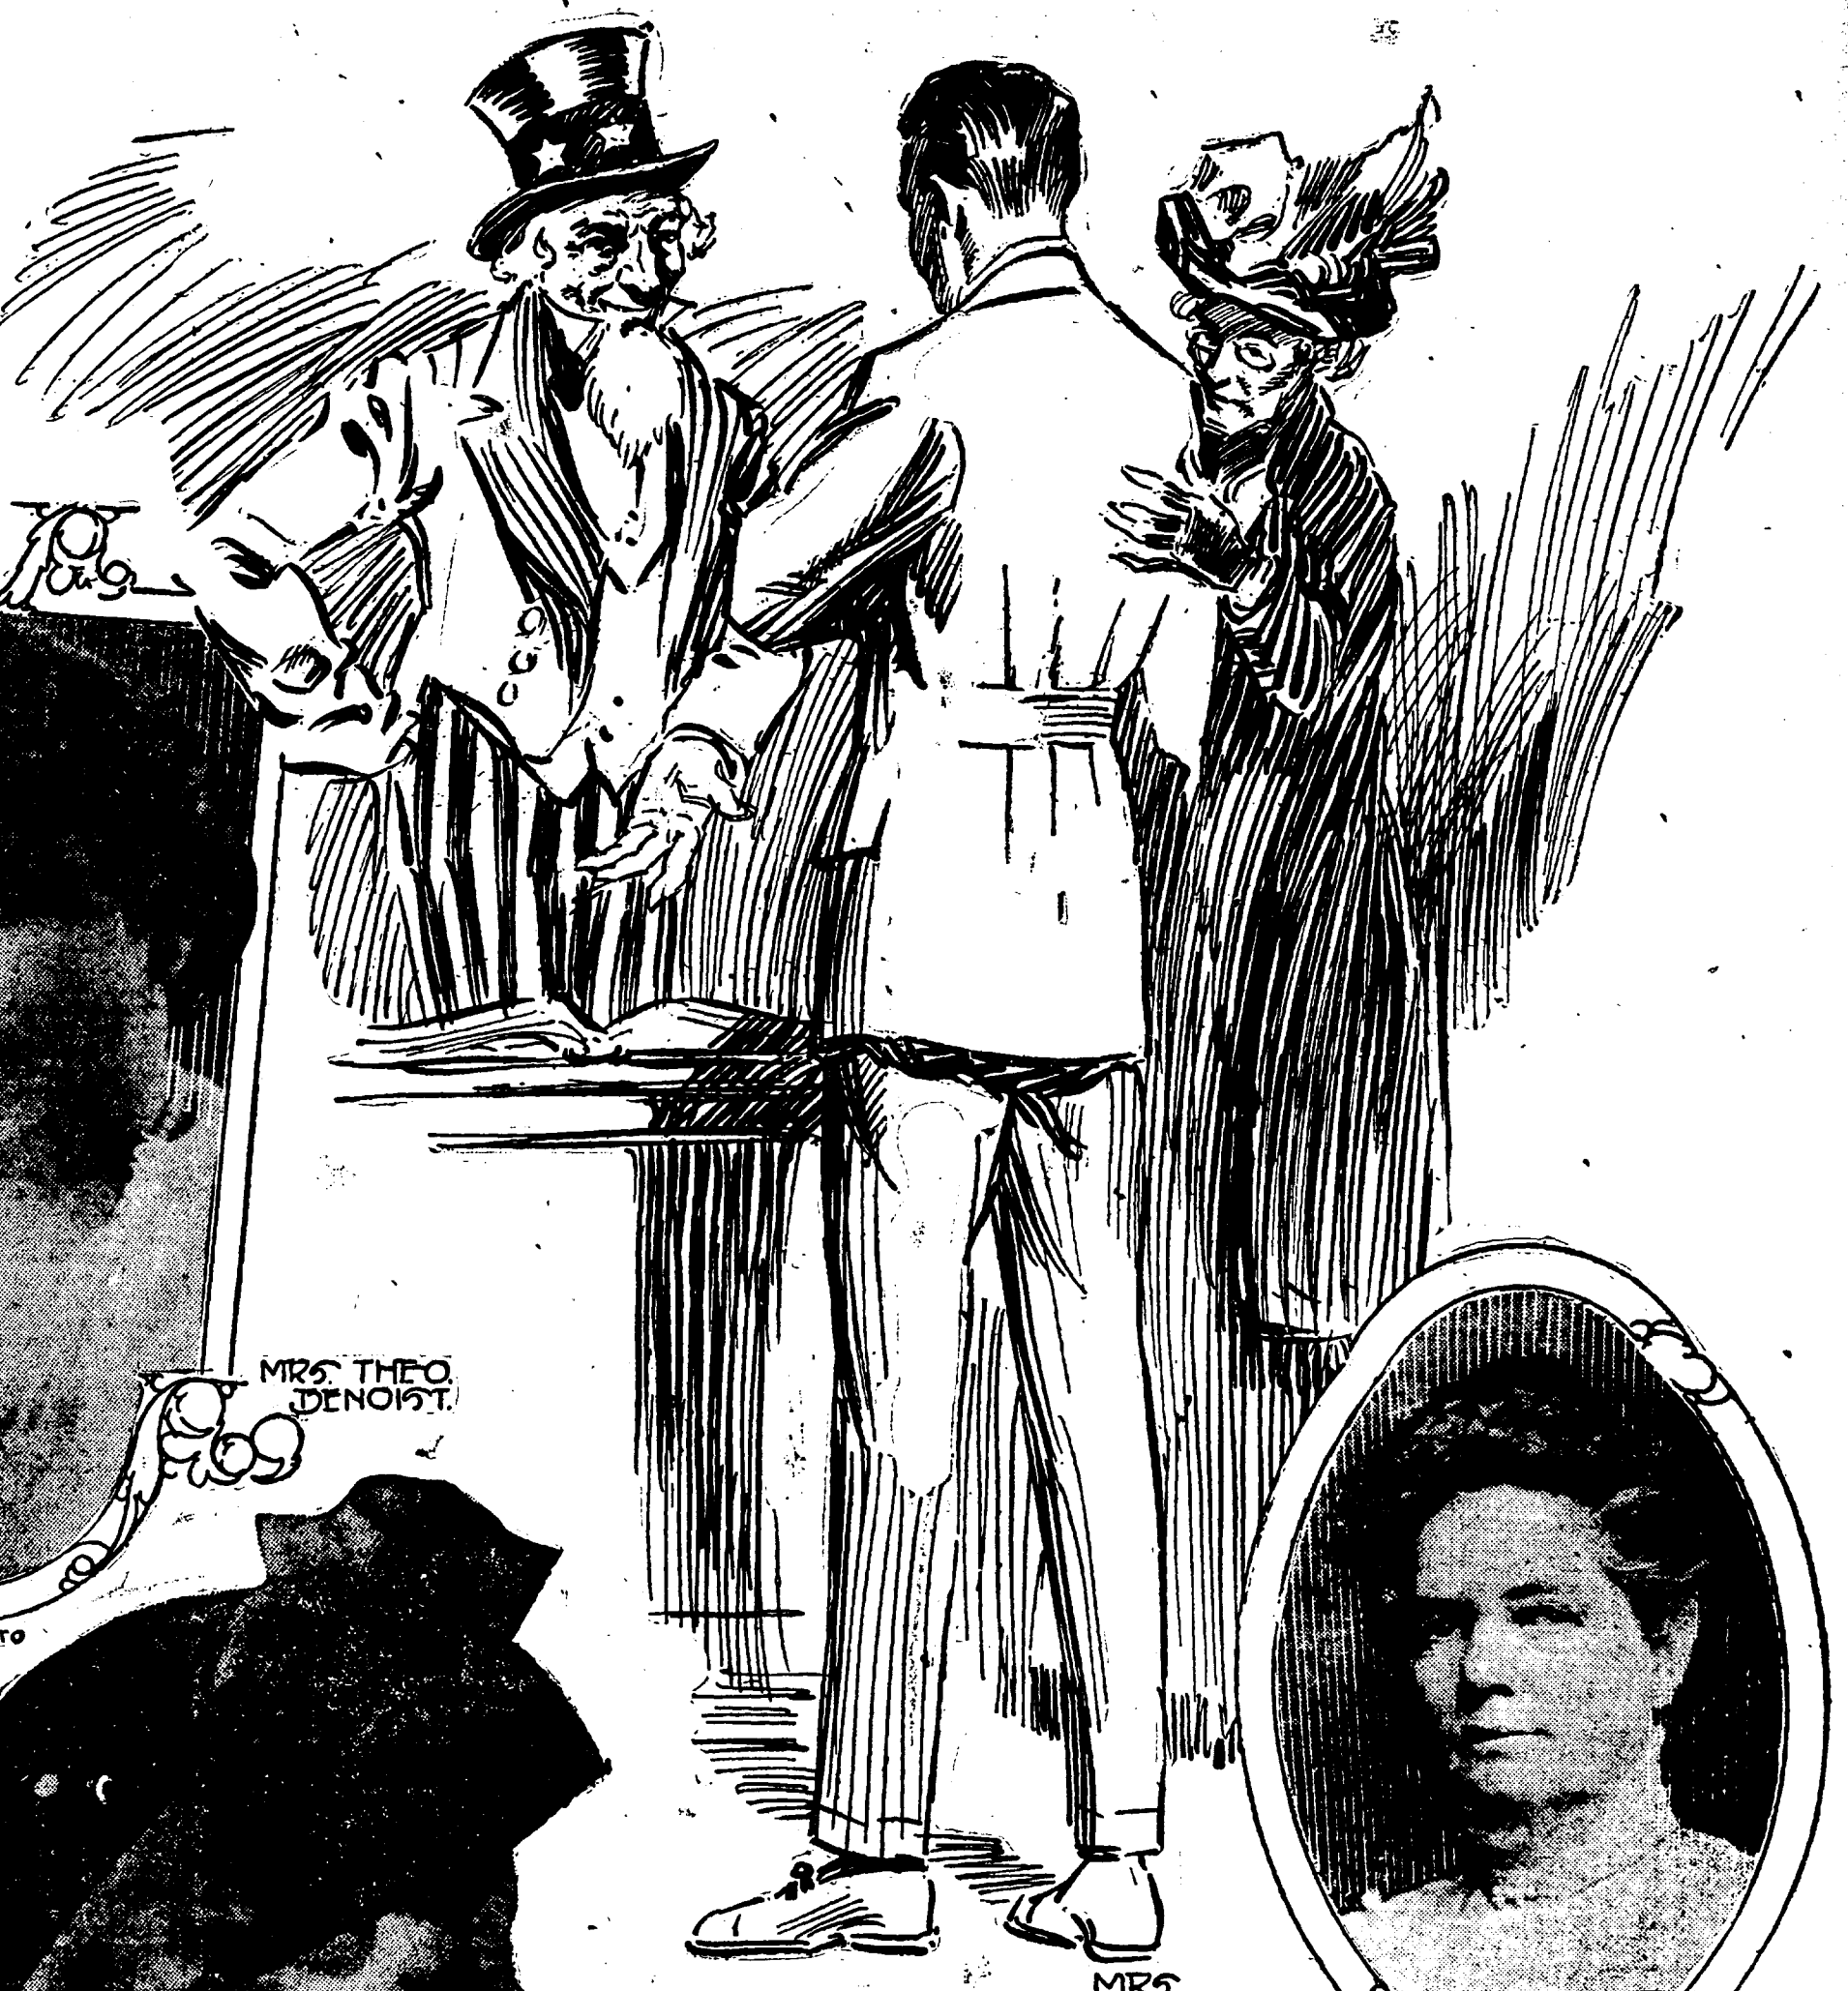

MRS. THEO. BENOIST.

MRS. FRANK V. HAMMAR.

MRS. W. R. CHIVVIS.

MRS. PHILIP N. MOORE.

Greatest Service She Can Give Her Country, Leaders in "War" Organizations Agree, Is to Offer Her Son—Care in Utilizing the Resources of the Country in the Home—Red Cross Work.

Mary Roberts Rinehart.
WOMAN has been an important factor in the wars of the world, sacrificing more and gaining less, probably, than her mate. For all time the first sharp terrors of fighting to come have been felt in the hearts of the gentler sex. She it is who thinks first of the sacrifice and then of the glory. Man's first thought is of glory, the idea of sacrifice creeping into his mind only as actual battle comes near.

Woman has much at stake and little of the action that buoy the fighting man through the suffering and terrors of the campaign. The woman must offer her husband and sons and then wait.

Never, however, has she failed in the emergency to do what she can for her country, and the mysterious force she wields far back of the fighting line has done much to make victory possible or lend solace to defeat.

All over America in the present war women are organizing and planning for war, and hundreds of organizations are being formed. The eternal question always is upmost in the minds of the women of the country, "How best can a woman assist her country in time of war?"

Prominent members of various women's "war" organizations have been called on to answer the question, among them being the following:
Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the National Council of Women.
Mrs. B. F. Bush, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the Women's Council for National Defense.
Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Red Cross, and member of the National Women's Committee.
Mrs. George Gellhorn, chairman of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation.
Mrs. Theodore Benoit, president of the Catholic Women's League.

By Mrs. Theodore Benoit.
The question of "How a woman can best assist her country at war" is such a big one. First, last, and all the time, by giving. Giving her husband, her sweatheart, her sons. By giving, I mean to give freely—I would almost say, gladly. What greater privilege can a woman have than giving a man to her country, and if that woman is the mother of sons, and they volunteer and are accepted, she should thank God every day of her life that she is supplying the bone and sinew and good red blood to bring this horrible war to a successful issue; and, after she has given her sons with a smile on her lips (and may be black fear at her heart) for the boys mustn't think "mother" is a "quitter," then let her work.

Let her conserve the food, keep the home, work for the Red Cross, knit for the navy, and in camp relief work, and above all, be courageous, encourage others and keep on smiling.
A brave heart conquers all things.

By Mrs. B. F. Bush.
THE greatest thing a woman can do to assist her country in war is to do the thing she can do best, and every woman will be given an opportunity to say what she can do.

Her biggest sacrifice, of course, will be the giving of her sons. But one of the vitally important things the war has brought up to her is the abolishment of all waste.

In the business world, no matter how big or wealthy the corporation, wastefulness is not permitted. The efficiency expert is an accepted institution. This same spirit should now be carried into the household work.

Discipline and guiding intelligence should prevail in the kitchen and pantry just as it does in the workshop and office.
Industry for some time now has been warned that it must get itself upon the most efficient basis successfully to meet the economic struggle that it is predicted will follow the end of the war. Should not then the women play their part by getting the homemaking industry of the country upon the same basis of efficiency?

By Mrs. W. R. Chivvis.
A WOMAN can best assist her country in war by preventing waste and being ready for any emergency.
To be ready for any emergency she must prepare herself for service—not necessarily military service, for I believe women have a greater work in war—service at home. She no doubt will be called upon to do work of men at the front and it will be her opportunity to assist in winning the war.

By Mrs. Philip N. Moore.
HOW can a woman best assist her country at war?
That is the question we are now trying to determine by means of registration of women.
First women must mobilize. Their effort must be organized. We are enrolling 7,000,000 women as an arm of the country's resources. We are asking women who register "What work do you prefer? What work are you trained to do? Will your services be voluntary?" In asking the last question we recognize that many women are not in a position to serve without pay.
There are eight branches of service in which women may employ themselves. They are:
That which concerns occupations of men called to war.
Service in the Red Cross hospitals, in the field or in local organizations.
Food conservation and elimination of waste.
Motor service, open to candidates with a knowledge of operating an automobile.
Instruction—Teaching Americanism and loyalty.
Industrial Service—in munition plants, factories, etc.
Social and Welfare Service—Taking care of soldiers' dependents.
Office Service—For stenographers and clerks.

By Mrs. Frank V. Hammar.
IT should be impressed upon the women that they are mobilized for service and mobilization means organization. We must get ready to care for the million men we are soon to have in France, and their dependents at home. And this work gives the women their greatest opportunity to assist their country.
Every citizen, women as well as men, should become a member of the Red Cross. He should live up to the slogan, "If You Can't Go, Give."
The Red Cross is the only relief agency authorized by the United States Government. Next to the fighting forces, its part in war is most important. Women who volunteer their services to the Red Cross should realize that this volunteer service must be standardized and organized, and every woman is expected to volunteer for Red Cross work.
We now have 120 organizations represented at Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis. The women report at the workrooms on appointed days and are expected to be on time so that no moment is lost.
In this branch of the work the women make the hospital supplies. To them will fall the task of supplying the base hospitals with bandages and all necessary surgical supplies. There is a threatened shortage of gauze, which can be alleviated by the manufacture of surgical sponges knitted from cotton.

By Mrs. George Gellhorn.
HOW a woman may best assist her country in war? This is the question that confronts almost every woman of the world today. It means the possibility of universal service for women, and many and inspiring are the answers it has brought forth, from the heights of the woman who flies above the earth to the depths of the woman who dives beneath it, many are the paths by which loyal women have traveled to give their all to their country.
After Mr. Vrooman's visit to St. Louis on April 18, many women realized that through conservation of the food supply practically every woman could "do her bit," no matter how many other large slices she might already be responsible for.
The call came from Washington "conserve the food," and the men and women of St. Louis answered without a moment's hesitation, "we will." I say the men, because they have stood back of the women's efforts in an inspiring way, and have co-operated in every direction, giving whatever they have been asked to give: money, supplies, advice, office space, school buildings, time, or whatever else was wanted.
As to the women, they knew that conservation of food lay within their power and the enthusiasm with which the problem has been met would lead us to believe that great results will be proof of their loyalty.
The household waste of our country has been stated as exceeding $700,000,000 annually. The women of St. Louis organized under the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation to do their part in reducing this to a negligible amount.
Here are some results of effort which speak for themselves:
The Finance Committee of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation has exceeded by $2000, the sum it originally expected to raise. Its work is not done, because the enormous scope that has opened for the work makes larger funds necessary.

The Committee on Education after conducting the very first normal school on food conservation in the world, has been operating fifty-one schools on the same plan, covering every ward of the city. Under this same committee, the speaker's bureau has filled ninety-two meetings specially arranged for food conservation propaganda throughout St. Louis and the county. It is running an information bureau, has distributed 150,000 pieces of food conservation literature, published a book of "Notes from Lectures on Food Conservation," has a department of dietetics, which provides menus that fulfill the needs of the human body and conform to various incomes, and also prepares conservation menus for clubs, restaurants and hotels.
Under the Department of Education there have been meetings with dairymen, bakers, millers, grocers and handlers of produce to discuss the problem of commercial waste and its elimination.
The department of legislative regulation has had an interesting time mothering various bills before our Board of Aldermen such as the garbage plant bill.
Through co-operation with other organizations our committee has seen to a happy conclusion the bill permitting the sellers of truck garden produce to stand in designated places throughout the city. A cold storage bill, some means of preventing the enormous waste through souring of milk in transportation, and all other food measures are carefully taken under advisement by our Legislative Committee and either advocated or discountenanced at the public hearings in the City Hall.
Federal legislation is watched with the keenest interest and what little we may do to bring pressure to bear through influencing our representatives in Washington is under the charge of this responsible and efficient committee.
Under the fourth division of our work we co-operated with the Thrift Garden Committee of the Women's Council, in encouraging production and through the courtesy of the Missouri Botanical Garden whatever we have done in gardening, has been supervised by experts. He who runs must see the enormous increase in planting within the city, and most of it is producing fine results.
We have 1800 women working on various committees. The attendance of our fifty-one conservation schools has been conservatively estimated at between 4000 and 5000, we shall have the exact figures within the month.

HOW a woman may best assist her country in war? This is the question that confronts almost every woman of the world today. It means the possibility of universal service for women, and many and inspiring are the answers it has brought forth, from the heights of the woman who flies above the earth to the depths of the woman who dives beneath it, many are the paths by which loyal women have traveled to give their all to their country.
After Mr. Vrooman's visit to St. Louis on April 18, many women realized that through conservation of the food supply practically every woman could "do her bit," no matter how many other large slices she might already be responsible for.
The call came from Washington "conserve the food," and the men and women of St. Louis answered without a moment's hesitation, "we will." I say the men, because they have stood back of the women's efforts in an inspiring way, and have co-operated in every direction, giving whatever they have been asked to give: money, supplies, advice, office space, school buildings, time, or whatever else was wanted.
As to the women, they knew that conservation of food lay within their power and the enthusiasm with which the problem has been met would lead us to believe that great results will be proof of their loyalty.
The household waste of our country has been stated as exceeding $700,000,000 annually. The women of St. Louis organized under the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation to do their part in reducing this to a negligible amount.
Here are some results of effort which speak for themselves:
The Finance Committee of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation has exceeded by $2000, the sum it originally expected to raise. Its work is not done, because the enormous scope that has opened for the work makes larger funds necessary.

The Committee on Education after conducting the very first normal school on food conservation in the world, has been operating fifty-one schools on the same plan, covering every ward of the city. Under this same committee, the speaker's bureau has filled ninety-two meetings specially arranged for food conservation propaganda throughout St. Louis and the county. It is running an information bureau, has distributed 150,000 pieces of food conservation literature, published a book of "Notes from Lectures on Food Conservation," has a department of dietetics, which provides menus that fulfill the needs of the human body and conform to various incomes, and also prepares conservation menus for clubs, restaurants and hotels.
Under the Department of Education there have been meetings with dairymen, bakers, millers, grocers and handlers of produce to discuss the problem of commercial waste and its elimination.
The department of legislative regulation has had an interesting time mothering various bills before our Board of Aldermen such as the garbage plant bill.
Through co-operation with other organizations our committee has seen to a happy conclusion the bill permitting the sellers of truck garden produce to stand in designated places throughout the city. A cold storage bill, some means of preventing the enormous waste through souring of milk in transportation, and all other food measures are carefully taken under advisement by our Legislative Committee and either advocated or discountenanced at the public hearings in the City Hall.
Federal legislation is watched with the keenest interest and what little we may do to bring pressure to bear through influencing our representatives in Washington is under the charge of this responsible and efficient committee.
Under the fourth division of our work we co-operated with the Thrift Garden Committee of the Women's Council, in encouraging production and through the courtesy of the Missouri Botanical Garden whatever we have done in gardening, has been supervised by experts. He who runs must see the enormous increase in planting within the city, and most of it is producing fine results.
We have 1800 women working on various committees. The attendance of our fifty-one conservation schools has been conservatively estimated at between 4000 and 5000, we shall have the exact figures within the month.

By Mrs. Theodore Benoit.
The question of "How a woman can best assist her country at war" is such a big one. First, last, and all the time, by giving. Giving her husband, her sweatheart, her sons. By giving, I mean to give freely—I would almost say, gladly. What greater privilege can a woman have than giving a man to her country, and if that woman is the mother of sons, and they volunteer and are accepted, she should thank God every day of her life that she is supplying the bone and sinew and good red blood to bring this horrible war to a successful issue; and, after she has given her sons with a smile on her lips (and may be black fear at her heart) for the boys mustn't think "mother" is a "quitter," then let her work.

Let her conserve the food, keep the home, work for the Red Cross, knit for the navy, and in camp relief work, and above all, be courageous, encourage others and keep on smiling.
A brave heart conquers all things.

By Mrs. B. F. Bush.
THE greatest thing a woman can do to assist her country in war is to do the thing she can do best, and every woman will be given an opportunity to say what she can do.
Her biggest sacrifice, of course, will be the giving of her sons. But one of the vitally important things the war has brought up to her is the abolishment of all waste.
In the business world, no matter how big or wealthy the corporation, wastefulness is not permitted. The efficiency expert is an accepted institution. This same spirit should now be carried into the household work.
Discipline and guiding intelligence should prevail in the kitchen and pantry just as it does in the workshop and office.
Industry for some time now has been warned that it must get itself upon the most efficient basis successfully to meet the economic struggle that it is predicted will follow the end of the war. Should not then the women play their part by getting the homemaking industry of the country upon the same basis of efficiency?

By Mrs. W. R. Chivvis.
A WOMAN can best assist her country in war by preventing waste and being ready for any emergency.
To be ready for any emergency she must prepare herself for service—not necessarily military service, for I believe women have a greater work in war—service at home. She no doubt will be called upon to do work of men at the front and it will be her opportunity to assist in winning the war.
The greatest thing a mother can do to help her country now is to give her sons. This is the greatest of all sacrifices—mothers always suffer most in war. I have sent to 20,000 members of the

By Mrs. Philip N. Moore.
HOW can a woman best assist her country at war?
That is the question we are now trying to determine by means of registration of women.
First women must mobilize. Their effort must be organized. We are enrolling 7,000,000 women as an arm of the country's resources. We are asking women who register "What work do you prefer? What work are you trained to do? Will your services be voluntary?" In asking the last question we recognize that many women are not in a position to serve without pay.
There are eight branches of service in which women may employ themselves. They are:
That which concerns occupations of men called to war.
Service in the Red Cross hospitals, in the field or in local organizations.
Food conservation and elimination of waste.
Motor service, open to candidates with a knowledge of operating an automobile.
Instruction—Teaching Americanism and loyalty.
Industrial Service—in munition plants, factories, etc.
Social and Welfare Service—Taking care of soldiers' dependents.
Office Service—For stenographers and clerks.

By Mrs. Frank V. Hammar.
IT should be impressed upon the women that they are mobilized for service and mobilization means organization. We must get ready to care for the million men we are soon to have in France, and their dependents at home. And this work gives the women their greatest opportunity to assist their country.
Every citizen, women as well as men, should become a member of the Red Cross. He should live up to the slogan, "If You Can't Go, Give."
The Red Cross is the only relief agency authorized by the United States Government. Next to the fighting forces, its part in war is most important. Women who volunteer their services to the Red Cross should realize that this volunteer service must be standardized and organized, and every woman is expected to volunteer for Red Cross work.
We now have 120 organizations represented at Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis. The women report at the workrooms on appointed days and are expected to be on time so that no moment is lost.
In this branch of the work the women make the hospital supplies. To them will fall the task of supplying the base hospitals with bandages and all necessary surgical supplies. There is a threatened shortage of gauze, which can be alleviated by the manufacture of surgical sponges knitted from cotton.

TOO MUCH MOTHER- IN-LAW SAYS HUBBY

And Worst Part of It, Theodore Ebert Says His Wife Agreed With Her.

Charging his mother-in-law with being the kind one hears so much about, Theodore Ebert filed suit in the superior court Wednesday asking for a divorce from Anna Ebert. However, all mother-in-laws are not like the one Ebert says he has, and it may be that even this one may not subscribe to all that Ebert says about her.

But nevertheless Ebert alleges his matrimonial experience has been everything but congenial. He says they were married on January 29, 1904, and separated in July, 1917. They have one child, Ida, ten years old. The husband says that they have been living with his wife's mother and that she defiantly refused to leave her and live in a home of their own.

Now this would not be so bad, but the affidavit makes it seem as if the mother-in-law is not the kind one hears so much about. Ebert says he has been living with his wife's mother and that she defiantly refused to leave her and live in a home of their own.

CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Are Issued to Thirty-one Men and Two Women.

Citizenship papers were given to thirty-one men and two women, probably the first women ever naturalized in Fort Wayne, following hearings in the court at the circuit court Tuesday before Judge J. W. Eggenman.

Miss Mary Noonan and Miss Mary Gertrude O'Dowd, both native of Ireland, had their petitions for citizenship heard. This has become possible in Indiana only since the passage of the woman's suffrage law at the last session of the Legislature. Others who became citizens were: Alfred Riffenberger, Dennis J. Greaney, Leslie Staples Tucker, Thomas Durnell, John Zekki, Frank Zimowski, Nicola Stajnowski, Adam Wisniewski, James Tryballe, Rudolph Humble, Harry Komisarow, Jacob Klein, Eugene Barry, Thomas G. Moorehead, John Daley, Constantine Convoles, Fabid Mastood, George Henry Butler, Wladyslaw Mazenarski, Ben Mautner, George Lazar, Harry Grosvenor, David Oestlin, Henry Badell, James McNaughton, Jacob Hauschild, Oscar Kunz, Reinhold Volk, Anthony Chochi and Philip Wager. Three were denied citizenship because of failure to take proper steps.

No German subjects appeared for naturalization with their petitions, and Judge Eggenman made the following announcement:

"The court, however, announces that if any applicant who was born in Germany decides to obtain appellation construction, decision would be made upon each petition separately."

"The United States statute of July 30, 1914, amending the act of April 14, 1902, known as section 2157 United States revised statute, provides that no alien who is a native citizen or subject or denizen of any country, state or sovereignty with which the United States is at war at the time of his application shall be then admitted to become a citizen of the United States."

"On June 1, this statute appears quite plain. It so happens that on the 6th day of April the congress of the United States passed a resolution declaring that a state of war existed between the United States and the imperial government of Germany and the government upon the authority of this resolution declared that the sum of certificates of naturalization to any petitioner born in Germany."

"The question arises, what is meant by the language, 'with which the United States is at war' etc. On one hand it may be alleged that at the time of his application refers to the time of filing the formal written petition and the decision of the court. On the other hand it may be alleged that the word 'application' means at the time of the hearing. When the law was originally passed 115 years ago it was the practice that the application was filed and the hearing held immediately. In the present law it is provided that ninety days must elapse between the time of filing the petition and the hearing of the same. So we have this situation: 'That, when this law was passed in 1902 the term 'application' as then used referred to the manner of proceeding. That law remained in force and now remains in force in 1917, the present naturalization law providing for the present routine of proceedings was passed and for the first time introduced the requirement of the filing by the applicant to procure naturalization. The court came to the conclusion that the statute means the same thing today as it did at the time it was passed in 1902 and is fortified by three or four decisions made by district federal courts. Therefore, the course which the court must pursue in respect to any petitions filed by German-born subjects, and any other petitions that may come before it for hearing during the time of the present war between this country and Germany, the hearing thereof must be postponed until peace has been declared."

"It is needless to add that the interpretation of the statute cannot be made to depend upon considerations of equity or hardship respecting individual applicants. The statute has been the law of the land since 1902 and must be followed with respect to the application of any aliens with whom we are engaged at war."

"It was ordered that no action be taken at this time upon the petitions filed by persons born in Germany, but that the same be continued and held in abeyance pending the final termination of the war between the United States and Germany, or affirmative relief granted by the congress."

AIR OFFENSIVE OF KAISER HAS LEAD HIS FOES

ately 1 a. m. forty bombs were dropped. The total casualties reported up to this time are: Killed, 9; injured, 40. The material damage is not extensive.

"One enemy machine is reported to have been brought down in the sea off Sherness."

The first moonlight air raid over the London district occurred about midnight last night. The raid resulted in the dropping of bombs, but the full extent of the damage is yet unknown.

One bomb fell just outside a hospital, another smashed through a theater, and still another hit a retail store in which a number of girls were sleeping. Notwithstanding the moonlight raid, nothing could be seen of the raiders, although their engines could be heard overhead. That they were invisible was perhaps due to a slight haze which, however, was insufficient to obscure the moon. The raiders were constantly shelled by anti-aircraft guns and several British machines took the air to attack the invaders.

The street was practically deserted at the time of the raid, it being long after theater hours. The few late street cars that were running either put out their lights or stopped. A message from a southeastern district says that apparently the raiders were in three or four small, separate groups and that they were all heavily shelled.

Discipline prevailed completely over any natural tendency to alarm in the barracks. All survivors were at their posts instantly and the greatest coolness was shown.

One Man's Story.

A naval man who was in the barracks at the time gave this account of the raid:

"Most of us were asleep in our hammocks in the dormitory which was in the large drill hall. We had no warning of any kind. Two clocks which were blown into the adjoining parade grounds, stopped at 11:12 o'clock, showing the hour of the explosions. I have been in some scrapes but I did not dream that anything so sudden could happen. Before we knew what was happening the roof was lifted off the barracks and fell in a thousand places among the men. It was flying glass which was thick and heavy that did the damage. We were dashed out of our hammocks to the floor and all mixed up in broken glass. The men on either side of me were both killed and I did not know where to go. I was working with us the whole night getting the wounded to hospitals and the bodies to the gymnasium which was used as a morgue."

A man sleeping in a different section of the dormitory said that he did not wait to put on his shirt and did not know that he was walking on broken glass until long afterward when he found that his feet were bleeding.

Ignorant of Hurts.

Still another man with a piece of glass in his head did not know it, the shock of the explosion being so great and a man who was blown across the parade ground and who alighted on his feet declared that he did not feel any the worse for his experience.

Some of the injured men died during the night and the survivors complain bitterly about their companions being killed without an opportunity to strike back.

"If we have to die we want to die fighting," one blue jacket said. "Most of us have seen fighting and we want another go at the Hunner."

A remarkable feature of the raid was that a comparatively few people in the bombed area were aware that there had been an attack until they awoke the following morning. One bomb struck a small cottage, one of the tenant and his daughter who were in the garden to see what was happening escaped injury, but the wife remained in the house and was killed.

SUBMARINES BOMBARD TOWN.

London, Sept. 5.—Scarborough, on the English coast, was bombarded last night by a hostile submarine. It was officially announced today. About half the shells of the thirty rounds fired from the under sea boat landed, three persons being killed and five injured, but little material damage being caused.

biter of the peace terms and will accept any conditions that we would prescribe rather than continue a struggle where the cordons of the nations of the world are so tightened about her as would surely bring her to where she would have to take any terms the revenging allies will force upon her.

"The German people know that within the spirit of our institutions and under the motive that led us into this war, she need not feel vindictive exclusion of her people from the world's highway of trade."

"Woodrow Wilson has given Germany her choice. She will not lose her opportunity."

Senator Lewis said the issue had become a contest as to who should be king of the radicals, Senator Johnson, of California, the fiery Riend, of the Pacific, or Senator LaFollette, the avenging Gracchus of the west."

ITALIAN ARMY HAS SEIZED IMPORTANT ENEMY STRONGHOLD

The Italians discovered the entire equipment of an Austrian staff brigade. The extraordinary variety of objects testified to the haste of the retreat. It included electric lights, official documents, toilet articles, kitchen utensils, ventilators and even love letters. Ravenna was the Austrian center of supplies for engineer troops and nearby were found stores of picks, shovels, hoes and wire cutters, entire outfits of electric equipment, miles of steel rails and an innumerable number of rolls of barbed wire.

RUSSIANS RETIRING.

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—The Russians, continuing their retreat along the coast of the Gulf of Riga toward the Lithuanian border, have crossed the Livonian river Aa, the war office reports.

The Russian forces operating in an easterly direction from Riga have retired to Segewold, Lemburg and Datz Shubrayad. The announcement states that the hostile ships which have been shelling the Riga coast were submarines.

GERMAN RAIDS CHECKED.

London, Sept. 5.—"A hostile raiding party was driven off by the fire of rifles and machine guns last night in the vicinity of Armentieres, says today's official statement."

"A raid by the enemy at a later hour against positions held by Portuguese, also was unsuccessful. The German artillery was active in the neighborhood of Lens."

TOWN TAKEN BY GERMANS.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Duenamünde, on the Riga front, which was evacuated yesterday by the Russians, has been captured by German forces, the war office announced today. (Duenamünde lies at the mouth of the Dvina, northwest of Riga.)

The heavy coastal guns there fell undamaged into the hands of the Germans.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

Paris, Sept. 5.—German attacks on the Aisne and Champagne fronts last night were repulsed by the French, says today's official communication. The French made a successful attack in the Champagne. French hospitals were again bombed by German aviators.

SEVEN LOCAL MEN ASSIGNED

ficers' commissions are now stationed. The five captains given assignments are:

Robert E. Kleinh. J. Ewing Bond. Maurice O'Connor. Karl W. Decker. Charles Cherry and Lester Baade, both second lieutenants in the quartermaster department, are attached to the same regiment.

The seven commissioned officers mentioned above are the first out of the sixty Fort Wayne men recently commissioned who have been assigned to companies. Whether these assignments are permanent is not known at this time.

Judging from the assignments it is assumed that it is not the intention of the war department to assign officers to companies or regiments composed of men from the same locality. In other words the officers from Fort Wayne will not be over the conscripted men from northern Indiana.

The assignment of Indiana officers to Illinois troops is also indicative of policy by the war department not to organize regiments by states, as was done in the civil and Spanish-American wars.

ESCAPED GERMANS TAKEN.

London, Sept. 5.—The capture at sea of six escaped Germans is announced by the admiralty. The statement follows: "British light forces, while patrolling the North sea on Sept. 1, captured a small boat containing six German prisoners, who had escaped from this coast."

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

valorous Italian troops, giving them possession of the entire chain of hills dominating the Gorizia area. This eminence in fact, has been virtually at the mercy of the Italians since the fall of Monte Santo, its neighbor stronghold. If Italian troops have taken this, the way is cleared for General Cadorna to complete his domination of the Bainsizza plateau and push on into the Chiapavone valley driving a wedge in between the Austrian northern and southern armies on the Isonzo front and severing their lines of communication with each other.

With the taking of Monte San Gabriele the capture of 950 prisoners, probably all the remaining Austrian garrison, with 32 officers, is reported.

On the Franco-British front the British shell of shells being dropped upon the German lines in Flanders is causing the Germans to contemplate abandonment of a wide expanse of territory there, now being swept by Gen. Haig's big guns and those of the French co-operating with him in the Belgian campaign. The launching of the next entente push here is apparently imminent and as a measure of preparation the Germans are reported to be removing the civilian population of a district extending twelve miles or more to the east of the Belgian campaign. The area as far as the Thourout-Courtrai line, embracing an area of some 200 square miles.

One theory advanced for the reported evacuation is that the German command dreading the effect of the next drive, is preparing to evacuate the lowlands by diverting water from the river Scheldt, thus blocking allied progress. Another supposition is that the Germans, lacking the men to hold the present lines firmly enough, are preparing for another "strategic retreat."

Meanwhile the air forces on both sides are active, not only immediately in the line of the opposing lines, but in widely extended fields. Germany is pushing her air campaign against England to an extent that is making it impossible for any newspaper to express it, if Germany has "her great air offensive" ready before that of the British. Quickly following the raid on Chatham in which more than 100 naval men were killed and many injured, a score of German airplanes last night attacked the British coast and flew over London. Bombs were dropped which caused the loss of nine lives and the injury of 49 persons. The material damage is said to be small. One German machine is reported to have been brought down from various sources.

It was carried out further extensive bombing raids in Belgium, hitting the Bruges docks where the Germans have a submarine base, a heavy blow. Air-dromes were bombed too, with good effect.

"BIG BILL" IS A LUCKY GUY

an offensive in the Dvinsk region 110 miles up the Dvina, southwest from Riga, firing being reported. On the coast they took the fortified town at the mouth of the Dvina Duennamünde, capturing undamaged all the heavy guns there, some of them in excess of twelve-inch caliber.

Italy's long years of preparation and General Cadorna's ability and ability to command continue to bear fruit in the great offensive the Italian armies are now waging for Trieste. Although official announcement is lacking, there seems little reason to question dispatches from various sources that the Italian army has taken the Austrian strongholds in the Gorizia district, has been taken by the "Slacker" the soldiers cried, and used other epithets. There was an American flag on the car. "Take that down; what are you doing with that?" they cried.

Great crowds collected in almost no time, and the demonstration was extended along the line of automobiles. Those in the cars, numbering perhaps a hundred, wearing the so-called "Big Bill" cowboy hats, pulled their sombreros over their eyes and sank deep in their seats. It was all a part of the great demonstration. The jam of the regular automobile traffic was straightened out and the majority procession considerably disheveled, moved down the street amid hoots and cries.

The Kakanee fair is annually the scene of a political rally and the mayor had it that the mayor's adherents intend to utilize it with reference to his future political fortunes as an anti-war leader. The city council yesterday, by a vote of 42 to 6, gave the mayor an indirect slap by commending the stand of Governor Lowden for energetic suppression of all anti-war agitation and propaganda.

The demonstrators were members of the Second Illinois field hospital corps, encamped in Camp Grant on the lake front. Civilians joined in cries of "slacker" hurled at the mayor and his retinue while some patriotically holding their noses as if in the presence of a stench.

The banner stripped from the mayor's car bore the legend "William Hale Thompson, republican club."

The outbreak was quelled by the appearance of the police and the hospital corps with the provost guard.

Motives of Leaders Questioned.

The motives of its leaders were sharply questioned. John Spargo, one of the leaders of the socialist party, was the one who declared that his stand on the war was declared that several weeks ago reports reached the troops in Russia that American labor bodies would demand peace through the people's council meeting.

What can help the enemy more than such a report arising as they do from the activities of these pro-German organizations?" said Mr. Spargo. "It has even been reported that some of Kerensky's troops anxiously awaited the outcome of this advertised 'peace conference.'"

It was confidently predicted by leaders that as a result of the work of the alliance and other similar organizations the activities of pro-Germans will be curbed to such a degree that in three months there will be no disloyal utterances in any part of the country.

Paris, N. D., which barred the people's council after Governor Fraser had said that the peace conference would be given protection in North Dakota, is represented at the conference by a delegation of six labor leaders.

All Aid to Government.

Mr. Gompers in his address outlined the purpose of the organization as the assembling for the support of the government "all the moral and material power of the working class of the nation."

"It shall be our task," he said, "to interpret America's democratic spirit and purpose in this conflict to our fellow workers, especially those of foreign birth, and to combat every form of propaganda, no matter by whom it may be carried on, which tends to weaken the loyalty and devotion of the masses and their willingness to strive and sacrifice for the nation and its high purpose."

The complete declaration of principles as announced by Mr. Gompers is as follows:

"As believers in the great and splendid vision of democracy and internationalism, the fraternalism and solidarity of all peoples, we assert at this time our unqualified loyalty to the republic of the United States of America and our determination to do all that lies in our power to win the war in which it is engaged."

Labor's Declaration.

The complete declaration of principles as announced by Mr. Gompers is as follows:

"As believers in the great and splendid vision of democracy and internationalism, the fraternalism and solidarity of all peoples, we assert at this time our unqualified loyalty to the republic of the United States of America and our determination to do all that lies in our power to win the war in which it is engaged."

"Loyalty to the ideals of freedom, democracy and internationalism requires loyalty to America in this crisis is disloyalty to the cause of freedom, democracy and internationalism."

"No national selfishness impelled this republic to enter the war. The impelling motive was the consuming idealism born with the establishment of this republic itself to preserve freedom not only for itself but for all nations, great and small, and the body of international law which all the free democratic nations of the world respect and observe and only the purpose of bringing to dishonor and destroy. In such a conflict real standard bearers of democracy and true internationalists can have no hesitation in supporting our republic which has made its own the cause and interests of all free peoples. It is therefore in duty bound to a 'capitalist' war, but a freemen's war."

All For the War.

"Fully impressed by these facts, realizing that a noble internationalism is implicit in our American conception of national existence, it shall be our purpose to bring to the support of the government all the moral and material power of the working class of the nation. It shall be our task to interpret America's democratic spirit and purpose in this conflict to our fellow workers, especially those of foreign birth, and to combat every form of propaganda, no matter by whom it may be carried on, which tends to weaken the loyalty and devotion of the masses and their willingness to strive and sacrifice for the nation and its high purpose."

"We shall strip the mask from those who in the name of democracy, anti-militarism and peace are engaged in the nefarious propaganda of treachery to all that these noble words represent. We indignantly repudiate the claim that this propaganda—which, be it remembered, brings joy and comfort to the German autocracy and the support of the labor movement of America. Not even at the behest of the so-called people's council will the organized workers of America prostitute the labor movement to serve the brutal power of Belgium."

"Democracy will not be served by the victory of autocracy, by letting the Declaration of Independence be supplanted by the Kaiser's fiat."

Must Destroy Militarism.

"Militarism will not be checked by surrender to the power which has organized all the resources of civilization to the end of imposing its brutal rule on the world."

"Peace will not be secured to the world through the subjection of the free and democratic nations to the struggle for freedom and democracy at home as to the struggle for freedom and democracy in international relations."

"To the men and women of the American labor movement, and to all sincere friends of democracy and internationalism, we call for loyal support to America and her allies in this great struggle. Let us make our beloved republic strong and victorious for the sake of humanity, and thus insure for our children and their children the priceless heritage of liberty and democracy. Let us, at the same time, stand shoulder to shoulder in the fight against the foes of democracy within our own borders, resolved never to rest until the goal of democracy, industrial, political and international, has been attained."

Peace will not be secured to the world through the subjection of the free and democratic nations to the struggle for freedom and democracy at home as to the struggle for freedom and democracy in international relations."

PERSHING IS IN THE FIELD

American automobile through the place was a signal for great excitement among the people.

Khaki Predominates.

Today khaki was the predominant color on the streets, with here and there a touch of white and blue, costumed American nurses who have taken over a French hospital and are caring for French patients pending the activity of the American forces.

French and American sentries guard all approaches to the town and no one is allowed to enter without proper passes. American flags mingle with the French tri-color from scores of flagpoles on both private and public buildings.

Various divisional and corps schools for the instruction of officers are being organized and class work will be begun within a short time. These schools will be conducted with the French and British instruction camps and special instructors will be brought from both these fronts to lecture on the most modern phases of warfare.

Wide Scope.

The instruction will include artillery, aviation and infantry tactics, machine gun, trench mortar, rifle and grenade fire and trench fighting, including night patrol work between the lines.

American officers also will be instructed in the latest methods of fighting from shell holes and on new theories of counter attacks. These schools will give the final touch to the training of the officers and men of the first expeditionary force.

THE MARKETS

FROSTS GIVE CORN MARKET STRENGTH

Damaging Weather in the Northwest Stiffens the Price.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Frost in the northwest with predictions of more gave a lift today to the corn market here. Shorts were active buyers. After opening 3-8c to 1c higher, with December at $1.11 1-2 to $1.12 and May at $1.07 3-4 to $1.08 1-8, corn prices scored moderate further gains before showing any tendency to react. The close was firm 1/8c to 1/4c net higher at $1.12 1/2 to $1.13 December, and $1.08 1/2 May.

Oats hardened in value with corn. So far as the majority of board of trade dealers were concerned wheat received scarcely any more attention than dry goods or groceries.

Millers bought few quantities of wheat at government prices. Demand for flour was said to show great improvement now that the value of wheat had been fixed.

Provisions fell in value, owing to a fresh decline in the hog market.

LOCAL MARKETS

RECEIPTS AT CITY SCALES VERY LIGHT

Only One Load of Corn and Two of Oats Delivered—Local Markets.

Receipts at the city scales continued light Wednesday, the first load of corn since Saturday being brought in. This load brought $1.61, as compared with the last quotations of $1.70. Only two loads of oats were received. Ten loads of hay were sold for $14 and $16, an increase over Tuesday's prices.

There seems to be a tendency for lower prices, however, both eggs and butter falling off slightly. New apples were 20 cents cheaper on the bushel. Roasting ears were sold on the street this morning at 15 cents a dozen.

Although home-grown potatoes are plentiful, not many are coming in. An abundance of home-grown tomatoes were on the market and were being sold at approximately $1.25 a bushel.

Local grain dealers have been advised that considerable Argentine corn is being brought into this country. Three hundred thousands tons of Argentine corn were offered at $1.60 a bushel in New York yesterday and 190,000 tons offered at $1.53—both for prompt shipment.

The cash and carry idea is a saving proposition to both patrons and proprietor, and is daily growing in favor. If the Germans win we shall become essentially a subject people."

POLICE CHIEF CALLS

HOSPITAL GHOST "FAKE"

Refuses to Station Officer Near Haunt of Restless Spectre.

"I refuse to believe in ghosts," said Police Chief Lenz Wednesday morning, after he had read an account in a morning newspaper to the effect that there is a real spectre brooding about the shades of the old Hope hospital ruins. The chief holds that the account of the activities of the empress is partly due to superstition on the part of writers for the morning paper. Chief Lenz refuses to station a policeman in the region where the ghost is proclaimed to have appeared. None of the officers have expressed a desire to take such service, the chief admits. "No doubt the city lights may flicker with a strange glow at times on the tottering walls of the old hospital," explained Chief Lenz. "Some such hallucination is accountable for the spectre, although a mortal with a sheet may have spread panic among the newspaper men."

The police chief will not even investigate the scene of the spectral activities, in such contempt does he hold the theory that the old building, the scene of years of surgery, may be the haunt of a tortured soul. It is reported that six nightwatchmen have resigned their positions as caretakers of the ruined building because of strange movements of an airy shape. Several reliable citizens have said that they saw a whitened form flit from window to window of the building.

Quite a crowd gathered at the corner of Washington and Barr streets to look for the phantom Tuesday night.

The ghost was not beholden unto the multitude. More watchers will take their station near the building when darkness falls on Wednesday night.

GENERAL CADORNA WINS GREAT VICTORY

ITALIAN ARMY HAS SEIZED IMPORTANT ENEMY STRONGHOLD

RUSSIAN ARMY IS STILL IN RETREAT

London, Sept. 5.—A dispatch received in London confirms the capture by the Italians of Monte San Gabriele, together with 950 prisoners, including 32 officers. The Italians now possess the entire chain of mountains which dominate Gorizia.

PARIS HEARS IT.
Paris, Sept. 5.—The Petit Parisien says that newspaper reports reaching Paris stated that the Italians have taken possession of Monte San Gabriele.

IMMENSE BOOTY TAKEN.
Udine, Italy, Tuesday, Sept. 4.—It is impossible thus far to give even an approximate idea of the immense quantity of booty which has fallen into the hands of the Italians since the beginning of their advance. The materials captured show the precipitation with which the Austrians fled all along the line of attack. On the Bainsizza plateau, near Santo Spirito and Lasko, whole convoys of arms and munitions were abandoned in such haste that there was no time to destroy them. At one point thousands of boxes of projectiles, hand grenades, rockets, shoes, rifles and helmets were strewn everywhere. Some of the caverns are still packed with Austrian dead, lying one on another. The bodies are being buried gradually. Mule paths and the adjacent hills are littered with unexploded projectiles which the fugitives threw away, together with daggers, swords and iron studded maces used for dispatching the wounded. On hill 652 the Italians captured three 105-millimetre cannons. Two of them were perfectly serviceable and the Italians turned them on the fleeing enemy, firing 1,000 shots.

GREATER PART OF ROMANOFFS GOING TO JAIL

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—In addition to the arrest of Grand Duke Alexander, brother of the former emperor, and his wife, the Countess Palen, and the Grand Duke Paul and his morganatic wife have also been taken into custody.

Last night the assistant commander of the Petrograd garrison with a detachment of picked soldiers arrived at Tsarsko-Selo and read the order for arrest to Grand Duke Paul, who submitted, merely asking the reason. The commander stated that it was by order of Premier Kerensky. Later the same officer visited Gatchina and arrested Grand Duke Michael and his wife.

It appears that several days ago a search was made of the residence of the Grand Duke Michael in Finland, which was occupied by him during his presence there. A Colonel Dietz was also arrested at Gatchina.

The ministry of justice refuses for the present to give out any facts concerning the arrests. According to some of the newspapers, however, the headquarters of the monarchist conspiracy in Crimea, where other grand dukes and duchesses and the dowager empress reside under surveillance.

In Crimea, according to the newspapers, there recently has been founded a society under the name of "Forward for the Czar and Holy Russia," which was detected organizing and training "czarist" propagandists with the design of ending them to the front to revive monarchism in the army.

RUSSIA HANGS A CAN ON GENERAL GURKO, TRAITOR

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—General Gurko, former commander on the southwestern front, charged with treasonable conduct toward the revolution, will be hanged from Russia. General Gurko, according to reports, is the first person against whom such a measure has been taken by the revolutionary government. He will be permitted to choose the place of his residence and will be given three days in which to arrange his affairs. General Gurko has been degraded and his request for a new inquiry into his acts has been refused. He will be followed into exile by his wife.

LOYALTY IS WATCHWORD

Great Conference in Minneapolis Pledges Self to Government.
GREAT LEADERS OF LABOR IN SESSION
Peace Council of America is Condemned as Aiding the Enemy.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 5.—The American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, organized to counteract the activities of pacifists and pro-German propagandists and to bring the nation's labor forces up solidly behind the government in its prosecution of the war, opened a three-day loyalty conference here today.

E. H. Hall, president of the State Federation of Labor, called the meeting to order, and Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations, acted as temporary chairman.

After the appointment of a committee on permanent organization the delegates recessed until mid-afternoon and then received the committee's report which was followed by an address by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers was expected to name permanent chairman of the alliance.

Speakers at today's session denounced as disloyal and seditious the activities of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace, which was barred from holding its proposed national peace conference in Minneapolis.

NEW LOANS MADE TO FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, Sept. 5.—Loans of $100,000,000 each to Great Britain and France were made by the government today, bringing the total advanced the allies up to $2,266,400,000.

Today's loans are the first made this month, and probably will be followed shortly by loans to other powers. The total thus far advanced entente governments is as follows: Great Britain, $1,105,000,000; France, $830,000,000; Russia, $275,000,000; Italy, $200,000,000; Belgium, $33,400,000; and Serbia, $3,000,000.

FIRST ARMY IS GETTING INTO KHAKI AT ONCE

Washington, Sept. 5.—The first of the national army went into uniform today. Into fourteen cantonments poured groups of recruits, the first 5 per cent quota of the draft army. Each group on its arrival was stripped of civilian clothing and supplied with khaki uniform, army hat, shoes, leggings, blankets, rifle, ammunition belt and other accoutrement of a soldier. Training will start tomorrow. The second quota of 40 per cent goes to camp September 19.

Reports to Provost Marshal General Crowder indicated that the mobilization was proceeding smoothly. Most groups took morning trains, although those from some western states may not reach camp until late tonight or tomorrow.

NEW YORK SEES NEED OF WOMEN AS POLICE

New York, Sept. 5.—As a result of an investigation by the mayor's committee of women, the commissioner of police will be asked to provide for the appointment of six police women in his budget for next year. The announcement was made by the women's committee after two women had made an investigation covering a month, during which it was said countless women were found among young women which could be better handled by police women than through the usual channels of the department. During the month the women investigators interviewed more than five hundred girls, it was said, and have sent about one-half of them to their homes.

REPLY TO POPE IS TEXT IN SCHOOLS

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Students at the Hyde Park high school today for their first lesson of the fall term in English were handed copies of President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict XV. They will use as their text books for several days printed leaflets containing the note in full.

"President Wilson's reply to the pope should be clearly understood by every high school student," said Principal H. B. Loomis.

American Training Camp in France, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Pershing has arrived at his field headquarters, where his staff had preceded him several days, and where the French government had turned over quarters for the American occupation.

The transformation in the picturesque French town has been almost remarkable. Up to three weeks ago American uniforms had been seen but once or twice and the passing of an

Viscount Ishii Makes Address Pledging Japanese Good Will.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Viscount Ishii delivered Japan's message of friendship and co-operation to the United States before the house of representatives today in company with the other members of the Japanese mission. He gave a solemn warning that enemies of both countries were working to estrange them and expressed confidence that the friendship of the nations would prevail over the intrigues.

Introduced by Speaker Clark in a few words, Viscount Ishii was received with a great demonstration from the floor and crowded galleries.

Envoy's Address.
Viscount Ishii addressed the house in part as follows:
"I thank you most sincerely for this gracious reception. The rare opportunity thus afforded to me is deeply appreciated throughout the nation I have the honor to represent. I bring a mes-

Summary of the Day's War News

Russia's northern armies are still in retreat before the Germans in the Riga district. The Russians already have fallen back more than thirty miles to the northeast, retreating behind the Livonian river. As past which the Germans are following them. The more westerly Russian forces, however, are still keeping in touch with the coast, in the evident effort not to lose their protection for their flank.

Apparently the Germans have not the heavy naval forces there that earlier reports gave reason to indicate as the Petrograd statement announces that the shelling of the coast which has been carried on by submarines.

The Germans seem to be threatening

"BIG BILL" IS A LUCKY GUY

Chicago's Burgomaster Escapes a Well-Meant Attention.

MOB THINKS IT HAS THE SLACKER

Soldiers and Citizens in Mob That Cuts Up With Some Ugliness.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 5.—A demonstration of soldiers against fifty automobile parties constituting a delegation of the William Hale Thompson Republican club bound for a county fair and political rally at Kankakee was avoided by the mayor. The mayor who was by implication censured by a vote of the city council for his anti-war attitude, yesterday had warning that his welcome along the route of sixty-six miles might be embarrassing and he was not in line when the procession started.

Soldiers, however, mistook one of his supporters for him, and stripped a banner giving the name of the club, from the machine in which they thought he was riding. Citizens joined in the demonstrations and other banners were torn from machines.

Gets German Flag.
The man who looked like the mayor was asked: "What are you doing with an American flag?" There were hisses, cat-calls, cries of "Slacker!" "Kaiser!" and the like. A boy at thirty-third street, similarly misled, tried to present the "mayor" with a German flag, but the emblem fell to the pavement, where it was obliterated by passing vehicles.

The automobiles were standing in Michigan boulevard, which bounds Grant park on the west, when the soldiers began to gather.

HOUSE REJECTS PROPOSALS FOR TIEING WILSON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—House republicans today lost their fight to amend the war bond and certificate bill so as to provide for a congressional war expenditures committee. Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, chairman of the committee of the whole, sustained points of order made by democratic leader, Kitchen, against two different proposals offered by Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, and Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania.

FIRE MENACES BIG HERD OF BUFFALO

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 5.—The largest herd of buffalo in the United States, consisting of more than 600 animals, is menaced by a fire which has raged on Antelope island, in the great Salt Lake, from early yesterday to an early hour this morning and is still burning.

In addition to the buffalo, 400 head of horses belonging to the United States government, and being trained by six cowboys for cavalry and artillery purposes, and 1,200 head of cattle and other stock, are in danger if the fire should sweep the entire island. The blaze was started by lightning.

GAS MASK USED TO SHUT OFF AMMONIA

A rival use for the gas masks of the trenches was found Wednesday afternoon when an ammonia line broke in the National Market on Calhoun street, near Jefferson. When the break occurred many people made a dash to get out of the "near vicinity" and others who stayed close enough got an idea of the effect of "tear gas" there being few dry eyes.

The police could afford no assistance as they had no mask for the purpose. One was finally obtained from the Eckart Packing company and J. A. Wolf, an employee of Heit-Miller-Lau Candy company, fitted it on and invaded the room where the break occurred. After the ammonia was turned off at its source the place rapidly cleared out.

AIR OFFENSIVE OF KAISER HAS LEAD HIS FOES

ELEVEN ARE KILLED IN MOONLIGHT RAID

London, Sept. 5.—"Has Germany got her air offensive ready before ours?" is a question asked by a morning paper apropos of the invasion of England on three successive nights and Field Marshal Haig's overnight report of aggressive enemy aircraft.

Another paper which assumes and frequently warns of Germany's intention to invade England with aircraft in very large fleets says:

"The enemy seems to be getting on rather fast with invasion plans. The German aircraft came, bombed and departed. Our guns fired and our aircraft went up but without result, according to the latest official reports. This is the ninth serious raid this summer and of 127 machines which have crossed our coast, Germany only admits the loss of seven."

The paper refers to the growing casualty list and the relative immunity of the invaders and adds: "It cannot be said that we are getting on with our invasion plans faster than the enemy."

Illinois Senator Declares Germany Will Leave It All to Wilson.

Washington, Sept. 5.—In supporting the war tax bill as drafted when debate was resumed today, Senator Lewis, of Illinois, said he saw a prospect of peace and thought drastic taxes, therefore might not be necessary.

"To me there appears the prospect of a peace and the end of hostilities if Germany so wills it," he said. "Germany will soon put herself in the hands of the United States as the ar-

RIGA REFUGEES IN PETROGRAD RELATE THRILLING STORIES

Petrograd, Tuesday, Sept. 4.—The first refugees from Riga arrived here today and gave a dramatic description of their last hours in the city before the German occupation.

The first shells were fired from the direction of Uxkull and fell early Sunday morning, causing numerous fires and spreading clouds of suffocating gases. The people rushed into the streets, many only partly dressed, and there was a general panic to reach the railroad station, which seemed to be the enemy's chief target.

This panic resulted in heavy losses, according to Tschernoe Vremya, which declares that several thousands were lost. The next night after midnight a Zeppelin appeared over the city and in the rays of its searchlight, citizens might be seen fleeing. The Zeppelin dropped many bombs, some emitting gases.

These bombs were aimed chiefly at Moscow, a suburb of Riga. Shelling with big projectiles from the direction of Uxkull was resumed early in the evening one shell falling in a moving picture hall causing losses and another exploding in the Hotel Suvoroff.

The last train which left for Petrograd was heavily shelled. A great many buildings in Riga, according to the refugees, were destroyed.

WOULD PREVENT SLACKERS FROM TAKING BABIES

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—To prevent slackers from adopting children to avoid drafting into the national army, the Children's Aid society of this city has been forced to put in operation a new set of regulations for the adoption of children. The general secretary of the society said today there has been a large increase in the percentage of married men under 31 years who have applied for the adoption of children.

Under the new regulations if an applicant for a child is subject to draft, no child is permitted to be placed in his home unless his wife has indicated means of supporting herself and the child, or unless the man is able to leave sufficient means for their support in his absence.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Lift a corn or callus right off without one bit of pain.

Yes! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice. — Advertisement.

POSSE SEEKS MAN WHO THREW ACID ON A GIRL

Three Hundred Men and Women Search Woods and Cornfields.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 5.—Three hundred infuriated farmers, at least 100 armed with shotguns and rifles and the remainder carrying clubs and knives, searched woods, corn fields and other possible hiding places east of Silver Lake yesterday afternoon for a middle-aged man who threw carbolic acid at Miss Hazel Deaton, 15-year-old daughter of Cyrus Deaton.

The stranger appeared at the Deaton farm home and demanded food from the girl, who was alone. She agreed to get it, and as she was attempting to hook the screen door he threw the contents of a small bottle on her and then ran away. The liquid proved to be carbolic acid. Her arms and face were badly blistered, but her eyes escaped. She ran to the field where her father was at work, and within a few minutes the news of the attack had spread over the neighborhood and farmers and farmers' wives rushed in search of the man.

Officers from Warsaw, armed with shotguns, joined in the search. Roy Montel, a farmer, saw the stranger running in his woods, but before the posse arrived the man had escaped. Threats of violence were made if the farmers caught the man.

BIG CROWD AT BOURBON.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 5.—Bourbon expects to entertain between 5,000 and 10,000 persons Wednesday afternoon and evening, when a great patriotic demonstration will be given as a farewell to the soldier boys of this community. Picture two shows the moment of release, and picture three the finish of the swing, like that of a golfer. Here's the danger: The thrower's grip presses a spring. An explosion follows a few seconds after the release of this spring. The grip must be tight up to the very instant of release, or the thrower himself is blown up.

NEW ADDITION.

"Driving Park Extended" is the name of the newest city addition which will be placed on the market soon by the L. F. Curdes Realty Company. The area, which includes the remaining forty acres of the old fair grounds lying to the east of Driving Park Addition and adjoining Anthony Boulevard to the east, is being platted now. Sidewalks and curbing have been constructed throughout a large portion of the addition, sewers have been put in, the street paving well under way, and the boulevard lighting system is in process of construction. Lots have been laid out and as soon as the improvement program is completed or near enough completed to give the purchaser an idea of just what he is getting, the addition will go on the market in possibly three or four weeks.

The development of this new addition marks an idea fostered for years by Mr. Curdes, and he is developing it along the same beautiful lines followed in Forest and Driving Park additions and in the area north and east of Crescent and Lake avenues, the first addition platted in that section of the city in recent years. Arrangements have been made for a city park about a block square adjoining the addition on the east.

A NATIONAL ISSUE.

Chicago people do not stand alone in harboring angry feeling against Chicago's mayor. The people of the whole nation know of "Big Bill" Thompson and the persistent disloyalty of his conduct and speech since America was driven to enter the war against Germany, and the people of the whole country feel toward him much as the people of Chicago feel toward him. For the present the people of Chicago have immediately in hand the duty of dealing with him, though there is hopeful dawning of prospect that in a day near at hand his case will pass to the charge of a greater jurisdiction and that he will be summoned to answer for himself at a bar where procedures are established, regular and competent.

Hanging Mayor Thompson in effigy, while serving somewhat to disclose the indignant state of the public mind in his own city, probably does not greatly wound such a pride as his. Denunciation does not faze him. It was evident, from the fight made by himself and his few friends and supporters to prevent it, that he was sensible of the obloquy to which his name must be consigned in the record of official rebuke and repudiation administered by the city council. He can survive that, however, and continue his functions in the high place to which he was elected and go on to play his disloyal role out to the end of his term. What is needed to meet the case of "Big Bill" is that he should be kicked out of an office he not only disgraces but employs to disloyal uses against his country. If a way can be found by which lawfully to oust him something like genuine retribution could be thought to have overtaken him and that at the least would have unmistakable effect to curb his ilk and deprive him and his disloyal associates and associations of one means by which their services to the nation's enemies could be balked.

There is serious discussion of federal procedures against him. How far his acts have made him truly amenable to the laws we cannot say. It would seem that there ought to be some provision in the federal statutes that without stretching could be made to cover such conduct as he has been guilty of. If he can be prosecuted for such enmity as he has shown to the government and the country in the necessity and duty to carry on the war that is the thing that ought to be done. "Big Bill" proved guilty and convicted of disloyalty, sedition and treason and punished according to his due would be a salutary spectacle. It is rather futile to rail against those enemies among us who have at least some plausible pretext if not altogether sound excuse for their offenses to loyalty and their occasions against the government in their assumption of obedience to the dictates of natural sympathies, so long as the chief magistrate of America's second city is allowed to continue in his seat and defiantly flout the government in prosecution of a great war with a foreign foe and to make his office the hatching-place of treasons and the refuge of traitors.

Meanwhile, pending actions by the federal government, the people of the entire country are heart and soul in sympathy with Chicago for her sad plight and hopefully looking to the people of that great community to cleanse their city of the stain of "Big Bill." The way may be difficult to find, but we believe they will find it at length nor be slow to make use of the first effectual recourse that is offered. He should be gotten rid of, and will be, no doubt.

A federal grand jury is sitting in Chicago and it entered upon its work with admonition from a judge of the United States courts to apply itself to the task of bringing treason to book, no matter by whom committed, and to spare no one, regardless of his station. This may cast an ominous horseshoe for "Big Bill" and it may not. That can be told better in the sequel. At all events and in any case, the conduct and utterances of Chicago's mayor make fit and emergent occasions for trying what may be done. He is a specific danger himself to the country, but infinitely more dangerous as an example and encouragement to the disloyal and treasonable wherever they may be.

IT WILL BE GOOD FOR THE TREES.

The people of Fort Wayne have felt for a good many years a wholly pardonable pride in their trees. There has sometimes been more zeal than wisdom in the efforts made to promote shade-tree culture here and it has been only in recent years that anything like system and scientific direction have been given this phase of municipal development. The cultivation of trees and the care and preservation of trees are—at any rate should be—twin concerns in the public mind. It is quite as essential that old trees be preserved from destruction by inflicted damage or by pests and diseases as that new trees should be planted. There should be a greater interest in the tree question and especially in the care and preservation of trees. Because this is true we hope there may be a large attendance of citizens at the assembly room in the court house this evening to hear a lecture by Mr. Adolph Jaenicke, the city forester, upon trees, their cultivation and care. Mr. Jaenicke is an authority upon this subject, of course; but he also is a tree surgeon of repute. He will have many things to say that every citizen ought to know. It is of significance that Mr. Jaenicke is to be heard under auspices of the Burroughs club. The study and preservation of birds and the cultivation and care of trees are very closely related. There should be a good attendance of Fort Wayne people to hear Mr. Jaenicke tonight.

WILL RUSSIA FIGHT?

Optimism of spirit and mere wordy discounts do not set aside the precarious situation in which Russia is plunged by the abandonment of Russia's only western seaport to the German invaders and so opening the way to Petrograd. The taking of the Russian capital would not be of surpassing military importance. It has no special strategic value. But it would have prodigious moral effect not only in Russia but throughout the central powers.

Perhaps with the invaders getting near their capital and largest city, the Russians may decide to get back into the war and try what they are able to do to expel the enemy, not only from his new line, but from all other invaded parts of the realm. It may quite as readily also be speculated upon that with their capital in enemy hands and worse pains of war threatened, the Russians will be ready to conclude the separate peace for which Germany has longed, plotted and finally invaded the Muscovite soil. If Russia will make peace Germany and Austria will have accomplished a great and a very inexpensive victory. If Russia will not make peace, but shall be stirred into the heroic action of which she stands in need and of which she is really capable, there will be a different story, to tell.

On its own face the situation in Russia is an unpleasant thing to contemplate. The hopeful thing to think of is that the Russian army may be spurred to fight. If it is going to fight again on any account, it would seem to be that the time and occasion are now in full conjunction.

The first of them are en route and the others will follow from day to day until the whole of almost seven thousand selected men are in the great cantonments. They will not be ready for the field for some time, but they have fully entered the service of their country and rallied to the colors. No soldiers of the republic have gone to any war with greater honors or holding out promise of finer deeds than these selected young men. They are the pick and flower of the land. No country ever has put finer or sturdier manhood into the ranks of war than these youths who are of the first national army.

Hanging Wilhelm der Grosse in effigy is the filiest of reprisals—the punkest of recourses. Hanging him actually would be murder, which never would do. What to do with "Big Bill" is sure enough a problem and no easy thing to guess at. What did the people of Chicago do it for in the first place?

"Forward with God," exclaims the kaiser to his army. It is not a new notion of Bill's, but there was a day when God was not besought to make poison gas, bombing of hospitals, enslavement of women and the modern line of Prussian atrocities of war the instruments of his intervention in behalf of divine rights.

"Those that are not for us are against us," and it is striking the hour whenever in this land of the free should stand up to be counted as an American or something else.

The radicals in the senate are inviting the cloture with all the devices they know any thing about. It will come, we think, soon.

I know how long the pyramids
Have slumbered in the sun,
And eke the date when Waterloo
Was clinched by Wellington;
I can remember well the year,
Ab urbe condita,
But, somehow, I can't recollect
How old the children are!

I'm posted up on calories,
And proteins and such;
I know what patent breakfast foods
To eat—and just how much;
I can work out by algebra
The proof test of raw gin;
But I can't mix for baby Joe
What "mar-mar" calls "nin-nin."

I don't know what a "dickcy" is,
Nor why it "buttons straight";
I wot not when I first proposed,
Nor what I said to Kate;
And, woe of woes, for many moons,
(Our wedding date, forgot.)
I've tried, and tried, and TRIED to think
What preacher tied the knot!

And with all this in mind I'm sure
That I don't wonder why
The girls go in for scholarship
Instead of baking pie;
For ashworm is a snip—
Though help it can't, or won't—
Compared with all the COMMON things
I ought to know—and don't!

JUNIOR RED CROSS OPEN TO TWENTY MILLIONS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN IN U. S.

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, announces the launching of a Junior Red Cross open to all school children in the country. The new organization hopes to become a channel for patriotic service and interest to the 22,000,000 boys and girls of school age in the United States.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross is to be by schools. Whenever there has been placed in the local school fund an amount equal to 25c for every pupil, the school becomes a school auxiliary of the Red Cross, and is entitled to display a special Red Cross banner. At the same time every pupil becomes a junior member, and is entitled to wear the membership button.

The school fund can be raised by the school, or collected by subscription. In some states it will be raised by cities to cover all schools in the city districts. In other states the campaign will be for a state-wide fund and the enrollment of all the pupils in the state. In every case, however, the schools are to be associated with the chapters of the Red Cross through a teachers' committee of the chapter.

The school fund will be used for the purchase of materials which the children will make up into Red Cross supplies, and for other uses in which the children will have a personal share. No part of it is to go for chapter or general expenses.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross will be developed by states. Division managers will appoint membership committees and school activities committees for each state. The membership committee stimulates interest and raises funds for the school supply fund. It will be composed of some of the most influential people devoted to educational affairs.

CHILDREN ARE FREED BY NEW LAW FROM THE MINES AND CANNERIES

BY GRACE ABBOTT.
(Director, Division of Child Labor, U. S. Department of Labor.)

Minerals from mines or quarries in which children under 16 are employed or products of mills, canneries, work-shops or manufacturing establishments employing children under 14, will not be admitted to interstate or foreign commerce, under the new federal child labor law, in effect September 1. The law includes also an eight-hour day for children between 14 and 16, and work only between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. There had been some demand that enforcement of the act be postponed until the end of the war, but this has come from those who opposed the law. Apparently the people realize nothing can be more important for the future of our democracy than adherence to the standards which we have found necessary for the protection of children.

England and France have warned us industrial efficiency is not promoted by breaking down labor standards, while Canada, Australia and New Zealand have set us the excellent example of adhering to, and in a few instances, advancing their pre-war standards. The fact that child labor or compulsory education laws were strengthened by states as widely separated as

The school activities committee will be made up of vocational teachers and other school officials. Under its direction patterns of articles to be made, and other instructions for use in the vocational classrooms, will be prepared and sent to all the schools.

The plan has been developed by President MacCracken of Yassar, in consultation with school authorities and the National Red Cross. Dr. MacCracken said today:

"I believe in the Junior Red Cross, not only because of the great sums of money it will earn and the immense amount of supplies which the school pupils, especially in our technical schools, will make, but because of its educational and patriotic value for the children."

"The work for the Red Cross will teach service for others and unselfish giving; it will stimulate interest in our national government and its policies during the war; and it will afford a useful release for the youthful energy which is stimulated by the violent and morbid aspects of war conditions, and if undirected, may cause under wrong conditions, great increase of juvenile delinquency and crime."

"It is the success attained in many schools last year which has decided the Red Cross to undertake this important new step. The vocational classes in New York state alone last spring made over 40,000 articles during the last few weeks of the school year for the Red Cross."

"Universal testimony from the chapters showed that these were in every way up to the rigid standards of the organization. Mrs. Talbot, director of vocational education for girls in the state, says that in many cases she was told that their work was, if anything, better than that in the adult work."

states no such far sighted view has been taken.

Relatively few Americans live in the place in which they spent their childhood and so a state with advanced standards finds itself unable to protect its future from the neglect and irresponsibility of a neighboring state. The level of citizenship in the United States is determined by the worst as well as the best standards. So far, except for the grants of public land and recent provisions for mechanical, agricultural and vocational education, these matters have been left entirely to the states.

Is it too much to hope that the nation will insure to all its children something like an equal opportunity to become strong, intelligent and independent citizens?

(Muscatine (Ia.) News-Tribune.)

ORGANIZE FOR SUBURBAN DAY

Merchants to Meet Tonight at the Commercial

"BUY FROM YOUR HOME MERCHANT"

Movement to Curtail Loss
where.

The big "Suburban Day" movement gets its real start tonight when a large group of merchants and other live, loyal Fort Wayne business men will meet at the Commercial club to form the Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association. The organization will enter at once upon an extended campaign to broaden and develop Fort Wayne as a center of trade and assembly for thousands who are not now in the habit of making Fort Wayne their common center of interest.

Officers will be elected tonight and the association will assume definite form for a campaign to open within the next two weeks to proclaim the greatness of Fort Wayne as a trade center and as a place to come for entertainment and any other purpose which attracts people to one city in preference to another.

"Trade at Home."

While the central object of the association is to bring thousands of people to Fort Wayne on one special day of each week—probably on Wednesday—it has been the policy from the start to urge people everywhere to patronize their home merchants. The Fort Wayne merchants do not expect the patronage of anyone residing in another city who can receive from the home merchant the same high quality of goods at the right price, but they do ask for a fair opportunity to show that they can supply the need perfectly if the home merchant does not find it possible to do so. Many things are sold in Fort Wayne which cannot be purchased in the smaller cities. In cases of this kind, Fort Wayne asks the preference over the mail order house or any other agency which does not tend to upbuild the general community.

All merchants and others who are interested in the movement are invited to attend the meeting at the Commercial club this evening and unite in the beginning of the campaign to make of it one of the greatest means of growth ever undertaken by a midwestern city. Letters received this week from many cities in all portions of the United States which have used a similar plan, report great success. One city says: "Wednesday's trade is now, as large as Saturday's of the old days, and our Saturday trade has grown still larger." Others speak of the growth of the Suburban day trade until it equals or exceeds the Saturday retail business. Such is the plan of Fort Wayne, while, at the same time, protecting and encouraging the patronage of the merchant in the smaller city. "The main thing," says one of the merchants, "is to create new trade by building up from the business which does not now go either to the merchant in the smaller city or to Fort Wayne, but to the metropolitan centers and to the mail order houses."

DRAFT FRAUDS FOR FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Philadelphia Board Says Local Prosecutor Refused to Act.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—The federal grand jury here has under consideration, charges that U. S. District Attorney Francis Fisher Kane failed to prosecute alleged offenders against the selective draft act. John P. Dwyer, managing editor of the Philadelphia Record and a member of a local draft board has been subpoenaed by the jury for examination with regard to a statement he made that it was impossible for his board to obtain prosecution by the district attorney where perjury is evident.

Mr. Dwyer said he based his charges on two cases in his district where men filed exemption claims on alleged false affidavits. He said when the district attorney failed to act he asked an investigation by the provost marshal general at Washington, who referred the matter to the department of justice. District Attorney Kane denies any dereliction of duty and says the cases referred to by Mr. Dwyer are being investigated and prosecution will be brought if the facts warrant.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5.—It was announced today that running races will not be held at the Michigan state fair, which is being held here. # SOCIETY

A wedding of Thursday that will be a very quiet home affair will be that of Mrs. Jessie C. Andrews and Mr. William B. Donaldson, which will take place in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride in South Calhoun street. Only the immediate family relatives will be present to hear the marriage service read by Rev. H. B. Hostetter, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church. The bride is widely known, particularly in south side circles, and is a sister of Mrs. Chris Helt, Mrs. Frank Wilt and Oscar Brockaw. Mr. Donaldson was formerly president of the Downing bakery but is now retired from an active business life. The bride and groom are going to Rome City, where they will occupy the groom's summer home for an indefinite length of time.

A dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Menefee, on Sunday, was the customary event in celebration of Mr. Menefee's birth anniversary. It was a family gathering and the house and two long dinner tables were profusely decorated with handsome flowers. Covers at one table were laid for twenty-five and at the other for a dozen. In the center of the table a birthday cake with pink and white frosting was the center of attraction for the children's eyes and many an adult cast an admiring glance in its direction. Pink roses lay round the cake on the cloth and at each end of the table were low vases of roses. Flowers were to be seen in every room. There were present Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Menefee and children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Menefee and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Pfeiffer and children, Mrs. Leah Coover and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilmarth and son.

Mrs. Clem Lamont entertained a dozen friends at a porch party on Tuesday afternoon as a compliment to her guest, Mrs. Morgan Owens, of Charleston, W. Va. The company knitted and visited, then enjoyed some delicious and refreshing things to eat. This afternoon Mrs. Lamont entertained ed a second company, also at her home in West Main street, and the beautifully flower trimmed porch proved too attractive to remain indoors, so the refreshments were also served there. Mrs. Owens was again the honor guest. Mrs. Luecke, of Detroit, was a visiting guest.

The wedding of Miss Irene Noll and Mr. Fred Potthoff will take place at 7 o'clock in St. Mary's church on Thursday morning. Ngr. J. H. Oechtering will officiate at the nuptial mass. Miss Anna Potthoff will be bridesmaid and Mr. Al Herman, of Toledo, a cousin to the bride, will be the attendant. The immediate family relatives will be present at the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride in East Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Noll are entertaining Mrs. Frank Herman, of Toledo, O.

Mrs. Olive Jane Larsh is coming home from Eaton, O. where she has been all summer, on Thursday.

Mrs. Walter Evans, of Chicago, and Miss A. Chew, of Garrett, are spending the day with Mrs. E. A. K. Hackett.

Miss Estelle Stringer, a librarian in the public library, has returned from a trip to points in New York and New Jersey, during which she visited her brother Charles Stringer and family.

Mrs. C. M. Menefee has recently returned from a trip to Chicago and other members of the family. Mrs. Leah Coover and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Menefee, are at home after an outing at Clear lake.

The members of the T. B. C. club have returned from an outing at Clear lake. The members are Misses Lena and Marie Reinecke, Carrie and Emelia Koch, Hannah and Emelia Stetter, Lavina Forster, Elizabeth Stetter, Eleanor Bender, Edith Koch, Helen Penningroth.

The Kill Kare cottage at Sylvan lake was occupied by a house party over Labor day, given by the Hooster girls, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Harris. The young people had a very pleasant time. Those who composed the party were Misses Lillian Grosh, Sophia Gruber, Theresa Wilhelm, Celia Zurbuch and Julia Deek, and the Messrs. Bud Wike, William Fry, Jr., Theodore Deek, Bernard Brinker and Clarence Kinder.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harneyer entertained on Monday evening at their home, 2105 Meridian street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee, who have soon for Hutchinson, Kan., to make their home. There were present to enjoy the pleasant time Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mouglin, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Manuel, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Felger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, Miss Margaret Felger, Miss Oneda Harneyer, Master Lester Felger. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and white asters. A game of progressive pedro was enjoyed and that was followed by a delicious supper.

Twenty-two children enjoyed a merry time at the country home of their music teacher, Miss Grace Philley, on Saturday afternoon and evening. Games, music and a clever contest in which the pupils aimed to get the largest number of musical terms from a number of anagrams in a certain length of time, were amusements. Miss Anna M. Philley delighted the company with readings from Riley's poems. A luncheon of dainty appointments was served at small tables in the diningroom and on the porch. Garden flowers made a pretty decoration. The children were Grace Rogers of Peru, Helen Crawford, Georgia and Violet Fel, Pearl Joyce, Nava Davis, Georgia Clem, Gladys and Margaret Schuck, Lucille and Violet Myer, Colleen Eckleberry, Esther and Florence Frank, Lucille Menefee, May Voltz, Vera Kromm, Gertrude Bradley, May Agnes Lehman, Mildred Ohneck, Helen Rogers.

Nolan-Schwartz.

A pretty wedding of Wednesday morning was that of Miss Clara Anna Schwartz, daughter of Mr. Louis Schwartz, and Mr. Edward P. Nolan, which took place at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church. Mr. J. H. Oechtering officiated at the ceremony and nuptial mass. A sister to the bride, Miss Teresa Schwartz, and Mr. Ralph Petgen were bridesmaid and groomsmen. The bride and groom entered the church together and were preceded by their attendants. The bride made a very lovely appearance in her gown of white tulle with pearl trimmings, a veil that fell to the hem of the dress and a veil of tulle held with a band of tulle across her forehead. The band was edged with pearl beads. Instead of flowers the bride carried a prayerbook with an unusual and beautiful bookmark of ribbon and tiny flowers of ribbon with pearl centers. The bridesmaid wore a handsome gown of orchid tulle with silver trimmings. A picture hat of orchid velvet was trimmed with a silver ornament. The bridesmaid's bouquet was composed of Opheelia roses. The bride wore a beautiful gift from the groom on her wedding day, a platinum brooch with pearl setting. The church was decorated with palms. Only the immediate family relatives were present at the wedding breakfast served at the bride's home. The table was decorated with Italianware vases filled with pink roses, pink and white snapdragons and shasta daisies and the bride's cake. Miss Margaret Flick did the decorating. A little later the bride and groom left for Chicago, New York and intermediate points, the bride wearing a becoming suit of dark green cheviot with blouse of green georgette and hat of silk beaver of a gray shade trimmed with grape foliage, and boots and gloves to match. After the first of October Mr. and Mrs. Nolan will be at home with the bride's father at 612 Washington boulevard east. Mr. Nolan is a freeman on the Pennsylvania and together with his bride have many friends who both admire and have high regard for them.

Dickerson-Hauck.

A marriage that took place in Terre Haute at the parsonage of the Central Presbyterian church of that city at 6:30 o'clock September 1, interests many friends of the bride and groom here, where the bride, Miss Helen Hauck, has made her home for fifteen years with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Fratts, of Lakeside. The groom was Mr. Joseph S. Dickerson and he is a son of Mrs. Clara Dickerson, of Toledo, O. Mr. Dickerson is employed in this city at the Bower company's plant. He was graduated from Ohio university and formerly taught in the Marion schools. Both bride and groom are well known by many of the young people of the city and particularly in the circles of the First M. E. church in which both are active workers. The bride and groom will be at home for the present with Mrs. Fratts, Columbia avenue. The bride wore a blue traveling costume of cloth with embroidered white georgette blouse, a corsage of Killarney roses and her gloves and shoes are gray.

Bireley Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Bireley family was held in Swinney park on Labor Day with an attendance of eighty people who enjoyed the fine dinner served as well as the meeting before in many months. The men played a game of horseshoe pitching and engaged in a championship of Ohio and Indiana. The Ohio men were defeated and Luther Bireley, of Allen county, carried off honors in two games out of three. As Mr. Bireley is a civil war veteran and therefore of an age when he is not supposed to be particularly rapid on his feet, his success seemed remarkable. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Jesse Bireley and family, Chester Bireley, Robert Anderson, John Lewis, Porter Cartwright, Daimar Guy, Frank Zeigler, Luther Bireley, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Karnehm and family, Piqua, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Grunert, Piqua, O.; Clarence Sullenberger, Fletcher, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. ## AT THE PALACE

"AT HOME."

McConnell and Simpson's Fun Riot at New Palace.

The rollicking merry fun festival, "At Home," McConnell and Simpson's really great comedy sketch, will be the feature attraction at the New Palace the last three days of the week. This little glimpse into the private life of a vaudeville team is a rich bit of fun. A husband and wife forming a vaudeville team are "laying off" as is the indolent, shiftless brother of the wife. The inevitable rows ensue and finally the team receives a message engaging their services. Their rehearsal of their act is a constant succession of laughs. —the time it takes for hot water to reach the cup.

"Condition" the fruit, that is turn it and mix it several times during the drying process so the product may be uniform. Store in small quantities in paper bags or boxes.

Peach Leather.

Peel and crush very ripe peaches, spread the pulp on platters and dry in the oven. When thoroughly dried the pulp should be as tough as leather. Roll it up and seal in bags. When needed for use, soak over night and stew with sugar.

Peach Marmalade.

For each pound of pared and sliced fruit allow ½ pound of sugar. Mash the fruit, add the sugar and mix well. Turn into a crock, cover and bake in the oven for several hours. Stir occasionally. Turn into small jars and cover with melted paraffin.

Pickled Peaches.

For 25 pounds of peaches allow 12 pounds of sugar. Wash the fruit and rub off the fuzz with coarse crash. Make a pickling liquor by boiling 5 pints of vinegar mixed with the sugar and ½ cupful stick cinnamon and other spices if liked. Put in two quarts of the peaches and simmer until the fruit is tender, then skin out the peaches and pack in a stone jar. When all of the fruit has been cooked, boil down the syrup, pour it over the peaches, cover the jar and add a weight. Keep in a cool place.

Peach Vinegar.

Save peach parings and use over-ripe fruit for vinegar. Mash the fruit and cover with cold water. To each gallon add four ounces of sugar and a dessert spoonful of yeast. Set in the sun to ferment, but do not cover closely, or the container may burst. Strain and bottle, or add to vinegar barrel.

MOTHERS, DON'T FIND FAULT WITH CHILDREN.

A writer in a recent issue of Mother's Magazine gives some very pertinent advice to mothers in regard to their attitude with their children. She says in part: "Don't think that the moment you are alone with your boy or girl you must find fault or endeavor to improve the occasion by a little moralizing, no matter in how loving a spirit. This is a hard don't, for no one is so anxious to help a child toward perfection as is the parent, yet it surely leads to an avoidance of the moments alone together, which should be times of happy confidences. "Neither should a parent correct the child before others. Never mind if a well meaning relative does say, 'My dear, I am surprised that you do not show more force of character; your children are suffering from a lack of discipline.' Pass the matter over till you and the small offender can have it out alone. If the circumstances are such that it can not be passed over take him out of the room."

BLUE TIP WATERMELONS NOW THE LATEST STYLE.

Housewives, don't fight shy of the watermelon with a blue top on its tail. That's the style. Officially adopted and vouched for by the department of agriculture. It also makes the watermelon the most patriotic fruit we grow. Red center, white rind and blue tail.

Painting the tails of watermelons with a paste made of bluestone and starch prevents stem-end rots, which have caused vast losses heretofore in shipments of melons. The blue tip on its tail doesn't hurt the fruit at all, just keeps it.

You needn't worry either if some hurried, careless grower lets the blue tip wander sloppily up on the body of the melon. That doesn't hurt it, either.

HORACE IN WONDERLAND.
(Part Two.)
Continued his "Weston" up the street of Wonderland, Horace came to a cross street and brought his pedals to a whoa, to let a gas chariot ramble by. Well, folks, you know Horace is in Wonderland so don't get twisted with the knives and forks. The autolist stopped a goodly distance back of the pedestrian's path and with a smile acknowledged Horace's right of way and told him to proceed without fear of being knocked down and backed up over.

When Bill gets his fall
His chance of recovery
Will be more than slim.

So farewell, old boy,
Here's a push just to help
Send you tumbling;

Well, that's what, yezzi! Horace took out his bugle cloth to wipe the chilly trickles of perspiration that started to cascade down his brow.

Now citizens be calm, sit tight. A newsboy saw the move of Horace's to the get pocket for his tear sponge, and did he mistake Horace's motive and do a high hurdle standing jump toward Horace's adam apple with the latest edition? No patrons, nay! He remained motionless as a messenger boy—Hasn't forgot, this is in Wonderland!

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.—Advertisement.

NEW SOLDIERS SAY GOOD BYE

There Are Tear Lit Smiles as Friends Gather in Grey Dawn.

EVERY DAY WILL SEE MORE YOUNG MEN GO

City Districts Announce Names of Those Who Depart Later in the Week.

Smiles, struggling through tears, bade "good-bye" to the young men who left Fort Wayne, as the first quota for the national army, Wednesday morning.

There were solemn farewells from half a dozen quiet groups when the selected men gathered at the Grand Rapids & Indiana passenger station to await the train which bore away the first contingent of the new fighting force.

There were scenes such as have moved the American heart since the opening of the war. There was the father's quaking sorrow, the mother's sobbing grief. Firm handshakes and wry appearing smiles accompanied the many expressions of "Good-bye and God bless you."

A crowd of half a hundred people were left standing in the station lobby when the new recruits pushed their way through the opening in the polished railing and hurried for the waiting train, in answer to the last call of the heavy voiced announcer. The near relatives and friends watched their parting warriors until the men turned at the foot of the stairs, which lead directly to the tracks.

"I know he will be a brave boy and a true one," wept one mother as loving arms escorted her son from the station.

Every Man at His Post.

All of the six recruits, who go as the first division called from the city, were at the station, at least ten minutes before train time. Some of their friends had been waiting for many minutes in the foggy dawn for the arrival of the future soldiers at the depot. Every man of the half dozen was surrounded by a small group of his near friends and relatives.

A part of the men carried bundles of supplies. Four of the number were decorated by new wrist watches.

"We are ready," was the one expression from all the future fighters as they gathered on the platform to await the starting of the train.

"We are going after the Kaiser's goat," explained one of the number.

Like Days to Come.

The impressive scenes of the little groups of men and women gathered about the young fellows who are about to leave for training camps and which pictures recall the suppressed sorrow and sacrificing devotion of democracy's people in other dark days of the republic will become quite the common thing from now on.

On every other morning this week there will be the gatherings at the G. R. & I. station at the foot of Harrison street. There will be loving words in low tones. There will be encouraging sentences and expressions of undying confidence. There will be the smiles and tears. Fort Wayne is giving her best to make democracy secure.

The young men who will leave on Thursday morning at 8:25 o'clock (central time) over the G. R. & I. are:

District No. 1—Herman Berghoff, East Jefferson street; Leo Lauer, Lafayette street.

District No. 2—Edward D. Pierre, 1004 West Washington street; Harry Weisbecker, 618 Cherry street.

District No. 3—E. K. Harknider, 2431 South Hanna street; George A. Bangart, 120 East Woodland avenue.

Those who will leave on Friday are:

District No. 1—None.

District No. 2—Theodore Strouse, 342 Baker street.

District No. 3—Elmer Groch, 2701 Hanna street; Alphonse Buoret, 446 East DeWald street.

The men who go to Camp Taylor, Ky., where the national army soldiers are to be trained, on Saturday are:

District No. 1—Arthur C. Koenig, 1002 East Washington street; Herman J. Adams, 924 Madison street.

District No. 2—Charles Osterman, 815 West Superior street.

District No. 3—M. D. Fairman, 129 East Pontiac street; Elvin C. Blair, 1131 Pontiac street.

MYERS QUILTS TRACTION JOB; HART NAMED

Announcement was made Wednesday of the appointment of Charles B. Hart as head of the new business department of the light and power office of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, succeeding E. S. Myers, who has resigned and is leaving the city. Mr. Myers also was electrical engineer of the light and power department and his successor as such will be announced in a few days. The two positions in the future are to be separated, with different heads over each. Mr. Hart has been with the traction company for the past ten or twelve years, and is thoroughly familiar with the duties to which he has been assigned.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS DAYS ARE LONG GONE

Brotherly Love Comes Second to Family Cares, Says Judge.

The thrill which Damon and Pythias gave the world by their steadfast devotion did not move Judge H. W. Kerr in police court, Wednesday morning, when Bride Defendant, 28, charged with child neglect, told how he has nourished his crippled brother.

Defendant has contributed but little towards the keeping of his family during the past two months although he has been following the circuit of a thrashing ring, near Zanesville. The man explained to Judge Kerr, in city court, that he has been spending his money on his brother, who is an invalid.

"Your family first," said the judge. "Brotherly affection is grand and noble but when a man takes a wife and brings children into the world he pledges himself to give them the first fruits of his effort. Society does not allow a man to neglect his family in order to keep a brother."

Defendant told that he had supported his wife and three children when he was employed in Fort Wayne last winter. He agreed to take care of them again. He gave his wife $8 just before his arrest, he told and his wife corroborated the statement. The man will be given until September 12 to display to the court his good intentions in the way of providing for his family.

Bad Fishing Trip.

The fishing trip which Elva Ross and William Moore, both colored, took along the murmuring St. Joe river, Tuesday, had disastrous results. There was a third member of the angling party. He formed another side of the triangle. He talked with Miss Ross when she was not biting.

William boldly expressed his disapproval at the marked attention which his friend had given to the crowd forming member of the expedition, when the party had returned to the city and properly debanded, Tuesday evening. Miss Ross told Moore that he was not the only flounder in the sea of human activities.

Moore hit his lady friend right in the eye as the pair stood quarreling at the corner of Gay and Wallace streets, shortly after dark. The woman fell to the street in a heap. An officer ran to the scene and arrested both of the quarrelsome fishers. Miss Ross and Moore faced charges of disorderly conduct in police court.

"Why did he hit you in the eye?" queried Judge Kerr, after the girl had lifted her drooping head and displayed what looked like an ink colored hen egg above her right optic.

"That was right where he was looking when he hit, was the reason, I guess," said the girl.

Both Moore and Miss Ross were fined $20 and costs. They went to jail. Bound Over.

A young man who gave the name of Fred Miller but who police say is William Weber, 2014 Hanna street, was bound to circuit court on a charge of grand larceny. He pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing an automobile tire valued at $54.

The court removed the new tire from a house owned by Mrs. Frances Malloy, milliner, and which house was closed during the time that it was undergoing repairs, the lad admitted, in court.

Other Police Court Cases.

Mrs. Rose Roberts, colored, was discharged from a complaint which alleged that she was the mistress of a disorderly house.

William Parks, convicted of loitering, was fined $10 and costs.

Cases of public intoxication were: William Meyers, fined $50 and costs; Frank Zuber and George Keller to be tried on September 19; John Kelly, to be tried on Saturday. Frank McConnell and Patrick O'Brien were released.

INDIANA BOYS ARE MOVING

Selected Men from All Parts of State Start for Louisville.

Some Counties Permitted to Send Their Full Quotas Forward.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—After having passed last night in charge of the conscription boards of their respective districts, most of the Indiana men to make the first increment of five per cent. of the first quota, left on early morning trains for Louisville. A large number of the men left on trains that would get them to Louisville at 7:30 a. m.

Some of the district boards, however, adopted the plan of sending 1 per cent. of their first increment each day for five days.

Ten Indiana counties asked, however, if they might not send their complete quotas for the first call of drafted men this week.

Permission was granted by the officers at Fort Taylor and the increased numbers from those counties will more than make up for the slow arrival of men from other counties. The names of the counties to send their full quotas at this time were not announced.

In many parts of the state last night, farewell celebrations of a small scale were held for the first men to leave for the national army camp. In some cases the farewells consisted of home cooked meals at churches or schools in the neighborhood.

CAMP TAYLOR READY.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—Every detail was completed today for the reception here at Camp Taylor of the first five per cent. of the first increment of the national army drawn from Kentucky, Indiana and a part of Illinois. About 2,100 men are included in this contingent.

Details of officers were at hand at all the depots early in the day to receive the arrivals from nearby points.

At the camp three entrances were provided with the name of each of the states from which the soldiers to be trained here will come, posted above them. At these gates were a waiting escort to guide the men to their quarters.

Beds and bedding were the only equipment awaiting distribution to the men. Other equipments will be issued to each man as he passes the physical examination he will receive at the hands of medical officers at the camp.

WOES OF THE RUSSIAN ARISTOCRACY VOICED

Trial of Former Minister of War Brings Out Some of the Scandals.

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—The testimony of T. Gutichoff, president of the third duma, against Colonel Miasoedoff in the trial of M. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, and his wife, charged, respectively, with high treason and as an accomplice in the crime was answered yesterday by M. Soukhomlinoff, who declared that he had no reason to suspect the colonel of being a spy.

The former war minister admitted receiving a number of letters reflecting on Miasoedoff, but said that he would have had no assistants left if he had dismissed everybody who was similarly accused.

Mme. Mersoloff, a cousin of Mme. Soukhomlinoff, testified concerning M. Soukhomlinoff's unhappy childhood. The father deserted the family, she said, leaving them poor, and Mme. Soukhomlinoff finished off her education with great difficulty. She supported herself and her mother, refusing help from her father. She married a rich house owner and left him after one day, eventually returning to him and living unhappy for some years. The witness recounted how her cousin, attempted suicide after her husband had beaten her and that she finally left him, obtained a divorce and married Soukhomlinoff.

The Soukhomlinoffs, according to the witness, lived simply and she added that, although Mme. Soukhomlinoff dressed well and spent much time abroad, she worked hard during the war organizing hospitals and other charities. Mme. Mersoloff also testified concerning her relations with Mme. Chervinskaya, who was a witness earlier in the trial for the prosecution. She said that Mme. Chervinskaya was a relative of her first husband that he regarded all of his relatives as secondaries.

The witness said that she lived much abroad with Mme. Chervinskaya, but broke her because of her relations with Prince Andronikoff.

Prince Andronikoff on being recalled as a witness testified that he wrote to the former Emperor Nicholas early in the war recommending Soukhomlinoff's dismissal. He admitted that he also asked for the dismissal of various other ministers and officials.

The walnut crop of California in 1916 netted $2,882,314.

COUNTRY STORE FOR ELKS' BIG OUTING

"Pic of Picnics" Expected to Solve High Cost of Living.

The Elks who will have the good fortune to attend the Elks' "pic of picnics" on next Sunday at the Elks' country club, will have the rare pleasure of visiting a real country store and the rustic surroundings of the beautiful country club. From the left side of the store, of which Frank Stouder is sole proprietor, busy clerks can throw their wares out of the store and into the waters of the St. Joe river. The roof will be the bouge of the beautiful low hanging birch, oak and elm trees that abound on the grounds, on which the clerks can hang their aprons and credit slips, while the customers can use the branches for fans while tarrying to be waited upon. The shelving and hooks for the display of wares will be suspended from the south wall of the pavilion. The charm of the store is that cost will not have to enter the customers' calculations. Everything will be free—ham, flour, potatoes, rice, suspenders, rat traps, hats, razors, even a violin. Men who in the early days learned the general art of wrapping packages and making customers pleased with indifferent service will be there with their old smiles, somewhat faded, but polished up for the occasion to greet their one day customers as they did in the days of yore. Practically all of these would-be clerks lost in their early days in that particular line because they nearly bankrupted their employers while trying to make change. This more than anything else accounts for the plan of making no charges at the country store. They will only look to collect the thanks and kicks of their Sunday customers. After competitive tests and blackletter tests from former employers, Proprietor Frank Stouder selected the following clerks:

Sam Wolf, Peter Deitsch, Wm. E. Rank, J. Frank Voirel, John Heiny, Henry Higleman, Charles Niezer, Maurice Freiberger, Will Rastetter, Louis Heilbroner, John H. Peters, Will Wilson, Gus Brane, Byron Hattersley, Will Pelter, G. A. Rabus, William B. Klett, Albert Joyce, Chas. Reuss, Val Ewig, Gene Martin, Ross Lindemuth, Charles Deitz, Frank Moresches, Thomas Lane, Dr. J. E. McCardle and Dr. Edward H. Kruse.

All customers who are not satisfied will be requested to call on Monday to make exchanges. The committee, however, will not guarantee that the clerks will be in the state on that day. Through circular letters the Elks have been notified to bring nothing but bread baskets as all store articles must be carried away in their arms.

Two Nights for Boys to Register

All Names of Boys Not Registering Will Be Certified.

Wednesday and Thursday nights this week from 6:30 to 9 will be the last opportunity for boys of Fort Wayne to register in the United States Boys' Working Reserve for boys between the ages of 16 and 21. All boys who have not registered and who do not register on the two remaining evenings will be certified to the federal authorities at Indianapolis.

The places of registration will be the same as heretofore, the Hoagland, Harmon, Hanna and Johnson schools, according to A. L. McDonald, who is in charge of the Boys' Working Reserve in the city of Fort Wayne. It has been explained time and again, according to Mr. McDonald that the registration has nothing of a military character in connection with it. He has asked that all boys who have already registered and not returned cards do so at once at the registration places.

Indorsement has been given the movement in other counties and the plan is being worked in some places with greater success than here. The findings of the Montgomery County Defense Council to the State Council are of interest.

"We, the undersigned citizens, having been requested to make such examination for the county and that there is no objection whatever with this organization and the military matters of the country; that there will be no attempt in any way whatever through this organization to draw members into the army or navy or in any way press them into military service, and that through this organization the boy will in no way take any obligation that will in any way connect him with such service. The Boys' Reserve is an organization made up of the boys of 16 and 21 and the purpose is to see that they are not idle."

"You have the assurance of the president of the United States, of the governor of the state of Indiana, of the secretary of labor and of your own County Council of Defense, that the organization is in good faith; that no fraud of any kind will be practiced upon the boy or the parent."

HEADQUARTERS OPENED.

Democrats Will Conduct Campaign From K. of P. Building.

Democratic headquarters which were opened for the campaign in the coming city election for the first time Tuesday, is regarded as the opening gun of the big political campaign expected to take place this fall. The headquarters of the democratic party are on the first floor of the K. of P. building on West Washington boulevard. Herman Myers, secretary of the city committee, is in charge of the headquarters. The new location will seat about 500 persons and it is the intention of the committee to hold meetings there.

COULD LEAVE IN TWO HOURS

Everything in Readiness for Departure of Company E Friday.

WORD GREETED BY ENTHUSIASM

Patriotic Council Planning Demonstration for Occasion.

After weeks of waiting and expectancy the order to leave for the mobilization camp finally came to the 135 men who comprise Company E, First Indiana infantry, a part of Fort Wayne's contribution to the cause of America in the war, to leave for Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Everything has been in readiness for the removal for days and it was with a mingled feeling of regret at leaving the home town and a feeling of exultation at finally getting into the big work that moved the young men when the order from the captain and Adjutant Nicholai, of the First regiment, was read Wednesday morning. After Captain McAdams had finished reading the order which takes the local boys away from home a big round of cheers rent the room of the library hall where the soldiers have been encamped. The first intimation of the move to the fort was the order to the central department at Chicago, which called for the concentration. It was expected by many that the call for the local company would come Tuesday, but in this they were due for a disappointment, as it was evidently considered more expeditious for the troops to receive notice and transportation at the same time.

The committee on escort of the Allen County Patriotic Council, which has been awaiting the departure of one or either of the local companies for some time, will be in charge of whatever demonstration takes place before the boys leave. President Scheimann, of the council, said that the committee, headed by Charles Nubergall, would have the affair in charge and that it had plans already laid for the celebration. Arrangements have been made with the Red Cross and other organizations to take part in the proceedings and nothing will be overlooked toward giving the young men of the company a suitable send off, according to Mr. Scheimann.

The company has stood ready to leave within two hours at any time, according to one of the officers of the company and the departure Friday will need little preparation. Inasmuch as the tentage belonging to the company has not been used the principal thing to be done before leaving will be the packing of bunks. The members of the local company do not know when they arrive at Fort Harrison whether they will be in the barracks or in camp, but quarters have already been prepared and the lot in that respect.

Company E, which received notice several days ago, to be ready to leave on forty-eight hours' notice, has received no further word.

A move was made Wednesday, but it was not a move that brought the members of Company E any nearer the front but a move that took them from their quarters in the Lincoln township school building and took them back to the old quarters at the Concordia college.

BAR ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES REFORMS

Memorial to State and Federal Courts for Shorter Opinions Favored.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The presentation of a memorial to the United States and state courts requesting a conscientious effort at the shortening of opinions, was recommended today by the committee on reports and digests, which reported that the average length of judicial opinions has increased thirty per cent. in the last twenty years.

The report embodied a suggestion that the judicial opinions should not "give the impression of being discoveries by the judges of what they never knew before, but that they should read as if the judge knew the existing state of the decisions and assumed that every one else did, and that it was his business to show the necessary development from established principles and their application to the particular case."

The committee asserted that increasing volume of reported cases is a burden for which some relief must be found.

Other reports offered for action included the indorsement of the contention of the United States that Germany has violated the provisions of international law by its method of warfare and condemnation of socialism.

WIDOW OF MILLIONS WEDS FAMOUS BRITON

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Helen Swift Morris, widow of the late Edward Morris, Chicago packer, was married last night at her home here to Francis Neilson, former liberal member of the British house of commons of the Hyde division of Cheshire, it was announced today. The marriage was precipitated by the departure of Mrs. Neilson's son, Captain Nelson Morris, for a training camp, and was declared to be a surprise even to the immediate members of the family.

Francis Neilson has attained prominence for his espousal of the single tax. He is a great grandson of David Hume, the historian and cousin of Gladstone, the statesman. His home is in Boston.

DISTRICT RECRUITERS WILL HOLD BANQUET

To celebrate their success in obtaining new soldiers, the booster club of recruiting officers for the regular army of the Fort Wayne district, will hold a banquet in the Oliver hotel, South Bend, on Saturday night. New methods in recruiting will be discussed. The Fort Wayne district has led all of the United States in recruiting since November of last year.

FAREWELL GIVEN TO BOYS OF NEW ARMY

Mass Meeting at Majestic Follows Monster Parade Tuesday Evening.

Fitting tribute was paid to Fort Wayne's contribution to the new national army at a farewell demonstration held Tuesday evening. Hundreds participated in the monster parade that was given in their honor and many thousands were lined along the streets to witness it. Following the parade a mass meeting was held at the Majestic theater, at which time God speed to the new soldiers soon to be engaged in the greatest war in the world's history was extended by a Catholic priest, a Lutheran professor and a Protestant minister.

The parade was marshalled by Major John E. Miller. The men of the new national army were preceded by the patriotic committees and officers, the Elks' band and various military units. All along the way they were greeted with applause. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, gray and bent with the years, who over fifty years ago offered their lives that the union might be preserved, took a prominent part in the parade. They, too, were applauded as they marched.

Throughout the entire evening's demonstration there was a spirit of solemnity and seriousness. The occasion was not one of rejoicing. There were many tears in evidence throughout the entire evening.

William H. Scheimann, president of the Fort Wayne Council of Patriotic Service, presided at the meeting at the Majestic. Rev. Father H. Quinlan was the first speaker introduced. Prof. Louis Dorn followed and Rev. Arthur J. Folsom was the third speaker. Farewell words on behalf of Fort Wayne to the young men selected for service in the national army were spoken by Mayor William J. Hoesy.

The quartet of the First Presbyterian church, composed of Edith Nickell, Balthie, soprano; Mrs. W. C. Cleary, contralto; Chester Hostler, tenor, and Ferd Urbahn, bass, with Mrs. Urbahn as accompanist, sang "Come Thou Almighty King" and "The Soldier's Farewell." The meeting adjourned by the entire audience singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

WOMAN AUTO DRIVER TAKES PART IN SMASH

Jacob Shaffer is Hurt When Two Machines Come Together.

Jacob Shaffer, living on rural route No. 5, was injured about the head and his left hip badly bruised shortly after dark Tuesday evening when the automobile in which he was riding took part in a corner crash. He was taken to Hope hospital for temporary treatment. Later he was removed to his home. His condition is not serious.

Maude Shaffer was driving the car in which Jacob Shaffer was an occupant. The woman was uninjured as the oncoming machine struck the side of the car away from the woman's side. James Palmer, 313 West Pontiac street, was in charge of the other automobile when the two cars came together at the corner of Hoagland avenue and Pontiac street.

Both the woman chauffeur and Palmer made police reports to the effect that the other was speeding.

On Friday night a union scout rally will be held under the direct supervision of Commissioner L. O. Wetzel and Deputy Commissioner C. J. Hutchinson and on Saturday a field meet at Swinney park. Scout day will be observed in practically all the churches next Sunday and on Monday a dinner will be served to the members of the various teams. The actual work of the campaign will start on Tuesday and continue for three days. Headquarters have been established at the Commercial club.

There are fifteen Boy Scout troops in Fort Wayne at the present time, with a total membership of 650. Under the new system Mr. York predicts that within one year there will be 1,200 scouts and within two years, 1,500.

MORE MEN WANTED FOR HOSPITAL UNIT

Pay for Private in Red Cross Company Equals Corporal in Ranks.

The local Red Cross hospital unit has been authorized to enlist twenty-five more orderlies, whose pay will be the same as that of a corporal in the ranks of the regular army. Men who join this organization will be exempted from draft. They will remain in Fort Wayne until called out for regular service.

The medical enlisted reserve corps offers a very desirable line of service with a scope of varied activities. The unit "M," representing Fort Wayne, is made up of twelve physicians, twenty nurses and fifty orderlies.

Young men who desire to learn more of the hospital company will call up on Dr. H. O. Krugman, at his office, 1020 Harrison street.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 5.—The Cleveland American league team made an automobile trip to Akron, O., this morning to meet the Akron semi-professional team in an exhibition game. Manager Lee F. of the Cleveland team, was formerly n

Louis in 1914. Armement was pitted against Red Rudy in a match race and came out of three of the three mile races, winners' time on each beat being 2:4, 2:26 and 2:27 1-5. Rudy has challenged Armement for another match and N. A. P. A. has been asked to include it in the program of events to be staged here. If it is included it will not carry any part of the purse but will be for a valuable side bet of $500. As Rudy is well known here and Armement also has a strong local following, this match should prove to be of considerable interest. It has practically been decided to make one of the five events scheduled an amateur purse-for-all to be styled the ten-mile "doozer" amateur derby, and to limit the entries to non-professional drivers who are residents of Indiana. This action has been decidedly expressed in the virtual deluge of requests from neighboring counties, and will prove of keen local interest as it is known that at least two Fort Wayne "speed boys" will compete.

Charlie Herzog, the great second baseman of the Giants, who had to be carried off the field in Brooklyn, may not be able to play in another game this season. The team has already clinched the pennant. The loss will make no difference in the National league race but may seriously affect the Giants' chances in the world series if Herzog should not recover in time to take part in the post-season play.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when cured, perfect hearing is restored. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, deafness will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrhal Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrhal Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT UKRAINIAN PERIL; RUSSIA ISN'T FALLING TO SMITHEREENS, SAYS RUSSELL
Disregard the Flood of Gloom That is Poured Out by the Dismal Dopers. Says Returned Observer for Everything in Russia is Growing Slowly But Surely Better.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.
Russia is the Land of Horrible Things to Be.
No matter how carelessly you may read your newspaper you must have noticed that fact.
In Russia, according to some newspapers, everything is always going to the bad.
One day hideous anarchy rears its appalling head. The next day the troops are about to revolt. The next day Riga is about to fall. The next day Petrograd is about to be evacuated. Finland is about to revolt. The Russian army is about to flee in disorder.
All is lost, always. There isn't a ray of hope.
If you were to turn back to the files and reread the dispatches of some correspondents you would see that since the day of the revolution every stricken thing has been sadder in gloom of which the best that could be said was that the condition today was not quite so bad as it would be tomorrow.
Nothing good has happened since the czar got the swift kick. Apparently heaven is avenging that act of hapily by plunging the country every day into a lower abyss or ruin.
Disaffection is spreading rapidly among the soldiers. The duma, "the only constitutional body in the country," has ceased to exercise any power, and that means black despair. Kerensky has been made dictator, but no one will allow him to dictate, so there is no hope there. The warring factions in Russia are terrible. They even have disputes. The conservative elements are being overwhelmed by the ferocious radicals, who plan to eat everybody alive. The country is hopelessly bankrupt; the rouble went down another eighth of a cent yesterday and of course that means the collapse of Russia tomorrow. The anarchists have seized a palace today and tomorrow will blow up everybody. All is lost. And then there are the Ukrainians. Ah, yes! The Ukrainians. Well, if there were nothing else to tinge all the horizon with funeral black, the Ukrainians would still be sufficient for the job. The Ukrainians are terrible fellows. They have revolted and declared their independence, or if they haven't today they will tomorrow. Then they will march upon Petrograd and murder us all in our beds, and low will you feel then, you people that have been saying perhaps there is still a chance on earth? When the Ukrainians have killed everybody they will make an alliance with Germany and the German flag will float over our graves. And I guess that will hold you for awhile.
For more than five months this flood of gloom has been poured over the columns of British and American newspapers, and the dismal dopers are still at it day by day, totally undiscouraged by the fact that not one of their melancholy prophecies has ever come true.
For the amazing fact is that while all these Jeremiahs are woe-stricken at the approach of disaster, Russia goes its way utterly unaware that it is all smashed up or about to be.
Instead of getting worse, everything in Russia gets slowly, but surely, better.
The shock, incident to a tremendous change in government is passing, the people are finding themselves and perceiving what they must do to save the revolution, discipline is coming back to the army, the dreams of an instant Utopia are giving place to realities, the new machine is beginning to work.
But I suppose that if the Angel Gabriel came down and set up in Russia the most perfect government ever known, the Dismal Dopers of the British press (from whom we get the greater part of our misinformation) would still see Riga surrendering, the anarchists cutting throats and the Ukrainians marching upon us to murder us in our beds.
I think it is about time to call off some of these Amalgamated Sons of Woe and afford them much needed rest.
They all begin with one fundamental error and then build resolutely on that, making the facts fit their theory.
The error is that the Russians are totally unfit for self-government. Why? Because they have never had any experience or training, because this National Council of Workmen, Soldiers and Peasants' Delegates (the only governing body in Russia) is composed of low, common, ignorant men, schwander, Abraham Steiner and family, Levi Gable and family, Iven Klopfeinsten and family, Ben S. Gerig and family, Albert Schlatter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lantz, Amos Witmer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neumannschwander and David Souder and family.
Ruben Klopfeinsten and Miss Beatrice Roberts, of Port Wayne, spent Sunday and Monday with relatives here.
The Grabbill schools will open for the fall and winter term on Monday, September 16th.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Klopfeinsten have returned to their home in Port Wayne, after spending a week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klopfeinsten, here.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schlatter are the parents of a baby girl.
F. D. Tope and family motored to Payne, O., to spend Labor Day.
Mrs. Myrtle Swift, of State street, will entertain the members of the W. C. T. U. at her home on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the monthly business meeting.
Miss Josie Souder, of Berne, Ind., spent a few days with friends and relatives here.
Mrs. Simon Gerig is ill with an attack of typhoid fever.
James Ringenberg, of Brinsmade, N. D., arrived here to visit with relatives for a few weeks.
Frank Muller opened his cider mill for the fall season, although the apple crop is not so promising as last year.

Eighty Years Young -- Physician Says Nuxated Iron Did It
How Would You Like to Feel Like a Boy Again, Full of Energy, Vim and Vigor, With a Strong, Elastic, Forceful Step, Instead of That Nervous, Shambling Gait?

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down Folks 100 Percent in Two Weeks' Time.

PUT ME AMONGST THE GIRLS
And Boys—I'll be glad if that there Nuxated Iron hasn't made me feel like a boy again; full of vim and vigor—it certainly has the "kick" in it.

Henceforth I shall not be without it. I am in a position to testify for the advantage of others, to the remarkable and immediate helpfulness of this remedy, and I unhesitatingly recommend Nuxated Iron to all who feel the need of renewed energy and the regularity of bodily functions.
Dr. F. E. Baker, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and great European Medical Institutions, said: "Nuxated Iron is a wonderful remedy. I have long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty, and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man. In fact a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—Nuxated Iron. He had filled him with renewed life. At 40 he was in bad health; now at 60, after taking Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth."
If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down instead of dealing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die yearly from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble, and other dangerous maladies. Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron, which has been used by Dr. Bayer and others with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the stomach, on the contrary it is a potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such a great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Advertising in The Sentinel Lowers the Cost of Selling

This is not a time for haphazard business methods.

Clear thinking must convince you that advertising lowers the cost of selling and consequently it lowers the cost of a product to the ultimate consumer.

Advertising is the greatest price reducer of business. It brings increased demand and thus allows for economies of large production and broad scale buying. This decreases proportionate overhead. Advertising is equally effective for distributing or retailing. There is no honest product whose selling cost and hence its selling price can not be reduced by advertising of some kind. And there are very few propositions that can not be profitably merchandised through The Sentinel advertising.

The Sentinel realizes the waste of carrying advertising that does not bring profitable results. This is not a time for careless business. If The Sentinel believes your business can be helped through its advertising columns, every effort will be made through the soliciting force to show you the merits of Sentinel publicity. On the other hand if The Sentinel is convinced that its advertising will not pay you, The Sentinel will tell you so just as frankly.

Sentinel expert advertising men are at your service and ready at all times to help you solve your merchandising problems. Do not hesitate to call for one of them.

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost of one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin. Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.—Advertisement.

SACRIFICE OF WOMAN IN WORLD WAR

MRS. D. F. BUSH

MRS. THEO. BENOIST

MRS. FRANK V. HAMMAR

MRS. W. R. CHIVVIS

MRS. PHILIP N. MOORE

Greatest Service She Can Give Her Country, Leaders in "War" Organizations Agree, Is to Offer Her Son—Care in Utilizing the Resources of the Country in the Home—Red Cross Work.

Mary Roberts Rinehart.
WOMAN has been an important factor in the wars of the world, sacrificing more and gaining less, probably, than her mate. For all time the first sharp terror of fighting to come have been felt in the hearts of the gentler sex. She it is who thinks first of the sacrifice and then of the glory. Man's first thought is of glory, the idea of sacrifice creeping into his mind only as actual battle comes near.

Woman has much at stake and little of the action that buys the fighting man through the suffering and terrors of the campaign. The woman must offer her husband and sons and then wait.

Never, however, has she failed in the emergency to do what she can for her country, and the mysterious force she wields far back of the fighting line has done much to make victory possible or lend solace to defeat.

All over America in the present war women are organizing and planning for the crisis, and hundreds of organizations are being perfected. The eternal question always is upmost in the minds of the women of the country, "How best can a woman assist her country in time of war?"

Prominent members of various women's "war" organizations have been called on to answer the question, among them being the following:

Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the National Council of Women.

Mrs. B. F. Bush, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the Women's Council for National Defense.

Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Red Cross, and member of the National Women's Committee.

Mrs. George Gellhorn, chairman of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation.

Mrs. Theodore Benoist, president of the Catholic Women's League.

Mrs. W. R. Chivvis, former president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs, and auditor of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation.

First of all, a woman's greatest duty is to give her sons. The women who contribute to this symposium, some of whom have given their sons, or are soon to do so, place that duty above all others.

They tell other ways in which women may most effectively assist their country.

By Mrs. Theodore Benoist.
THE question of "How a woman can assist her country at war" is such a big one. First, last, and all the time, by giving. Giving her husband, her sweetheart, her sons. By giving, I mean to give freely—I would almost say, gladly. What greater privilege can a woman have than giving a man to her country, and if that woman is the mother of sons, and they volunteer and are accepted, she should thank God every day of her life that she is supplying the bone and shew and good red blood to bring this horrible war to a successful issue; and, after she has given her sons with a smile on her lips (and may be black fear at her heart) for the boys mustn't think "mother" is a "quitter," then let her work.

Let her conserve the food, keep the home, work for the Red Cross, knit for the navy, and in camp relief work and above all, be courageous, encourage others and keep on smiling.

A brave heart conquers all things.

By Mrs. B. F. Bush.
THE greatest thing a woman can do to assist her country in war is to do the thing she can do best, and every woman will be given an opportunity to say what she can do.

In the business world, of course, will be the giving of her sons. But one of the vitally important things the war has brought up to her is the abolishment of all waste.

In the business world, no matter how big or wealthy the corporation, waste-fulsness is not permitted. The efficiency expert is an accepted institution. This same spirit should now be carried into the household work.

Discipline and guiding intelligence should prevail in the kitchen and pantry just as it does in the workshop and office.

Industry for some time now has been warned that it must get itself upon the most efficient basis successfully to meet the economic struggle that it is predicted will follow the end of the war. Should not then the women play their part by getting the homemaking industry of the country upon the same basis of efficiency?

By Mrs. W. R. Chivvis.
A WOMAN can best assist her country in war by preventing waste and being ready for any emergency.

To be ready for any emergency she must prepare herself for service—not necessarily military service, for I believe women have a greater work in war—service at home. She no doubt will be called upon to do work of men at the front and it will be her opportunity to assist in winning the war.

The greatest thing a mother can do to help her country now is to give her sons. This is the greatest of all sacrifices—mothers always suffer most in war. I have sent to 20,000 members of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs pledge cards, and more than half of them have been returned signed. This pledge embodies some points in the answer of the question how women can most effectively help their country. The pledge follows:

"In view of the pressing military necessity of conserving food I hereby pledge to do my bit as follows:

"I will use only those amounts of food required for adequate nourishment.

"I will endeavor to control waste of all kinds of material in the household and to live simply.

"I will begin NOW."

By Mrs. Philip N. Moore.
HOW can a woman best assist her country at war?

That is the question we are now trying to determine by means of registration of women.

First women must mobilize. Their effort must be organized. We are enrolling 1,000,000 women as an arm of the country's resources. We are asking women who register "What work do you prefer? What work are you trained to do? Will your services be voluntary?" In asking the last question we recognize that many women are not in a position to serve without pay.

There are eight branches of service in which women may employ themselves. They are:

That which concerns occupations of men called to war.

Service in the Red Cross hospitals, in the field or in local organizations.

Food conservation and elimination of waste.

Motor service, open to candidates with a knowledge of operating an automobile.

Instruction—Teaching Americanism and loyalty.

Industrial Service—in munition plants, factories, etc.

Social and Welfare Service—Taking care of soldiers' dependents.

Office Service—for stenographers and clerks.

By Mrs. Frank V. Hammar.
IT should be impressed upon the women that they are mobilized for service and mobilization means organization. We must get ready to care for the million men we are soon to have in France, and their dependents at home. And this work gives the women their greatest opportunity to assist their country.

Every citizen, women as well as men, should become a member of the Red Cross. He should live up to the slogan, "If You Can't Go, Give."

The Red Cross is the only relief agency authorized by the United States Government. Next to the fighting forces, its part in war is most important. Women who volunteer their services to the Red Cross should realize that this volunteer service must be standardized and organized, and every woman is expected to volunteer for Red Cross work.

We now have 120 organizations represented at Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis. The women report at the work-rooms on appointed days and are expected to be on time so that not a moment is lost.

In this branch of the work the women make the hospital supplies. To them will fall the task of supplying the base hospitals with bandages and all necessary surgical supplies. There is a threatened shortage of gauze, which can be alleviated by the manufacture of surgical sponges knitted from cotton.

Women are asked to save their old linen for the Red Cross. Those who cannot give time to work in the shops may do work at home. Every stitch counts.

In the workshops there is no class distinction. All women—rich and poor—work together. That is the redeeming thing about war and the fine thing about the Red Cross—they make for democracy. They bring all women together for common cause.

One thing that is important—the idea of responsibility must be developed among women.

We want them to realize that we are actually at war.

By Mrs. George Gellhorn.
HOW a woman may best assist her country in war? This is the question that confronts almost every woman of the world today. It means the possibility of universal service for women, and many and inspiring are the answers it has brought forth, from the heights of the woman who flies above the earth to the depths of the woman who delves beneath it, many are the paths by which loyal women have traveled to give their all to their country.

After Mr. Vrooman's visit to St. Louis on April 18, many women realized that through conservation of the food supply practically every woman could "do her bit," no matter how many other large slices she might already be responsible for.

The call came from Washington "conserve the food," and the men and women of St. Louis answered without a moment's hesitation, "we will." I say the men, because they have stood back of the women's efforts in an inspiring way, and have co-operated in every direction, giving whatever they have been asked to give; money, supplies, advice, office space, school buildings, time, or whatever else was wanted.

As to the women, they knew that conservation of food lay within their power and the enthusiasm with which the problem has been met would lead us to believe that great results will be proof of their loyalty.

The household waste of our country has been stated as exceeding $700,000,000 annually. The women of St. Louis organized under the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation to do their part in reducing this to a negligible amount.

Here are some results of effort which speak for themselves:

The Finance Committee of the Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation has exceeded by $2000, the sum it originally expected to raise. Its work is not done, because the enormous scope that has opened for the work makes larger funds necessary.

The Committee on Education after conducting the very first normal school on food conservation in the world, has been operating fifty-one schools on the same plan, covering every ward of the city. Under this same committee, the speaker's bureau has held ninety-two meetings specially arranged for food conservation propaganda throughout St. Louis and the county. It is running an information bureau, has distributed 130,000 pieces of food conservation literature, published a book of "Notes from Lectures on Food Conservation," has a department of dietetics, which provides menus that fulfill the needs of the human body and conform to various incomes, and also prepares conservation menus for clubs, restaurants and hotels.

Under the Department of Education there have been meetings with drymen, bakers, millers, grocers and handlers of produce to discuss the problem of commercial waste and its elimination.

The department of legislative regulation has had an interesting time mothering various bills before our Board of Aldermen such as the garbage plant bill.

Through co-operation with other organizations our committee has seen to a happy conclusion the bill permitting the sellers of truck garden produce to stand in designated places throughout the city.

A cold storage bill, some means of preventing the enormous waste through souring of milk in transportation, and all other food measures are carefully taken under advisement by our Legislative Committee and either advocated or discontinued at the public hearings in the City Hall.

Federal legislation is watched with interest and what little we may do to bring pressure to bear through influencing our representatives in Washington is under the charge of this responsible and efficient committee.

Under the fourth division of our work we co-operated with the Thrift Garden Committee of the Women's Council, in encouraging production and through the courtesy of the Missouri Botanical Garden whatever we have done in gardening, has been supervised by experts. He who runs must see the enormous increase in planting within the city, and most of it is producing fine results.

We have 1800 women working on various committees. The attendance of our fifty-one conservation schools has been conservatively estimated at between 4500 and 6000, we shall have the exact figures within the month.

TOO MUCH MOTHER- IN-LAW SAYS HUBBY And Worst Part of It, Theo- dore Ebert Says His Wife Agreed With Her.

Charging his mother-in-law with being the kind one hears so much about, Theodore Ebert filed suit in the superior court Wednesday asking for a divorce from Anna Ebert. However, all mother-in-law's are not like the one Ebert says he has, and it may be that even this one may not live up to all that Ebert says about her.

But nevertheless Ebert alleges his matrimonial experience has been everything but congenial. He says they were married on January 29, 1914, and separated in July, 1917. They have one child, Idona, ten years old. The husband says that they have been living with his wife's mother and that she defiantly refused to leave her and live in a home of their own.

Now this would not be so bad, but the aforesaid mother-in-law, he alleges, refused to let him use the lights in her house by which to read or even to use the furniture. She always told him to go to his room. He points out that he repeatedly called the fact of her mother's treatment to his wife, but she always sanctioned everything she did. Ebert, who lives on the Mayville road, is represented by Attorneys Emrick & Emrick.

CITIZENSHIP PAPERS Are Issued to Thirty-one Men and Two Women.

Citizenship papers were given to thirty-one men and two women, probably the first women ever naturalized in Fort Wayne, following hearings of petitions in the circuit court Tuesday before Judge J. W. Eggenman.

Miss Mary Noonan and Miss Mary Gertrude O'Dowd, both natives of Ireland, had their petitions for citizenship heard. This has become possible in Indiana only since the passage of the woman's suffrage law at the last session of the legislature. Others who became citizens were: Alfred Effenberger, Dennis J. Graneey, Leslie Stenley Tucker, Thomas Durnell, John Zekhi, Frank Zlawyzycki, Nicola Styanooof, Adam Wisniewski, James Trybally, Rudolph Humble, Harry Konisarsky, Jacob Klein, Eugene Barry, Thomas G. Moorehead, John Daley, Constantine Goveles, Fabli Mastoud, George Henry Butler, Whalyslaw Mazenarski, Ben Mautner, George Lazar, Harry Grosvenor, David Oestlin, Henry Beadell, James McNaughton, Jacob Hausenschild, Oscar Kunz, Reinhold Wolf, Anthony Conway and Phillip Wayer. Three were denied citizenship because of failure to take proper steps.

No German subjects appeared for naturalization with their petitions, and Judge Eggenman made the following announcement:

"The court, however, announces that if any applicant who was born in Germany desires to obtain appellate construction, decision would be made upon each petition presented."

"The United States statute of July 30, 1813, amending the act of April 14, 1802, known as section 2127 United States revised statute, provides: No alien who is a native citizen or subject or denizen of any country, state or sovereignty with which the United States is at war at the time of his application shall be then admitted to become a citizen of the United States."

"On its face this statute appears quite plain. It so happens that on the 6th day of April the congress of the United States passed a resolution declaring that a state of war existed between the United States and the imperial government of Germany and the government upon the authority of this statute objected to the issuance of certificates of naturalization to any petitioner born in Germany."

"The question arises, what is meant by the language, 'with which the United States is at war' etc? On one hand it may be alleged that 'at the time of his application' refers to the time of filing the formal written petition with the clerk of the court. On the other hand it may be alleged that the word 'application' means at the time of the hearing. When the law was originally passed 116 years ago it was the practice that the application was filed and the hearing held immediately. In the present law it is provided that ninety days must elapse between the time of filing the petition and the hearing of the same. So we have this situation: That when the law was passed in 1802 the term 'application' as then used referred to the time of presenting the petition to the clerk of the court. That law remained in force and now remains in force, but in 1908 the present naturalization law providing for the present routine of proceedings was passed and for the first time introduced the requirement of the filing by the applicant to procure naturalization. The court came to the conclusion that the statute means the same thing today as it did at the time it was passed in 1802 and is fortified by three or four decisions made by district federal courts. Therefore, the course which the court must pursue in respect to any petitions filed by German-born subjects, and any other petitions that may come before it for hearing during the time of the present hostilities between this country and Germany, the hearing thereon will be postponed until peace has been declared."

"It is needless to add that the interpretation of the statute cannot be made to depend upon considerations of equity or hardship respecting individual applicants. The statute has been the law of the land since 1802 and must be followed with respect to the application of any alien with whom we are engaged at war."

"It was ordered that no action be taken at this time upon the petitions filed by persons born in Germany, but that the same be continued and held in abeyance pending the final termination of the war between the United States and Germany, or affirmative relief granted by the congress."

CRIMINAL CASES. Four Pleas of Guilty Entered in Circuit Court.

AIR OFFENSIVE OF KAISER HAS LEAD HIS FOES

nately 1 a. m. forty bombs were dropped. The total casualties reported up to this time are: Killed, 9; injured, 40. The material damage is not extensive.

"One enemy machine is reported to have been brought down in the sea off Sligheach."

The first moonlight air raid over the London district occurred about midnight last night and resulted in the dropping of bombs, but the full extent of the damage is yet unknown.

One bomb fell just outside a hospital, another smashed through a theater, and still another hit a retail store in which a number of girls were sleeping. Notwithstanding the moonlight nothing could be seen of the raiders, although their engines could be heard overhead. That they were invisible was perhaps due to a slight haze which, however, was insufficient to obscure the moon. The raiders were constantly shelled by anti-aircraft guns and several British machines took the air to attack the invaders.

The streets were practically deserted at the time of the raid, it being long after theater hours. The few late street cars that were running either put out their lights or stopped. A message from a southeastern district says that apparently the invaders crossed the North sea in three successive groups and that they were all heavily shelled.

Discipline prevailed completely over any natural tendency to alarm in the barracks. All survivors were at their posts instantly and the greatest coolness was shown.

One Man's Story.
A naval man who was in the barracks at the time gave this account of the raid:

"Most of us were asleep in our hammocks in the dormitory which was in the large drill hall. We had no warning of any kind. Two clocks which were blown into the adjoining parade grounds, stopped at 11:12 o'clock, showing the hour of the explosions. I have been in some scrapes but I did not dream that anything so sudden could happen. Before we knew what was happening the roof was lifted off the shop, blown into the air and fell in a thousand pieces among the men. It was flying glass which was thick and heavy that did the damage. We were dashed out of our hammocks to the floor and all mixed up in broken glass. The men on either side of me were both killed. Officers were on the scene in a moment and worked with us the whole night getting the wounded to hospitals and the bodies to the gymnasium which was used as a morgue."

A man sleeping in a different section of the dormitory said that he did not wait to put on his shoes and did not know that he was walking on broken glass until long afterward when he found that his feet were bleeding.

Immortal of Herts.
Still another man with a piece of glass in his head did not know it at the shock of the explosion being so great and a man who was blown across the parade ground and who alighted on his feet declared that he did not feel any the worse for his experience.

Some of the injured men died during the night and the survivors complain bitterly about their companions being killed without an opportunity to strike back.

"If we have to die we want to die fighting," one blue jacket said. "Most of us have been fighting and we want another go at the Hun."

A remarkable feature of the raid was that a comparatively few people in the bombed area were aware that there had been an attack until they arose the following morning. One bomb struck a small cottage, one of a row. The tenant and his daughter who went into the garden to see what was happening escaped injury, but the wife remained in the house and was killed.

SUBMARINES BOMBARD TOWN.
London, Sept. 5.—Scarborough, on the English coast, was bombarded last night by a hostile submarine. It was officially announced today. About half the shells of the thirty rounds fired from the under sea boat landed, three persons being killed and five injured, but little material damage being caused.

LEWIS SEES PEACE NEAR

biter of the peace terms will accept any conditions that we would prescribe rather than continue a struggle where the cordons of the nations of the world are so tightened about her as would surely bring her to where she would have to take any terms the revenging allies will force upon her.

"The German people know that within the spirit of our institutions and under the motive that led us into this war, she need not fear vindictive exclusion of her people from the world's highways of trade."

"Woodrow Wilson has given Germany her choice. She will not lose her opportunity."

Senator Lewis said the issue had become a contest as to who should be king of the radicals, Senator Johnson, of California, the fiery Blanton, of the Pacific, or Senator La Follette, the avenging Gracchus of the west."

ITALIAN ARMY HAS SEIZED IMPORTANT ENEMY STRONGHOLD

The Italians discovered the entire equipment of an Austrian staff of brigade. The extraordinary variety of objects testified to the haste of the retreat. It included electric lights, kitchen utensils, ventilators and even love letters. Ravenna was the Austrian center of supplies for engineer troops and nearby were found stores of picks, shovels, hoes and wire cutters, entire outfits of electric equipments, miles of steel rails and an immeasurable number of rolls of barbed wire.

RUSSIANS RETIRING. A LUCKY GUY

an offensive in the Dvinsk region 110 miles up the Dvina, southwest from Riga, heavy fighting being reported. On the coast they took the fortified town at the mouth of the Dvina Duennauende, capturing undamaged all the heavy guns there, some of them in excess of twelve-inch caliber.

Italy's long years of preparation and General Cadorna's strategy and ability in the great offensive the Italian army are now waiting for Trieste. Although official announcement is lacking there seems little reason to question dispatches from various sources that Monte San Gabriele, the last of the Austrian strongholds in the Gorizia district, has been taken by the "Slacker" soldiers cried, and used other epithets. "Take that down; what are you doing with that?" they cried.

A crowd of hundreds collected in almost no time, and the demonstration was extended along the line of automobiles. "Those in the cars, numbering perhaps a hundred, wearing the so-called 'Big Bill' cowboy hats, pulled their sombreros over their eyes and sank deep in their seats. It was all over in a few minutes, the provost guard having acted promptly. The jam of the regular automobile traffic was straightened out and the mayoralty procession considerably disheveled, moved down the street amid boos and cries. The Kakanee fair is annually the scene of a political rally and recent gossip had it that the mayor's adherents intended to utilize it with reference to his future political fortunes as an anti-war leader. The city council yesterday, by a vote of 42 to 6, gave the mayor an invoice of 42 by commending the stand of Governor Lowden for energetic suppression of all anti-war agitation and propaganda."

The demonstrators were members of the Second Illinois field hospital corps, camped in Camp Grant on the lake front. Citizens joined in cries of "Slacker!" hurled at the mayor and his retinue while passing automobilists halted, some ostentatiously holding their noses as if in the presence of a stench.

The banner stripped from the mayor's car bore the legend "William Hale Thompson, republican club."

The outbreak was quelled by the appearance of officers of the hospital corps with the provost guard.

Motives of Leaders Questioned.
The motives of its leaders were sharply questioned. John Spargo, one of the leaders of the socialist party who left the organization because of its stand on the war declared that several weeks ago reports reached the troops in Russia that American labor bodies would demand peace through the people's council meeting.

"What can help the enemy more than such startling reports arising as they do from the activities of these pro-German organizations?" said Mr. Spargo. "It has even been reported that some of Kerensky's troops anxiously awaited the outcome of this advertised 'peace conference.'"

It was confidently predicted by leaders that as a result of the work of the alliance and other similar organizations the activities of pro-Germans will be curbed to such a degree that in three months there will be no disloyal utterances in any part of the country.

valorous Italian troops, giving them possession of the entire chain of hills dominating the Gorizia area. This eminence in fact, has been virtually at the mercy of the Italians since the fall of Monte Santo, its neighbor stronghold. If Italian troops have taken this duma to complete the domination of the Kainizza plateau and push on into the Chiapponer valley driving a wedge in between the Austrian northern and southern armies on the Isontio front and severing their lines of communication with each other.

With the taking of Monte San Gabriele the capture of 950 prisoners, probably all the remaining Austrian garrison, with 32 officers, is reported.

On the Franco-British front the British hall of shells being dropped upon the German lines in Flanders is causing the Germans to contemplate abandonment of a wide expanse of territory there, now being swept by Gen. Haig's big guns and those of the French co-operating with him in the Belgian campaign. The launching of the next entente push here is apparently imminent and as a measure of preparation the Germans are reported to be removing the civilian population of a district extending twelve miles or more to the east of the present front in West Flanders as far as the Thourout-Courtrai line, embracing an area of some 200 square miles.

One theory advanced for the reported evacuation is that the German command dreading the effect of the next drive, is preparing to flood the lowlands by diverting water from the river Scheidt, thus blocking allied progress. Another supposition is that the Germans, lacking the men to hold the present lines firmly enough, are preparing for another "strategic retreat."

Meanwhile the air forces on both sides are active, not only immediately back of the opposing lines, but in widely extended fields. Germany is pushing her air campaign against England to an extent that is leading London to wonder, as one newspaper expresses it, if Germany has "her great air offensive" ready before that of the British. Quickly following the raid on Chatham in which more than 100 naval men were killed and many injured, a score of German aircraft last night attacked the British coast and flew over London. Bombs were dropped which caused the loss of nine lives and the injury of 49 persons. The material damage is said to be small. One German machine is reported to have been brought down. On their side the British have carried out further extensive bombing raids in Belgium, hitting the Bruges docks where the Germans have a submarine base, a heavy blow. Air-dromes were bombed too, with good effect.

"We shall strip the mask from those who in the name of democracy, anti-militarism and peace are engaged in the nefarious propaganda of treachery to all that these noble words represent. We indignantly repudiate the claim that this propaganda—which, be it remembered, brings joy and comfort to German autocracy—has the support of the labor movement of America. Not even at the behest of the so-called people's council will the organized workers of America prostitute the labor movement to serve the brutal power responsible for the infamous rape of Belgium—the power that would subject Russia to a worse despotism than that of the Romanoffs."

"Democracy will not be served by the victory of autocracy, by letting the Declaration of Independence be supplanted by the Kaiser's fiat."

Must Destroy Militarism.
"Militarism will not be checked by surrender to the power which has organized all the resources of civilization to the end of imposing its brutal iron rule on the world."

"Peace will not be secured to the world through the subjugation of the free and democratic nations."

"We shall be as loyal to the struggle for freedom and democracy at home as to the struggle for freedom and democracy in international relations."

"To the men and women of the American labor movement, and to all sincere friends of democracy and internationalism, we call for loyal support to America and her allies in this great struggle. Let us make our beloved republic strong and victorious for the sake of humanity, and thus insure for our children and their children the priceless heritage of liberty and democracy. Let us, at the same time, stand shoulder to shoulder in the fight against the foes of democracy within our own borders, resolved never to rest until the goal of democracy, industrial, political and international, has been attained."

PERSHING IS IN THE FIELD

American automobile through the place was a signal for great excitement among the people.

Khaki Predominates.
Today khaki was the predominant color on the streets, with here and there a touch of white and blue—costumes of American nurses who have taken over a French hospital and are caring for French patients pending the activity of the American forces.

French and American sentries guard all approaches to the town and no one is allowed to enter without proper passes. American flags mingle with the French tri-color from scores of flagpoles on both private and public buildings.

Various divisional and corps schools for the instruction of officers are being organized and class work will begin within a short time. These schools are patterned after both the French and British instruction camps and special instructors will be brought from both these fronts to lecture on the most modern phases of warfare.

The instruction will include artillery, aviation and infantry tactics, machine guns, trench mortar, rifle and grenade fire and trench fighting, including night patrol work between the lines.

American officers also will be instructed in the latest methods of fighting from shell holes and on new theories of counter attacks. These schools will give the final touch to the training of the officers and men of the first expeditionary force.

Nearly half of all the coal produced in the United States is mined in Pennsylvania.

had said that the peace conference would be given protection in North Dakota, is represented at the conference by a delegation of six labor leaders.

All Aid to Government.
Mr. Gompers in his address outlined the purpose of the organization as the assembling for the support of the government "all the moral and material power of the working class of the nation."

"It shall be our task," he said, "to interpret America's democratic spirit and purpose in this conflict to our fellow workers, especially those of foreign birth, and to combat every form of propaganda, no matter by whom it may be carried on, which tends to weaken the loyalty and devotion of the masses and their willingness to strive and sacrifice for the nation and its high purpose."

Labor's Declaration.
The complete declaration of principles as announced by Mr. Gompers is as follows:

"As believers in the great and splendid vision of democracy and internationalism, the fraternalism and solidarity of all peoples, we assert at this time our unqualified loyalty to the republic of the United States of America and our determination to do all that lies in our power to win the war in which it is engaged."

"Loyalty to the ideals of freedom, democracy and internationalism requires loyalty to America."

"Disloyalty to America in this crisis is disloyalty to the cause of freedom, democracy and internationalism."

"No national selfishness impelled this republic to enter the war. The impelling motive was the consuming idealism born with the establishment of this republic itself to preserve freedom not only for itself but for all nations, great and small, and the body of international law which all the free democratic nations of the world respect and observe and only the brutal autocracies seek to dishonor and destroy. In such a conflict real standard bearers of democracy and true internationalists can have no hesitation in supporting our republic which has made its own cause and interests of all free peoples. It is therefore in truth not a 'capitalist's war,' but a freemen's war."

All For the War.
"Fully impressed by these facts, realizing that a noble internationalism is implicit in our American conception of national existence, it shall be our government all the moral and material power of the working class of the nation. It shall be our task to interpret America's democratic spirit and purpose in this conflict to our fellow workers, especially those of foreign birth, and to combat every form of propaganda, no matter by whom it may be carried on, which tends to weaken the loyalty and devotion of the masses and their willingness to strive and sacrifice for the nation and its high purpose."

"We shall strip the mask from those who in the name of democracy, anti-militarism and peace are engaged in the nefarious propaganda of treachery to all that these noble words represent. We indignantly repudiate the claim that this propaganda—which, be it remembered, brings joy and comfort to German autocracy—has the support of the labor movement of America. Not even at the behest of the so-called people's council will the organized workers of America prostitute the labor movement to serve the brutal power responsible for the infamous rape of Belgium—the power that would subject Russia to a worse despotism than that of the Romanoffs."

FROSTS GIVE CORN MARKET STRENGTH WALL STREET HAS A DAY OF VAGARIES

Damaging Weather in the Northwest Stiffens the Price.
Chicago, Sept. 5.—Frost in the northwest with predictions of more gave a lift today to the corn market. Shorts were active buyers. After opening 3-5c to 1c higher, with December at $1.11, 1-2 to $1.12 and May at $1.07 1/2 to $1.08 1-8, corn prices scored moderate further gains before showing any tendency to react. The close was firm 1 1/4c to 2c net higher at $1.12 1/2 to $1.13 December, and 1 1/8c May.

Oats hardened in value with corn. So far as the majority of board of trade dealers were concerned wheat received scarcely any more attention than dry goods or groceries. Millers bought fair quantities of wheat at government prices. Demand for flour was said to show great improvement now that the value of wheat had been fixed. Provisions fell in value, owing to a fresh decline in the hog market.

sage, borne by us across an ocean and a continent from the emperor and the people of our beloved island set in the far eastern Pacific to the president of the United States and to you, the representatives of the greatest republic on earth today, a potent factor in the most stupendous and, we must believe the final struggle for liberty throughout the world."

"We would not have traveled ten thousand miles merely to repeat what must have sufficiently impressed itself upon you, but that within the last few months a new day has dawned—a day welcomed indeed by us. It follows upon another when you, with magnificent forbearance, endured great wrongs and outrages in the hope that recourse to the sword might be avoided. It was a day in which you bore the pitiless cruelty of the willful aggressor of all human rights—bore it bravely and with fortitude until the star of hope vanished and toleration ceased to be a virtue. Then in the dawning of this day, you arose and threw your mighty forces into the balance against wrong in favor of the right."

Emblems Entwined.
"In this dawning the Stars and Stripes flung across the skies were entwined with the emblem of the Rising Sun and so commenced the brighter day. That is why we are here. We come to bring you the message of our emperor, which gives you assurance of the comradeship and the co-operation of Japan throughout this day. We are here to say that, with the other allies, we heartily welcome the advent of the United States in the fields of France and elsewhere. We commend the great uplift given to humanity and the promise of a physical victory doubly ensured by the most momentous decision you have taken."

"We bring to you assurance of support, unselfish, without a motive other than the common force that drives us all today. We of Japan face the task seriously and with determination. We recognize the grim and unrelenting order we all must obey. We know that the desperate foe of civilization must be met by self-sacrifice, counsel and unswerving watchfulness. We are here to say that Japan has done and will do what may be demanded of her to the utmost of her resources and to the best of her ability."

Treachery at Home.
"Treachery from within. Indeed, at this hour calls for our attention. While your soldiers leave their families and their homes to fight on the blood-stained fields of France, we must guard our landmarks, as you will guard yours, against treachery that has found hiding places in our midst, and which, for the last ten years has sown the seeds of discord between us."

"Let it be a part of our co-operation and co-ordination to protect each other, from these forces of evil, which lack even the poorest courage of an open enemy."

"Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the house of representatives: We have been climbing a mountain towards the stars by different and some times devious pathways but near the summit our roads shall join and, together we shall win into the full sunlight above the clouds. We shall pass safely through the dangerous places. Our blood shall not have been shed, our sacrifices shall not have been made in vain, for we shall be among the nations of the world living in a brotherhood of peace. Will it not then be a source of intense national pride to each of us to remember this day which must ensure a permanent maintenance of the renewed pledges of comradeship and of co-operation?"

WILL GIVE RECITAL.
A joint recital will be given by Miss Juanita Whicker and Gale Lancaster Thursday evening, Sept. 6, at Simpson M. E. church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Bible class. A silver offering will be taken.

LOCAL MARKETS

RECEIPTS AT CITY

SCALES VERY LIGHT

Only One Load of Corn and Two of Oats Delivered

—Local Markets.

Receipts at the city scales continued light Wednesday, the first load of corn since Saturday being brought in. This load brought $1.61, as compared with the last quotations of $1.70. Only two loads of oats were received. Ten loads of hay were sold for $14 and $16, an increase over Tuesday's prices.

There seems to be a tendency for lower prices, however, both eggs and butter falling off slightly. New apples were 20 cents cheaper on the bushel. Roasting ears were sold on the street this morning at 15 cents a dozen.

Although home-grown potatoes are plentiful, not many are coming in. An abundance of home-grown tomatoes were on the market and were being sold at approximately $1.25 a bushel.

Local grain dealers have been advised that considerable Argentine corn is being brought into this country. Three hundred thousands tons of Argentine corn were offered at $1.60 a bushel in New York yesterday and 100,000 tons offered at $1.55—both for prompt shipment.

The picture reproduced above is an interior view of the R. J. Blackwell Cash and Carry Grocery, South Calhoun Street, of which Mr. Ed. Merz is manager. This store is enjoying a very enviable retail grocery business under Mr. Merz's management, due to the fact that he believes in a judicious use of the newspapers in advertising the good things he always has in season, at reasonable prices. The store is well equipped, sanitary and always found catering to the best interests of its patrons. The cash and carry idea is a saving proposition to both patrons and proprietor, and is daily growing in favor. ## POLICE CHIEF CALLS HOSPITAL GHOST "FAKE"

Refuses to Station Officer

Near Haunt of Restless Spectra.

"I refuse to believe in ghosts," said Police Chief Lenz Wednesday morning, after he had read an account in a morning newspaper to the effect that there is a real spectre brooding about the shades of the old Hope hospital ruins. The chief holds that the account of the activities of the empuse is partly due to superstition on the part of writers for the morning paper.

Chief Lenz refuses to station a policeman in the region where the ghost is proclaimed to have appeared. None of the officers have expressed a desire to take such service, the chief admits.

"No doubt the city lights may flicker with a strange glow at times on the tottering walls of the old hospital," explained Chief Lenz. "Some such hallucination is accountable for the spectre, although a mortal with a sheet may have spread panic among the newspaper men."

The police chief will not even investigate the scene of the spectral activities, in such contempt does he hold the theory that the old building, the scene of years of surgery, may be the haunt of a tortured soul. It is reported that six nightwatchmen have resigned their positions as caretakers of the ruined building because of strange movements of an airy shape. Several reliable citizens have said that they saw a whitened form flit from window to window of the building.

Quite a crowd gathered at the corner of Washington and Barr streets to look for the phantom Tuesday night.

The ghost was not beholden unto the multitude. More watchers will take their station near the building when darkness falls on Wednesday night.
